Searcy Gives $30,000 To Building Fund

Leaders in industry are requested to attend the "Freedom Forum" which will be held at Harding college from February 27 through March 5, 1949.

The "Freedom Forum" as stated by Mr. Ken Wells, director of the forum, is to direct the economic misinformation and lack of information that exists about the division in income, profits and production.

The forum is sponsored by the Harding College Department of National Education together with the Joint Committee Report of National Education together with the Association of National Advertisers and the American Association of Advertising Agencies.

The speakers, chosen from all over the United States, are: Mr. Robert A. Millikan, of the California Institute of Technology, Mr. Jack Smok, vice president of the Foote, Cone, & Belding, Los Angeles; Dr. George S. Benson, president of Harding college; Mr. Carl Nater, Exec. Assistant to the president of Harding college.

Mr. T. C. Kirkpatrick, Managing Editor of "Counterattack," New York Sunday Post; Rev. F. B. I.; Dr. Millard Faught, of the Faith Co., New York; Mr. John H. Smith, of the United Specialties Co., Chicago; Dr. L. C. Sears, dean of Harding college; Clifton Ganoe, professor at Harding college; and Mr. Ken Wells, New York, director of the forum.

Mr. Don Belding, Chairman of the Joint ANA-AAAA on Economic Education, said "... it is the immediate duty of labor and management to now see to it that all the principles of the American system are understood by every man, woman, and adolescent child in America."

During the forum there will be a showing of the new films that were produced by the Harding College Department of National Education, "Make Mine Freedom" and "Going Places," which have a direct approach on the "American Way of Life."

The program has been prepared and will be sent to anyone upon request, "Freedom Forum," Harding college, Searcy, Arkansas.

Chorus To Make Trip In Arkansas, Missouri

Over forty members of the Harding college small choir will leave the campus Saturday afternoon for a series of programs in southeastern Arkansas.

Director Andy T. Ritchie, Jr., announced that the proposed schedule for the trip is as follows:

The first program scheduled to be given is in Paragould Saturday night at 8:00 at the South Side church of Christ. A broadcast will be given from KDRS in Paragould Sunday morning at 8:00.

Sunday morning at 10:00 the choir will present a sacred program for the Fischer street church in Jonesboro.

The chorus will participate in the regular church broadcast over KBTM Sunday afternoon at 1:30 at Jonesboro.

The girls' sextet and male quartet will go to Carruthersville, Mo., at 3:30 to sing at the dedication of a new church building.

The choir will give a program at the Leachville church of Christ Sunday afternoon and will return to Jonesboro for the program scheduled to be given is in Paragould Saturday night at 8:00 at the South Side church of Christ. A broadcast will be given from KDRS in Paragould Sunday morning at 8:00.

Wong, Bell Are Winners In Snapchat Contest

Miss Frances Borrschlegel, editor of the Petit Jean, has announced the winners of the 1949 Snapchat contest. In the college division, Miss Mildred Bell won first place with a picture of a boot at Camp Tahodah. Miss Fung See Wong was runner-up, with a picture of herself in Grant Park, Chicago.

In the high school division, Miss Billie Beth Hill took the highest honor with a picture of Patzy Grimmett. Runner-up was Bill Summitt, whose picture was one of Carla Cranford.

First place winners in each division will be awarded the $5.00 balance on their yearbook as their yearbook as their prize. Dr. Joe Fryor and Neil B. Cope were judges for the contest.

World Wide Missions Sends Clothing to Italy

The drive for used clothing for Italy, sponsored by the group organized to study world missions, closed last week. "The response was fine but yet more clothes to Italy would be welcomed by those people there. The clothing collected is to be made up to Gordon Linseott, Postale Frascati, Rome, Italy," stated Rodney Wald, a member of the group.

Regrettably, it is a mission impossible to Italy from this country. He is to be joined by a large group of other missionaries who sailed from New York earlier this month. Among those who recently sailed is Mr. C. R. Paden who recently visited this campus and showed some films about Italy.

North Central Examiners Cover All Phases Of Campus Activities

Three North Central inspectors visited the Harding campus last Thursday and Friday, to inspect all phases of campus life.

Two questions that concerned the inspectors were, is Harding democratic in spirit, and what is the relationship between the student and the faculty? Dean Sears stated that the answers were rather favorable.

The inspection of records of the dean's office, the registrar's office, and the business office were thorough. Reports from the student personnel service, the placement service and the student health center were examined.

During the two days, all the buildings were inspected.

The inspectors seemed pleased to find the students and faculty participating in athletics and other activities; the cooperation and appreciation for the gift was well received.

The program and retiring address was back of the college. The program was accompanied by the usual set of twenty-eight persons attended the banquet. The Harding faculty was at the dinner served by Mrs. Pearl Dool, dietician.

Oran Vaughn Makes Presentation Of Gift

At Chamber Of Commerce Banquet Friday

The Searcy Chamber of Commerce presented $30,520 to the Harding college building fund at Friday night. The gift from the people of Searcy was presented to Dr. George S. Benson at a banquet of the Chamber of Commerce held in the college dining hall.

