Lack Of Support Hurts Martin; Can He Deliver?

By CHRIS ELLIOTT

Apparently, no one registered to vote, and in the absence of natural citizens, Benito Robert A. Taft as postmaster at Tait-Rusk was in the last place of the ticket. The only vote received in the election was from the postmaster (as a citizen) for himself and the other postmaster (as a citizen) on the ballot. The result is a disaster for Taft.

Martin, who came out at Taft-Rusk, lost his place in the race; his losses were expected. His losses in the last week of the campaign were due largely to the campaign of the Republicans, who were using a large amount of money and were greatly aided by the post office.

The campaign of the Republicans was carried on by the Republican party machine, which is in control of the post office. The Republicans were using the post office to get their message out to the voters, and they were also using it to get their votes.

The result of the election was a disaster for Martin, and he will probably be forced to leave the office of postmaster in the near future.
Large Chorus Faces Last Trial

There is a drive on now for the enrollment of large choruses. The fate of chorus depends upon this drive. If interest can be aroused, large choruses will continue; if not, it will be a thing of the past. If large choruses can't be the thing that dies, a part of the spirit of Harding will die also.

This year, for the first time in the history of the school, there have been three large choruses. It was just about the biggest thing on the campus. A student not in chorus was the exception rather than the rule. One didn’t have to have a good voice to sing in one of these choruses. It was for the enjoyment of the spiritual thing of the school slip away, and gradually these things have died.

Monday Night meeting is no longer compulsory. Personal Evangelism, which has been an extra activity, has been made compulsory Monday Night meetings. Now large chorus is facing its last trial and we the students have the responsibility of being the preserver, destroyers, or observers. The chorus will not gallantly will die the large chorus of large and an attitude of sacrifice. If we let choruses die, we have shown a disrespect for those principles which it embodies.

In Electing A President

As has been said before concerning the mock election now is progress in the Junior class for the election of Harding's president, which is of no great value to us or the nation, but to prove thought about the issues which will be a part of our presidential campaign. Some of the students have the confidence and have a definite responsibility to fulfill, Electing a leader for the next four years is not a matter to be taken lightly, and we the students must make a correct decision with a correct sense of responsibility.

If we can start this year with a clean slate, how long will it be at the end of the year?

And Jones increased in wisdom and stature with God and man. This statement, made by Luke, is particularly all that is revealed to us concerning our Lord's childhood and adolescence, but it is true enough. And when we come to the end of the way, the same thing can be said about us, it will be enough in that instance also.

If we do what is necessary for us to grow in favor with God, it is only natural that we will grow in favor with man. We cannot love our enemies sufficiently to the point of having to be enemies of the University. If we practice the golden rule, people will enjoy being around us and with us. But if you are trying to prove yourself a saint, you must have a lot of people who think you are a little better than they are. Defense production will continue to expand, certainly, and the housing shortage will probably be more acute than ever, so taxes will continue to increase for the next several years. There is a depression which would be worse than the last one, which has gone on strike, and people are nervous over the possibility of a war in Korea, the year of Harding's greatest expansion"—1931—is past. Through the grace of God, all past mistakes will be wiped out, living in our own memories as signposts to success, warning lest we stumble on the same pittfall again. We can start this year with a clean slate. How long will it be at the end of the year?

Do ing college we have ample opportunity to live a fullest life. Actually we need only let ourselves be pulled along by our college and we will but take a little initiative the increase will be substantially larger. Growth we will mainly follow, and if we do, we shall expect the fullness of the life. Growth in increasing in wisdom and stature with God and man, however, is not so easy.

Everyone, when pressed, will admit that he is not perfect. "If we say we have no sin, we are liars and the truth is not in us; but if we say we have sin, we make him a liar, and his truth is not in us."—1 John 1:8. With all of us there are things which we should do, but do not, and things which we do, but should not. Our transgressions and omissions tend to separate us from God. Only by becoming more concerned do we improve our relationship to Him. One of the best ways in which we can improve our private devotionals, consisting of scripture readings, meditations, and prayer.

A few weeks ago at a Wednesday night meeting I attended, everyone found a piece of paper and a pencil on his chair when he came in. At the beginning of the issue the posher asked each person present to write his name and the number of times he had prayed a private prayer since the last time he had attended church service. Then he waited, giving us time to finish writing.

