Do You Know?

By Dr. W. H. Richey

• I knew the pendulum had swung to one side, suffering over 10,000 casualties before seeking the other. When the pendulum had swung back northwestward pursued by the UN forces, Mrs. Sarah Smith, the wife of a UN soldier, was killed when the pendulum hit her. She was hit in the head by the pendulum, which must be on the wrong side of the fence.

• Red China has declared war on the United Nations, saying that the pendulum had swung the other way in Korea. After suffering over 70,000 casualties, the UN forces are now pursuing the Communists. Don't get the idea that this marks the end of the struggle.

• That Red China has declared the economic embargo imposed upon them by the United Nations illegal and slanderous. Maybe they are just afraid of being hurt in the pendulum battle.

• Very few, if any, nations are self-sufficient in their economy.

• That war is going on in Arkansas? The Lion Oil Company plant at El Dorado was on the receiving end of a fire this week. The fire was started by a person who was mowing the grass in the airfield. The fire was quickly extinguished, causing no damage.

• That sentiments of freedom in doing the right are found in doing right.

• That the Bourgeois family will be building a new home on the hill above the lake. They will be moving in the lake house before the pendulum hit the area.

• That the pendulum factory will be built in the town. They will be using the pendulum to measure people's weight. They must then cut their hair and go on a diet to reach the pendulum weight.

• That this week's edition of the Shepparton News will carry an article by "Professor Bourgeois." He will be discussing the pendulum and its importance in the world today.

• That the pendulum factory will be selling pendulums for $50.00 each. The pendulums are made of high-quality steel.

Voices Off Stage — By C. Gray

All this—me—days are back again! Twelve lines of Shakespeare—know lights—make-up—history of Campus Drama—stage management—all in one swing—a cup of weeks will it be finished and everybody will breathe a sigh of relief, but right now, ten lonely, weary, depressing—eighteen lines of Shakespeare into their already numb heads.

Sarah Copeland—Always willing to put a bit of extra work into every production—she is part of the bit part in "Enchanted Cottage"—but she has a good business head and a desire to work in every phase of back-stage work.

Carol Smith—A swell actress on the campus, Carol has also been a part of the stage work. She has a minor role in "Enchanted Cottage," but she has been around the block enough to know this is a good project.

Denny Hollings—a true professional—has worked with the college and the high school for years. His wife, Mary, is a music teacher at the college.

Jackie Tatum—a music major who has been a part of the college life for two years. His good work and good nature have made him a good choice for the music department.

Kathleen Klotz—works hard to learn the role of "The Wiz."

Rhoda Lee Ellis—is one of those people that you can count on. She is always willing to go the extra mile and come up with the job well done. She has a very small character role in "Tomorrow World," and has done stage work in almost every production at the college.

A Tribute To The Seniors

One more week of classes—then final and graduation. It doesn’t seem to be real to either of us, though, until the bell will ring and you will all be leaving. Herb Plummer, December 1961; John Hardin, December 1961.

The last show of the year, I was "discovered" and captured by the Blazers and set to work turning out pages for the school paper. I found that I could do my work anywhere—on the train, in the car, or doing chores at home. I was111.

"Tomorrow World"—the BISON is the only way to get news to all of you. We are running the show, and the production is almost complete. We will be proud of our work and the show will be a success.

A Few Words About the Association Meeting

The Student Association President, Charles Crawford, has called a general meeting of the student body this evening at 6. We feel that the President’s report of the first year’s work will be of interest to those students who served on a faculty committee. The report will give a brief report. Crawford will summarize the work of the council and this year, and new officers will be installed.

The first meeting of the year will be held on March 1st, and the President will call the meeting to order. The President will read the agenda and the meeting will then proceed with the business of the night.

Next year’s council will have to work hard to make as good a record as the Council of 1951-52. We feel that the Association should do well next year, and we believe that the Council of 1953-54 will do even better.

We are grateful to the President, Vice President, and the new officers for their willingness to serve the association. We are grateful to the BISON for the excellent job they have done in assisting the Association.

The BISON is the only way to get news to all of you. We are running the show, and the production is almost complete. We will be proud of our work and the show will be a success.
