North Texas State College Choir

To Sing at Searcy Tomorrow at 3 p.m.

The North Texas State College Choir, under the direction of Mr. Frank McKinney, will present a program in the Searcy High School Auditorium tomorrow afternoon at 3 p.m. The group will sing a wide variety of songs selected from the church, college, and popular fields. The program will feature both male and female singers, with a mixed choir performing a selection of spirituals and gospel songs. The choir has a long-standing tradition of excellence, and their performances are always highly regarded. The Searcy High School Auditorium is located at 123 Main Street, and admission is free to the public. This is an excellent opportunity to enjoy some of the finest collegiate choral music in the area.

Cultural Week Begins Monday; Executive Council To Sponsor It

By Bill Curry

North Texas State College will open the second Cultural Week on Monday. The theme for this week is "The Importance of Education," and the activities will be designed to emphasize the positive effects that education can have on society. The week will include guest speakers, workshops, and a variety of educational programs to engage students and the community. The Cultural Week is an important part of the college's commitment to fostering a culture of learning and intellectual growth.

Tom Allen & Karr Shannon To Speak At Collegiate Press Convention Here

Mr. Tom Allen, president of the Texas College Press Association, will be the principal speaker at the A. C. P. A. convention here April 15 and 16. Eddie Thomas announced today Allen is editor of a daily paper at Bridgport Island College and a member of the state legislature.

Mr. Karr Shannon, the Architect Department will also attend the meeting and address the group at a 2:30 Friday session. He will discuss the advantages and disadvantages of the various systems of education and the community press.

Col. C. Frank, president of the association, has received from Mr. Allen a letter of invitation to speak at the convention.

The convention is scheduled to open at 10:30, with Dr. George S. Benson delivering the welcome address. The program will be held in the Student Union from 10:30 to 4:30, and will include a variety of educational presentations and opportunities for discussion and networking.

Mr. Allen and Mr. Shannon will make plans for their own presentations. They will be held in the Student Union at 10:30 and 2:30, respectively.

A number of representatives of other states will also be in attendance to participate in the convention, offering a broad range of perspectives on the role of education and the community press.

Everyone interested in the future of education and the community press is encouraged to attend the convention and participate in the discussions. Registration is free for all attendees, and there will be opportunities to network with colleagues and learn about the latest trends and developments in the field.
You Should Read The Funnies

We don't have too many people read the funnies on Sunday but if you haven't been reading anything: Not only are they entertaining, but they often touch on important issues.

For instance, if you read "Nancy" this week you would have seen a good demonstration of the difference between work and play. Nancy had to earn some money to buy her own bike and could have bought one cheaper. She worked hard and got it, but you will see, when she was done, how much she had saved. It was a good lesson and made it differ from the "Nancy" we're used to.

And that holds true with any job you have to do. If you go to it with dread and disregard it is hard work; if you prepare for it with the proper attitude and hoping it will be made easy, it is much easier.

Perhaps we did not do so much as an idea at Erma Bombeck's, Nancy's author, but we hope you got the point just the same.

Let's Make It A Week Of Culture

Not too long ago we ran an editorial on the culture in the year round. We emphasized that culture is something that is developed through the years and habits of a people.

We try to employ all kinds of culture—a different kid for each community: Here at Harding we have developed a culture that is a little different from every other kind.

Now when we talk about "Culture-Week," it is to be held on the campus this week; we mean that we want to check up on ourselves and our surroundings, and get to know all the influence and make plans to attend to it.

The meeting this year was held at Little Rock senior high school with Miss Audubon present. She showed us through herself, at Harding on the fact that she is friendly with others, we could learn a lesson from those students.

The moment we arrived at the school, we were shown a large and courteous and educated audience. We were made to feel very welcome and comfortable. The band was even playing—of course, for the benefit of us.

We were able to make a good story. Backstage, everything was done with a characteristic smoothness.

Speaking of the stages—I had never thought of a stage could be "too big," but now I know. If you can imagine a stage that is wide alternately for a gymnasium, then you have some ideas of it.

Was one of the lucky ones who saw every play that was put on in the fall season, and the last two weeks. One thing that impressed me more than anything else is that the high school productions had improved so much in the last few years. In fact, I would ventures to say that two of the high school productions could be compared favorably with any of the best college productions. Harding Academy is going to have to get a seat for everyone at the theatre, otherwise the high school students a couple of friends to see it.

Looking at the high school—I suppose you know that we had to cancel our entry onto three members of the cast. The reason for this was the amount of work involved and the amount of time. We all know that the Academy could be the best, but for the sake of the school, we must make sure we are not doing this again.

By now, we can work with renewed vigor on the big stage. We need our problems. I would venture to offer on the festival would be the fact that there is only one judge for each play. Each has his own opinion and every play, I would venture to say that a large part of the audience would disagree with the rest of the judges.

I was proud of "Submerged." The acting was well done and real. I think to mind the fact that they played this play on the stage with the backdrop of students. Miss Harris, festival director, really brought us closer together. She was one of those students.

Now, the play was put on in the final dress rehearsal. Harding Academy is going to have to get a seat for everyone at the theatre, otherwise the high school students a couple of friends to see it.

"Oh, please, please let me play the song I want to play with my nickel."

In Appreciation for Cathcart Hall

As the girls moved into Cathcart Hall Monday we were again reminded of the things that make us feel at home. Our stay in this building is like being on a large island. We have been very much enjoying the independence of living with our classmates and we couldn't have made it without the care and attention we have received.

The person who worked and made this building as well as all the other new buildings a reality instead of a dream is our president, Dr. George S. Benson. It is through his unswerving efforts that Harding College has grown and progressed to the now teaching educational plant that it is today.

Dr. Benson has to be much of the time in order to get these things done. He has to make sacrifices difficult and left us as we may have seen as many miscalculations as possible.

We are so grateful to Dr. Benson for his unselfishness and for his willingness to give praise where praise is due. Let us use this as an excuse to thank Dr. Benson and say a word of appreciation for what he has done for Harding College.

A Tribute To Mrs. Cathcart

While we are thinking of the current occasion we want to call attention to the name: Cathcart Hall. Not much has been said about it, but the letters have been engraved upon the entrance, and everyone knows for whom it is named: Mrs. Florence Cathcart, Class of 1926 and Emeritus. This gentleman has devoted his life to Christian education. He desires to have this lovely dormitory named for her. She has always been so friendly and helpful, and her name should be remembered by the students. I am sure this is the right place to have her name named.

Down Alumni Lane

By Jennie Prewitt

Mr. and Mrs. Hard, graduation class of 1923, have returned to their native place and are now spending their vacation with their family. They are looking forward to meeting their former classmates and enjoying the festivities.

In the past few weeks, we have had many letters from our alumni, indicating their interest in our institution and their desire to return at least once a year. We are very grateful for this support.

Music

By Bob Morris

As we enter the new school year, we are reminded of the importance of music in our daily lives. Music has the power to move us, to inspire us, and to bring us together.

We are lucky to have such a talented group of musicians on our campus. They have been working hard all summer to prepare for the upcoming season.

The annual music festival is just around the corner, and everyone is excited about it. We will have a variety of performances, including choral, instrumental, and vocal music. There will be something for everyone to enjoy.

We want to encourage our alumni and friends to attend the festival and show their support for our talented musicians. It is a great opportunity to connect with old friends and make new ones.

We look forward to seeing you at the festival and hearing the amazing talent we have on our campus.

The reason for this sudden reorientation of our thinking is what with all the noise, as well as the minority, and that hairs of the guillotine blare hurtly downward.

But after all it is baseball season and let's wish it Godspeed.
