Hare To Sail for Germany This Fall

Mr. & Mrs. Bob Hare are planning to sail for Germany because their son, Richard, has been accepted by Columbia University in New York City in June. It is expected that they will return in September.

The first issue of the "The Horsemen," the student newspaper, was published on Wednesday. The newspaper will be published weekly, and the first issue contained articles on the annual meeting of the Associated Students of the University of Arkansas, the annual meeting of the Associated Students of the University of Kentucky, and the annual meeting of the Associated Students of the University of Tennessee.

The Hare family is well known in the community, and their contributions to the university are highly regarded.

Conclusion

The Hare family is well known in the community, and their contributions to the university are highly regarded.
CULTURE AND CHRISTIANITY—are they compatible? To be Christian is to be cultured in the greater sense. It is true that there is not a superficial thing, but fundamentally it is culture of the inward man.

"Let it not be that outward adornment, putting on of gold, or raiment, oruel, or any wise likeness of outward decorum, which is outward, looking to men, and is not that which is inward, lasting in those inwardly: which is of the heart; see to that," (Proverbs 23:5.)

Christian's ruler that we should do those things as others would have us do them. We are a part of basic Christian culture. The very heart of any loving one of his neighbor, the greater portion of culture is to make us acceptable in any society.

The cultures of men often emphasize the categorizing of men as being useful as a beheading to a man in gaining recognition and in attaining the approval of others. We might become cultured, as men know culture, simply because it is policy and is helpful to him in the business world. In other words, selflessness could be the basis for a false culture, one could never be the basis of, or have any part in, Christian culture.

CHRISTIAN CULTURE is useless. Paul told the Corinthian Christians that "the world is passing away," and that "our soldiers in the midst of culture, being helpless and courteous in a world in which society makes an acceptable in any society.

The service rendered the United Methodist Church of the world is one of the greatest services this country has rendered to the community of laborers and the cities.

On May 13, President Wilson issued a proclamation dedicating the national observance of May 15 as Labor Day. The display of the United States flag in all government buildings, the opening to the public of the display flag in all the other places of public assembly, and the celebration of Labor Day were all part of this observation.

Jean Baptiste and Howard Sanger were present at the end of the year to represent the United States. They received a degree in the winter. The singer was a guest of the American Legion.

Jean Hitchcock of Atchison, Kansas, visited friends on the campus during the week. She received a degree in the winter.

Max Vaughan spent the week end at Wabash City in last week to
