Ann Morris, Don Horn chosen
Editor and Business Manager
For 1951 Issue Of The Petit Jean

The positions of editor and business manager were filled by a junior class election last winter with Don D. Horn taking a form letter, nominations were made and they were conveyed by the faculty and the high with new nominations to obtain the names of candidates for the high-fourth time in three years. The nominations for editor were Madeleine Garner, Ann Morris, Wilber Rogers; for business manager, Mary Dahl, Ted Dill, Don Horn.

Ann Morris, who hails from Tuscaloosa, Alabama, is qualified through experience gained in serving as assistant editor of the Petit Jean. She is majoring in social science at Arkansas College and is a member of the DDA, Gamma Pi Delta, and Sigma Kappa.

For 1951, the Petit Jean will be brought out twice a year, the new edition going on sale in the spring and the last one in the fall. The management of the Petit Jean is in the capable hands of Ruth Ranard, editor, of the Greensboro Daily News, who will be able to continue a tradition of excellence.

The business manager of the 1951 edition, Howard Blattner, says that the students participating in the business will have a chance to get a first-hand taste of the real world's business operations.

Miss Gossner, member of the class of 1950, was editor of The Greensboro News, and is managing editor of the Petit Jean.

Miss Rogers, majoring in English, is a member of the Phi Delta Theta Fraternity, and is a member of the Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity.

Miss Gossner, who is a member of the first class of women to enter the University of Arkansas, is the first woman student to have been appointed editor of the Petit Jean.

The Petit Jean is a monthly publication, and is published on the last day of each month. It contains news and information about the students and faculty of the University of Arkansas, as well as articles on local and national events.

The Petit Jean is published by the University of Arkansas, and is distributed free to all students and faculty members. It is available for purchase at a cost of 50 cents per issue, or $2.00 per year.

Regina Outing At
Petit Jean Mountain

The Regina had their annual outing Monday with 22 girls visiting Petit Jean Mountain, dinner, games, and dancing in the evening. Mrs. M. L. English was in charge of the outing. Miss Vivian Blackwood and Miss Betty McDonald took charge of the games. Miss Betty McDonald had a guitar with which she entertained the girls.

Mrs. M. L. English was in charge of the dancing, which was a tremendous success. Mrs. English has a sister, Mrs. L. W. English, who is married to a naturalized Frenchman. They are permanent French residents and have been known to entertain in this manner. The evening was a complete success and everyone present had a wonderful time.

The Regina Outing at Petit Jean Mountain was a huge success. The girls enjoyed themselves and returned home with great memories of the day. The Regina is a prominent group on campus and always organizes interesting events.

Pirates In Second
As Bums Fall to Mowrer's 2-Hitter

Bright hitting and good pitching by the Pirates turned the hosts' hopes of a fourth straight victory into a dream Thursday. As the Bums were trying to stage another late-inning rally in the ninth inning, Max Mowrer, the Pirates' outstanding southpaw, delivered three consecutive strikes to win the 2-0 decision. The Bums fell to 0-2 in the series.

The result was a far cry from the desperate rally staged by the Bums in the ninth inning. The Bums had scored one run in the third and none in the other innings. Mowrer's 12th victory of the season extended the Pirates' winning streak to seven, giving them a two-game lead in the National League.

Mowrer, who had never lost to the Bums in five previous encounters, allowed 15 hits, walked none and fanned two. He retired the first two Bums in the ninth inning before giving up two runs and three hits. But in the Bums' final at-bat, the Bums tried to tie the game but came up empty.

In the ninth, Mowrer struck out Tom Halterman and Dale Johnson before getting Bob Humber on a fly to right. The final out was made when a Bum on second was out at third.

Mowrer's win was his second in the series and the second of the season. The Pirates' starting pitcher for the season finale was J. Walker for the second straight game.

Mowrer's brush with a fast ball was his only mistake, as he turned in another fine performance. Mowrer retired the first two Bums in the ninth inning before giving up two runs and three hits. But in the final at-bat, the Bums tried to tie the game but came up empty.

The Bums' only runs came in the third inning, when Mowrer allowed two walks and hit a single to center field. The Bums scored on a single by Jimmie Briskin, who was out at third on a fielder's choice.

The Pirates quickly erased the Bums' first-inning lead by scoring three runs in the second. In the second, the Bums scored one run on a single by Jimmie Briskin, who was out at third on a fielder's choice.
