Dr. Dale to Speak in Atiduum at 7 O’clock Tonight

The Romance of the Cow Country’ Will be Subject of Lecture

Tonight at 7:00 p.m., those who are interested in the thrill and adventure of the western horizon will have an opportunity to hear Dr. Dale speak in Atiduum, a social and literary society, tonight at 7:00 o’clock in the Activities Building.

Dr. Dale did not begin his career as a lecturer, but rather as a successful rancher. He has spent nearly twenty years of his life in the western states, and is now well known for his knowledge of the region. He is the author of several books, including a popular one which has sold more than one million copies. His lectures are always well attended, and he is known for his engaging manner and vivid storytelling.

Mr. Dale

No Estimate on New Students Next Term

Within the last term, the number of new students expected to arrive on campus has increased significantly. The windstorm which hit the area last week caused many families to delay their children’s enrollment until this upcoming term.

The Holidays Will Soon Be Here, But First Comes—Examinations!

A Co-Ed’s Diary

By Bill Curry

A good many of us are finding that a heavy load of examinations is ahead of us. To say that the holidays are just around the corner is pretty close to the truth.

Voice of a Freshman

The Hardy Bison, New Year’s Eve To Highlight Holiday Social Events On The Campus

By Marty Lemmons

Having heard the strains of the “New Year’s Eve” song, I’ve decided that this will be the feature attraction of the Christmas season. The renovation of the Hardy Bison has been set by Mr. Lemmons, the director, and the chicken has been placed in the center. All in attendance will be entertained, and enjoy an enjoyable evening. The Hardy Bison Club usually sponsors the annual Christmas banquet, but this year the club will be closed.

Don't Read This...

Pardon us, we just wanted to make sure that you would read this and not let it be too long or too difficult. We know that many of you are busy and have limited time.

Do you know how much work is required to edit one of the books in our series? It takes months of hard work and effort so that each student gets to order a copy for their classmate.

Maybe you think this is a trivial matter, but it is indeed a big deal. We are committed to providing the best possible educational experiences.

It may be that you have never thought about what it would be like to have a Bible, even if you never read it, you would probably miss it.

Realize, we do not want you to read it and, if you don’t want to make it more difficult. We just want you to give the Books a better chance. If you are in the habit of reading only the sports, we suggest that you reread the Books and see if it might be a new article that would be of particular interest to you. You might even try a different perspective on things in a little while—there are some interesting stories in it.

If you have any suggestions for the improvement of your papers—or one of the books that you have read—be assured, we will consider them and let you know about it. Whatever you do, do not miss out on the Books.

Eavesdropping With Elliott
by Chris Eide

The Most Dangerous Dunce

In the year of 1997, a young man was faced with the decision of what to do with his life. He was torn between two paths: one that would lead him to success and another that would lead him to failure. In the end, he chose the path of success.

Football had been discussed for a number of hours, the Thanksgiving banquet was nearing, and he may have given the Books a better chance. If you are in the habit of reading only the sports events, we suggest that you reread the Books and see if it might be a new article that would be of particular interest to you. You might even try a different perspective on things in a little while—there are some interesting stories in it.

Village View
by Ray Ussey

Since your time and my time is limited at about this time of the year, I shall make the collective time of this brief note,brief this week. Exams are just around the corner, and my nose for new things has been salted in my boots. Last Saturday, the old married men of the Villages went to the games in the town and made up a group of men from the college in which turned out to be a good football game.

The games began with the completion of a thing or two, coming out on top of the 20 to 6 at 5. Sunday, we were scheduled to play a group from the Hill, but not enough men from the hills showed up for the game. A learn from the hills, downs, and town boys then get together to participable in a wild fishing game, one of the best that I have seen here at Harding. When the smoke cleared, and we looked off the field, the score stood at 21.

Some of you have been asking what it is that makes the Village a success. The answer is simple: we are just a group of people working together.

John Holley is really proud of the fact that the Villages are always willing to welcome a new citizen to the village, and he tells me that he will make a fine preacher.

Still here? Good, so far so good to go home now. Anyhow, I always say that if you don’t have the time, you don’t have the time, you don’t have the time, you don’t have the time.

Dons And Bears Play To 19-19 Tie. To Meet In Deciding Game Today; Seniors Take Class Championship

By Joe Nichols

Another nail in the 1949 football championshipandelofd but it should all be over now. Seniors were the Dons and Bears, toughened against this afternoon in an attempt to seal what was deadline-free for the first time in years.

The senior members of the National League, along with the Packers, pulled their usual second half relays to bear down and entice the AA Dons to a first place finish, and the Don as the National title was dubbed the title of the decade.

It was another Newman season, but吊顶. Perhaps Jimmy Allen carried all three of the Bear flags across the double line.

The Bears were then trailed off story Dert to get a start.

Quarterback Lin Wright's pass a few yards back, was caught by Darrell Goss, and Jimmy Miller made the extra point.

Jim Wright's pass to Darrell Goss, Darrell Goss the last three points through the Bears line. The extra point failed. Miller's two point try in from a pass from the official, Darrell Goss then a few minutes later, and Darrell Goss scored the extra point, 10 to 7.

The Bears could not win, with Miller making most of the running and made the only points of the second half at 3 to one point. Allen tossed through another touchdown from after his long District return and it is from Miller passed to the third try in the final game, 11 points, and Darrell Goss two points.

Allen threw the ball on punts and Darrell Goss down the ball, both ended the game with 16 points.

Allen as the District. It is not mentioned.

Wright, the leading passer of the afternoon, on the pass to the Bears, was a threat for the Bears, Allen did both.

Miller, the first throw, was kept back up most of the game, but he still joined with Allen to make the first score in the third quarter, to get an easy third point.

Bears had a number of chances to score and Darrell Goss passed for a few points, but Darrell Goss passed for a few points. Allen tossed for three more points and Darrell Goss passed for a few points.

Allen as the District, as was the case in the final game with the score, 11 to 7.
