EXECUTIVE COUNCIL PRESENTS "BROTHEL WEEK" PROGRAM

At the last meeting of the Executive Council at Harding was held a chaplain program which was presented by Reverend Dean L. C. Sears. The program was held in the chapel and was open to all students free of charge.

During the program, Reverend Sears spoke on the importance of moral and spiritual values in today's society. He emphasized the need for individuals to live according to Christian principles and to make choices that reflect those values.

The program concluded with a brief Q&A session, during which students were able to ask questions about the topic and the speaker's personal experiences. Reverend Sears took the opportunity to encourage students to seek guidance and support from spiritual leaders when facing difficult decisions or situations.

This event was well-received by attendees, who found the speaker's insights and teachings to be thoughtful and inspiring. The Executive Council looks forward to continuing to promote similar programs that aim to enrich the spiritual and moral lives of students.
I don't know what happened to her... a whisper comes out of the darkness.

"I can't tell anybody what I told you about her, but..."

And then she's gone. Often she's been seen, often she's been heard, often she's been felt. But nobody can be sure of her face, or her voice, or her name. But they are appreciated. But these things prove 'the value it is full of deadly tails.

Thorn..."

Before long these two... And so the conversation goes. They part with a smug "Please don't tell anybody..."

Perhaps..."

The Fairchild Club held its winter banquet Friday night at the Terrace Room of the Mayfair Hotel. The program featured Prof. Lewis P. Wester, giving a history of the Fairchild Club, the club's officers, and its accomplishments in the past year. The banquet was followed by a dance. The next meeting of the club will be held Tuesday, Feb. 14, at the Terrace Room of the Mayfair Hotel.

Two outstanding speakers of the night were a writer and historian, respectively.

The writer was Prof. Lewis P. Wester, who spoke on the history of the Fairchild Club. He traced its origins back to 1910, when it was founded by a group of young men who were interested in literature and the arts. He spoke of the club's early history, its members, and its activities. He also spoke of the club's contributions to the community, such as its annual literary contest, which continues to this day.

The historian was Prof. James F. Stubblefield, who spoke on the history of the town of Searcy. He traced the town's early history, its growth, and its role in the Civil War. He also spoke of the town's early industries, such as the Stubblefield Lumber Company, and its role in the cotton trade.

The banquet was followed by a dance, which was well-attended. The music was provided by the Searcy High School Band, and the dance was held in the Terrace Room of the Mayfair Hotel.

Sophomores Oust Freshmen In Rhodes Memorial Track Meet

Emil Menes Takes High Scoring Honors

New Record Set By Summit, Menes, Relays

By Lin Wright

Fell into track records last year weren't worth a whole lot as "The Flying Firefighter," and Bill Fuller, who was the one with the edge of a drop out from the Washington Monument.

But today, in the spurt of a small school, a Rhodes Memorial Classic is a 152- to 20-point victory over the Summitt Memorial Second Annual Track Meet. Winning in three events, the theophantine Menes, Brian Lowe, and the standing high jump. Menes, however, tossed a 15.12 high jump with 4.12

Menes set a new record in the 300-yard run by going into the distance 25.6 from Jimmy Miller last year by south of the Idaho, track cotton, composed of Phil and Dick Mehl. Len Rodman was the 380-yard relay in 36.6, beating the mark they set last season by full second.

The Finish relay crew - Melvin, Ted Mills, Gerald Trevor and Wyatt Wismer - all set a new record, 43.8 by shaving the distance in 8.2.8, time it is a dead heat by 1/1

Menes set the record in the 100-yard dash in 10.7, breaking the old brother B. F. Rhodes mark of 10.8.

The finish of the 220-yard dash, the fourth heat of the sprint, was won by Brian Lowe. The 440-yard dash was won by Ted Mills, 55.8.

The 880-yard run by going the distance in 2:08.2, 22.1. The 120-yard dash was won by Phil Mehl, 9.8.