Mr. Truman Baker, chairman of the program and retiring president, introduced Mr. Oran Vaughn, member of the executive committee who had the presentation of $30,520 cash and pledges from the people of Searcy. The plans for the twenty-eight persons attended the banquet, The Harding faculty were at the dinner served by Mrs. Pearl Dool, dietician.

Benson Accepts

Dr. George S. Benson in accepting the gift said, "I consider it a great honor to accept this unusual gift. I appreciate more than the gift the friendship and spirit that this liberal contribution typifies." Dr. Benson also stated his appreciation for the gift to what it means in soliciting funds elsewhere. People who have never seen the college were interested in knowing if Searcy was back of the college. The Searcy Business presented an unusually large gift to Harding college; student center and auditorium.

During the review of the Chamber of Commerce activities for 1948 stated that Searcy has purchased 33 acres in east Searcy for some industry. He expressed his thanks to the committees, Chamber membership, and Dr. Benson.

New Chamber Officers

Mr. E. P. Pyatt, past president of the Chamber, installed Mr. Joseph Caldwell as president, Mr. Richard Deener as vice president and five new board members, Mr. W. K. Summitt, Carl Dodd, C. L. Myers, Jim Wise- man, and Mr. M. M. Garrison. Other board members include E. P. Pyatt, Elmer Yancey, Oran J. Vaughn, M. P. Jones, Doyle Keeler, Cal Adin, Truman Baker, and Oran West.

Morris, Quartet Sing

Romantic songs were presented by Miss Loydene Sanderson at the piano, sang "The Desert Song," "Oh! My Darling," and "Danny Boy." The Men's Quartet composed of James Walker, first tenor; Lelboy O'Neal, second tenor; (Continued on page 8)

First Volume Of
"Institutional Studies"
Available In Library

A book, stating the purpose and containing the most complete facts yet compiled in all phases of Harding college, was placed in the library last week. HARDING COLLEGE INSTITUTIONAL STUDIES, released by the dean's office and the growth and development of offices, is a bound volume of the written statements concerning the growth and development of Harding college.

The purpose of Harding college is stated by Dean Searls, "... is to give students an education of high quality which will lead to an understanding and a philosophy of life consistent with Christian ideals." As stated elsewhere, "the program of Harding," should produce a well-developed, integrated personality who can and would find his place in society and cooperated through Christian service for the highest social goal."

Many studies that have been made on the use of the library, on the positions held by Harding graduates in the business world, and on the reasons for students attending Harding, are compiled in this manual. Connected with these surveys there is a study of grade levels in comparison with other colleges, and a preliminary report on the building program. In the near future there will be made studies on the educational cost of students, on the control of the extra-curricular activities, and on the improvement of the college.

Only three copies have been made which are distributed to the president's office, the dean's office and the library. HARDING COLLEGE INSTITUTIONAL STUDIES has been placed on the faculty shelf and has 178 pages.

CAMPUS VISITORS

Carolyn Stuart of Bateville visited Sara Longley this week. Miss Stuart attended the Harding academy in the summer of '48.

Johnny Meek of Alma visited Wanda Perris this week-end. Mr. Meek is a sophomore at Fort Smith junior college.

Also here for the week-end was Robbie McCaleb's mother, Mrs. R. C. McCaleb of Memphis, Tenn.

Former Harding Student
Chosen Girl Of Week
At Abilene Christian

Zina Lee Taylor

Zina Lee Taylor, Harding college ex-student, senior of Dalhart, Texas, was selected as Girl of the Week of Abilene Christian college, Wednesday, January 5.

The girl of the week is selected by the Ellen H. Richards club, girls' home economics club, and the following characteristics are considered: neatness, personality, scholarship, leadership, and ability.

Miss Taylor is majoring in music education and minoring in English. This is her first year at ACU since she is a transfer from Harding college.

Playing the accordion is her hobby, as well as water skiing and playing basketball. She says her most exciting experience was when she played her accordion for the governor's banquet in Arkansas.

Small Chorus Chooses
Morris Chief Executive

Director Andy T. Ritchie has announced the election of small chorus officers at the chorus meeting last week.

Those elected are: president, Charles Morris; vice-president, Bob Morris; and secretary, Jenny Porter.

Charles is a junior from Ashland City, Tennessee. He is a math major and is a Sub T. and a member of the men's glee club and large chorus.

Bob is a voice major from Maywood, Illinois. He is a sophomore and a member of the Alpha Phi Kappa social club.

Miss Porter, music and English major, is a junior from New York City. She is a member of the L. C. Club, girl's glee club, and large chorus.

Phillips Writes Story
For Art Magazine

"Making a Piggy Penny Bank," an article by Elva N. Phillips, head of the art department, is scheduled "for a forthcoming issue of The Instructor," announced Mary E. Owen, editor of The Instructor.

The article will be of especial interest to teachers in the lower and middle grade levels, but it can be used in any art crafts class.