TRY TO JUBILEE

Don Whorton is now working in the office of the High-Flying poultry Company in Daarabia, Miss. He was a visitor on the campus last Sunday night. He was the Groom of the broadcast wedding of Howard C. and Mrs. Bill Lyons moved to Memphis, where they live at 2079 Old Summer Road. Charles Stubblesfield is now attending Madison Technical State College at Mur­freesboro, Tenn. Ronnie Ford is going to school near her home.

Carolyn Martin is now holding a book-keeping job at Batesville, Miss. Mrs. Charles and Mrs. A. C. Monody and son were visitors recently from Happy, Tex. Mrs. B. E. Johnson, from Memphis, were recent visitors on the campus. Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Martin, from Mobile, Miss., were visitors recently on the campus. Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Swain were visitors recently from Batesville, Miss.

Another - Week Of History

By Dr. M. R. BOUCHER

Do not look for any peace negotiations ballots. If they come, they will be in the last of January. The armistice negotiations have reached a deadlock and the Communists have continued to pour in new troops and new supplies for another drive. Things may still be even worse, but the Communists may see too much fighting going than ever. An item of major importance will be to come on this plane. If the Communists may take a decided turn in favor of the democratic side.

There are rumors that integration has been given up. There is no attention given to Stalin. He may not have completely given up the idea of the "police action." The South Koreans are nervous of a turn in the tide. This is a true that might have them exposed to international criticism, but I do not think the south will be possible political domination by the Communists.

In Washington, the talks between Churchill and Truman have been con­cluded. It would be difficult to evaluate the results. If we are successful, we will have to prepare our people for consideration, in the spring term. It was also decided that the number of re­cruits will have to be increased. This had been the thought of the people in the administration, as a depression which would be worse than the last one, which has gone on strike, and people are nervous over the possibility of a war in Korea, the year of Harding's greatest expansion."—1931—is past. Through the grace of God, all past mistakes will be wiped out, living in our own memories as signposts to success, warning lest we stumble on the same pittfall again. We can start this year with a clean slate. How long will it be at the end of the year?

Do ing college we have ample opportunity to live a fullest life. Actually we need only let ourselves be pulled along by our college and we will but take a little initiative the increase will be substantially larger. Growth we will mainly follow, and if we do, we shall expect the fullness of the life. Growth in increasing in wisdom and stature with God and man, however, is not so easy.

Everyone, when pressed, will admit that he is not perfect. "If we say we have no sin, we are liars and the truth is not in us; but if we say we have sin, we make him a liar, and his truth is not in us."—1 John 1:8. With all of us there are things which we should do, but do not, and things which we do, but should not. Our transgressions and omissions tend to separate us from God. Only by becoming more concerned do we improve our relationship to Him. One of the best ways in which we can improve our private devotionals, consisting of scripture readings, meditations, and prayer.

A few weeks ago at a Wednesday night meeting I attended, everyone found a piece of paper and a pencil on his chair when he came in. At the beginning of the issue the posher asked each person present to write his name and the number of times he had prayed a private prayer since the last time he had attended church service. Then he waited, giving us time to finish writing.

TRY TO JUBILEE

Don Whorton is now working in the office of the High-Flying poultry Company in Daarabia, Miss. He was a visitor on the campus last Sunday night. He was the Groom of the broadcast wedding of Howard C. and Mrs. Bill Lyons moved to Memphis, where they live at 2079 Old Summer Road. Charles Stubblesfield is now attending Madison Technical State College at Mur­freesboro, Tenn. Ronnie Ford is going to school near her home.

Carolyn Martin is now holding a book-keeping job at Batesville, Miss. Mrs. Charles and Mrs. A. C. Monody and son were visitors recently from Happy, Tex. Mrs. B. E. Johnson, from Memphis, were recent visitors on the campus. Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Martin, from Mobile, Miss., were visitors recently on the campus. Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Swain were visitors recently from Batesville, Miss.

Another - Week Of History

By Dr. M. R. BOUCHER

Do not look for any peace negotiations ballots. If they come, they will be in the last of January. The armistice negotiations have reached a deadlock and the Communists have continued to pour in new troops and new supplies for another drive. Things may still be even worse, but the Communists may see too much fighting going than ever. An item of major importance will be to come on this plane. If the Communists may take a decided turn in favor of the democratic side.

