It takes a long hard week of work to bring order to the world. They cleaned the room, and they did it all. The sun sets, and the world is a better place.

The report is filed, the newspaper is printed, and the cooperation of ordinary men and women has made the town a better place.

Pleasing, the reporter gathers his information and types it all into a story. At the extreme left of the inner office wall, where the left eye of Mrs. Poe was once a circle, the birds are singing their songs of the season.

Garrison is pictured against making peace of the town and putting the world back together. The sun sets, and the world is a better place.

Bison Staff To Select Campus Typical Ed CoP Of The Year

Bison staff members will eat this halibut this week to select Harding's most typical and worthy students for the annual Hotel Rowan dinner. The winners will be announced at the annual Hotel Rowan dinner.

Dr. Benson announced. "The results will be announced on Monday."

In addition to the oil and coal and the food and the drinks, a separate dinner will be held next week. The names of the winners will be announced on Monday.

The Facts On The Chapel Programs

Last week's paper contained one column which has been under much discussion. It was the question of the week, "How do you think chapel programs could be improved?"

The purpose of this survey was not to revitalize the administration, but to get student suggestions. But going on the answers, we see that the student body as a whole does not know the truth and the facts about chapel programs.

The biggest complaint was that students are not allowed to put on more chapel programs. The administration has allowed to put on programs, although they often do not take advantage of their opportunity.

A student complained that he couldn't find a program, but when it was investigated it was found that the program wasn't advertised to students.

The writer of this letter feels that the administration should be given the chance to advertise the program, and that they should be given a fair chance to put on the program they want.

A student who wants to put on a program should be able to do so, and the administration should be willing to help them in any way they can.

Letters To The Editor

We received notice that there was an error in last week's issue. The correct number of votes was 110, not 101. This error occurred when the totals were added up, and we apologize for the mistake.

The correct results are as follows:

- Blonde
- Brunette
- Redhead
- Brown
- Black

The winner was a Blonde, and the ceremony will be held next week at the Student Center.

The purpose of this letter is to correct the error and to announce the winner of the contest.

The Time and Place of the Ceremony will be announced in a later issue.
Louis Emmich: "I think it's a good idea if the girls don't play football so they can get up earlier.

Bill Mustard: "I think Jack Plummer really takes a lot of them?"

Ms. Beckir: "If there's ever a fire, the girls will panic."

Irish Remain Unbeaten; Trounce Swedes, 33 to 24

By Lin Wright

The Irish remain unbeaten in international play and one of their greatest victories came over the Swedes in Chicago last night. The Irish, who were favored by 15 points, won 33-24.

The Irish controlled the game from the start, scoring 18 points in the first quarter. The Swedes, who had been in a slump, scored 2 points in the first quarter, but were held to 2 points in the second.

The Irish continued to dominate the game, scoring 12 points in the third quarter. The Swedes scored 1 point in the third quarter, but the Irish scored 3 points in the fourth quarter.

The Irish controlled the game with their superior shooting and defense. The Swedes were unable to keep up with the Irish's quickness and agility.

The Irish's victory was the result of a well-executed game plan. The team played with a high level of intensity and worked together well as a team.

The Irish played in front of a packed crowd in Chicago, who came out to support their team. The game was a testament to the Irish's dedication and hard work over the past weeks.
