LAST SHOWING OF "LITTLE WOMEN" IN AUDITORIUM TODAY

High School Senior Play Closes After Two-Night Stand

The final production of the 1950-51 season, "Little Women," will be presented tonight and tomorrow night in the auditorium as the high school's second offering this year.

The play is based on the novel of the same name by Louisa May Alcott, with the script having been adapted by Elwood Bross, director of the play and Speech Team in the High School.

New Locks In Armstrong Hall Play Tricks On Its Unsuspecting Dwellers

By Theryl Pfeiffer

Many students in Armstrong Hall have finally evolved the adage, "Never open to strangers," as a means of protection against the numerous pranks that have been committed in the building.

The most recent incident of vandalism involved the installation of a lock at the entrance of the dormitory on the second floor.

The lock was left in place for only a few hours before someone removed it.

The dormitory is located on the second floor of the building, and it is not clear who installed the lock in the first place.

The incident is not unprecedented, as several incidents of vandalism have occurred in recent months.

The purpose of the lock is to prevent anyone from entering the dormitory without permission.

T he Dancer presented their dance with boxes of candy.

"A GOSPEL" is a group of women who have been dancing each other's dances in Tennessee. They are about as good at it as you are in your month's tip. First, you are the donor, then the recipient.

If you are property set, you can hardly make the mistake of not being present on your feet on one side and being there to take the lead on the other side of the room, and if you are not sure, look the lads and ladies who are your neighbors and see if they are there.

Some of the women offer to dance first and then go dancing fast, avoiding foolish ideas in large groups, working with groups; mostly in small groups, working with groups, bending their leg sine and plant walking with the help and spreading either or.

If we are careful of our measures we will see that no one is going to ride shoes to the dance.

Gentlemen you have been warned.

Cage leagues Enter Stretch Drives With Both Championships In Balance; Inter-Loop Title Game To Be Friday

One of the league’s most important tournaments in the history of Harding is about to come to a thrilling climax this week. It will be over tonight. For the second straight year, a stretched run of night games will be played.

But that one of this year’s championship series will have a bearing on both league races. In the Cecile Series, the circuit’s leading teams in the league, will have their titles tussled over in the last two expeditions. And, in the Cellarile Baurus, this year’s most highly competitive race, the play-offs began last week and will end this week.

The game will feature two of the most talented teams in the league, each of which is attempting to win the championship. The Cecile team, led by Poncho Young, is the favorite to win the championship, while the Cellarile Baurus is the underdog.

The game will be played on Friday night, with the Cecile team playing at home. The game will be closely watched by league officials and fans alike.

The Cecile team has been the league’s powerhouse for several years, and they are expected to come out with a win.

The Cellarile Baurus, although they have been struggling lately, are determined to come out with a win and make a statement about their capabilities.

The two teams have already played several times this season, and the Cellarile Baurus has been the underdog in each of those matches. However, the team has shown signs of improvement recently and are hoping to turn their fortunes around.

The game promises to be an exciting one, with both teams fighting hard to come out on top. It will be a test of their skills and strategy, and fans are sure to be on the edge of their seats.

The Cecile team has the advantage of playing at home, which could give them a boost. However, the Cellarile Baurus will not go down without a fight.

The game will be a test of strength, skill, and strategy, and fans are sure to be on the edge of their seats.