Mrs. Phillips joined the Harding faculty this fall, coming with her family from Greeley, Colorado where she served as head of the Greeley High School Art Department for several years. She also served as chairman of the Greeley Fine Arts Committee and the Colorado Scholastic Arts Committee and the Colorado Scholastic Arts Committee, and as secretary of the Colorado State Art Association.

Attention Club Reporters

All club reporters are requested to turn in club news to Dorothy Welsh not later than Friday night of each week.
...Your Library Speaks...

—By Evelyn Morris—

Have you seen the bulletin board in the display room of the library lately? If not, look, soon for you will be interested in the graph showing the circulation of books from September, 1947 to December, 1948. Compare the circulation of History with that of Literature. You will find that History is a subject of great interest in the high school, whereas Literature is of interest to those who are preparing for college. This list will prove very helpful to you as you continue your library work for the term.

One of the best methods of learning is by actually observing the objective. Your library recently obtained a LIBERTY physical-political globe of the world. Military strength a long time to rally to the point where victory was even in sight. Today we may be fighting a losing battle for peace again for the simple reason that our nation is not prepared for peace. Rather than building an army of men and women to take a message of "peace on earth, good will to men," it seems that the trend is to build an army of men armed with guns and flying in planes which will be able to successfully fly to any spot on earth and return in one hop, leaving destruction behind. This is not preparing for peace: but for war. We won the last war; but we have not, and will not win the peace as long as the trend stays as it is.

There is something still more important than that: the preparation of the soul for years ahead. It is imperative that the soul does not lose its great battle for ultimate success.

Lambda Sigma’s Hold Banquet At Blue Room

The members of the Lambda Sigma social club and their dates left the campus in cars January 21 for a banquet in the Blue Room of the Rendezvous at 7:30 p.m. Both boys and girls dressed formally.

The entire banquet was conducted on the order of a radio broadcast. They broadcast over station LSMTP. Roger Hawley was the first announcer of the evening. A News Broadcast was then given by Cullen Witherspoon. Keith Thompson was the roving reporter. Don Hockaday gave the welcome.

Music was played during the dinner. The menu consisted of chicken, sweet potatoes, butter beans, salad, hot biscuits, coffee and milk, strawberries and ice cream.

Following the dinner a visit to Washington where they watched Congress while in session. At the time Senator Paul Clark and Senator Ralph Younger were having a heated debate while Sherrill Summitt acted as announcer for this broadcast. John Mengelberg represented the everyday citizen. A dramatic production, a skit with sound effects written by Judy Miller, followed. A talent show then followed which featured Jimmy Mooneyham as a crooner, Bob Bland who sang a folk song and a quartet composed of Marilyn Brooker, John Moore, Paul Clark and Don Hockaday. The last program of the evening was a quiz show entitled “Truth or Consequences.”

Those who attended the banquet are: Robert Bland, Rebecca Parham; Marvin Brooker, Ann Carter; Roger Hawley, Neola Chesshir; Paul Clark, Vera Young; Don Hockaday, Wilma Rogers; George Pledger, Marjorie Groover; Keith Thompson, Marilyn McCluggage; Jimmy Mooneyham, Margaret Chaflin, Ralph Younger, Winne Bell; Cullen Witherspoon, Jo Webo; John Moore, Eleanor Willbanks; John Mengelberg, Vonda Gifford; Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Pound; Mr. and Mrs. W.K. MILLS--

The following is a quote from Charles Rice. "Do you know why a drunk is like the national debt? Well, it's a staggering figure."--Pennies

In the Physics lab the other day, Jerrell Daniel, and Gerald Kendrick were using the sonometer which uses strings like a harp or something. They ended up by playing "Moonlight Sonata."

Dimes--

Dale Welsh has really acquired the nicknames since his little number are such as: "Human Bulldozer," Technicolor Kid," and 'Snake Eyes.' The great Charles Billingsley calls him, "Scarf-face." His sister, Dot, calls him an Al Jolson character in reverse.

Quarters--

Arthur Bickle that rhymes with pickle was commenting on the section that was held in chapel the other day. He told Bob Abney that he voted for him for "Best all-round boy" because he was the roundest boy that he knew.

Fifty Cents--

Brooker told me the latest Lambda Sigma joke. "Do you know what happened to the slow boat to China? The Sub-T's sank it."--Dollar

At the radio program, I was standing up on the same row as some of the tenors and Dr. Frank looked at me and said, "Leroy, O'Neal, How you have changed."--Swiped from Reader's Digest--Thug in witness chair: "Then everything went blank, coma, cause and wipe eyes with handkerchief."

Robins Down Wrens

With Last Period Drive

Led by the sharpshooting of Captain W. B. Clark and Don Horn, the capable Robins proved themselves the second time by downsing the determined Wrens by the score of 35 to 24.

During the first half, the Robins took the lead six points as W. B. Clark consistently hit the basket. However, during the third quarter the Wrens struck back with a new determination as they matched the Robins point for point. But the Robins struck back strongly in the last frame going on to victory.