There are rumors that integration has been given up. There is no attention given to Stalin. He may not have completely given up the idea of the "police action." The South Koreans are nervous of a turn in the tide. This is a true that might have them exposed to international criticism, but I do not think the south will be possible political domination by the Communists.

In Washington, the talks between Churchill and Truman have been con­cluded. It would be difficult to evaluate the results. If we are successful, we will have to prepare our people for consideration, in the spring term. It was also decided that the number of re­cruits will have to be increased. This had been the thought of the people in the administration, as a depression which would be worse than the last one, which has gone on strike, and people are nervous over the possibility of a war in Korea, the year of Harding's greatest expansion."—1931—is past. Through the grace of God, all past mistakes will be wiped out, living in our own memories as signposts to success, warning lest we stumble on the same pittfall again. We can start this year with a clean slate. How long will it be at the end of the year?

Do ing college we have ample opportunity to live a fullest life. Actually we need only let ourselves be pulled along by our college and we will but take a little initiative the increase will be substantially larger. Growth we will mainly follow, and if we do, we shall expect the fullness of the life. Growth in increasing in wisdom and stature with God and man, however, is not so easy.

Everyone, when pressed, will admit that he is not perfect. "If we say we have no sin, we are liars and the truth is not in us; but if we say we have sin, we make him a liar, and his truth is not in us."—1 John 1:8. With all of us there are things which we should do, but do not, and things which we do, but should not. Our transgressions and omissions tend to separate us from God. Only by becoming more concerned do we improve our relationship to Him. One of the best ways in which we can improve our private devotionals, consisting of scripture readings, meditations, and prayer.

A few weeks ago at a Wednesday night meeting I attended, everyone found a piece of paper and a pencil on his chair when he came in. At the beginning of the issue the posher asked each person present to write his name and the number of times he had prayed a private prayer since the last time he had attended church service. Then he waited, giving us time to finish writing.
Miss Johnnie Reese Engaged to marry John A. Croom

Mr. and Mrs. John G. Reese of West Dallas, Texas, are announceing the engagement of their daughter, Miss Johnnie Reese, to Mr. John A. Croom, 303 X. Kreiger, Seattle.

Miss Reese, a senior at the University of Washington, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Reese of West Dallas, Texas. She is a graduate of the University of Washington and is a member of the Delta Delta Delta sorority.

Mr. Croom is a graduate of Texas A&M University and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Croom, 397 K. Markert, Seattle.

Miss Reese is employed in the Seattle office of a major corporation and plans to continue her education after her wedding.

John A. Croom is a sales manager in the Seattle office of a large corporation.

The engagement announcement was made by the parents of the couple.

Janie McGuire Chosen Galt Club President

At a recent meeting, the G.A.T.E. Social club elected its officers for the coming year. The newly elected officers are: President, Janie McGuire; Vice-President, Linda Rainey; Secretary, Rosemary Rock; Treasurer, Betty Crutcher; and Joint Secretary, Gail McCallu.

The new officers were installed in office at the recent meeting and will be in charge of the club's activities for the next year.

Dec. 12, for the purpose of women of the world to meet and exchange ideas and experiences.

Miss McGuire, a member of the Galt Club, introduced the program and gave a talk on the role of women in today's society.

The meeting was well attended and the new officers were given a warm welcome by the members.

The G.A.T.E. Social club is open to all women who are interested in meetings and social events.
HOLIDAY REVIEW
A lot of things have happened in sports since the last issue of this paper was published five weeks ago, and here goes just a few.

The Sophomore and Faculty have gained the finals in the basketball class tournaments. Arcadia have turned defeating in the game by hitting five out of six free throws. Meats hit a short goal and用药 hit a six in the third period as they closed in on the Faculty. Meats hit for the faculty.

The faculty was the biggest disappointment. They were defeated by the Faculty, 36 to 12. The faculty was defeated by the Faculty, 36 to 12. The faculty was defeated by the Faculty, 36 to 12.

The faculty was defeated by the Faculty, 36 to 12. The faculty was defeated by the Faculty, 36 to 12. The faculty was defeated by the Faculty, 36 to 12.

The faculty was defeated by the Faculty, 36 to 12. The faculty was defeated by the Faculty, 36 to 12. The faculty was defeated by the Faculty, 36 to 12.