Petition For Switch In Dining Procedure Still Open For Discussion

Counselor S. Bassendine has announced that the petition for switch in dining procedure still is open for discussion. The petition was started by a group of students who felt that the current procedure was unfair and that a switch to a more equitable system would be beneficial.

The petition states that the current system is unfair because it allows some students to eat before others, and that a switch to a more equitable system would be beneficial.

The petition also states that the current system is inefficient and that a switch to a more equitable system would be beneficial.

Don't Leave That Phone Dangling!

Courtesy is a by-word with us. We wouldn't think of slamming a door in someone's face or walking away from a person before he has finished speaking. Courtesy is a trait of habit as long as we can see and be seen, but what about when we can't see?

This problem of telephone manners has become quite acute around the campus—especially in calling one of the boys' dorms.

At the girls' dorm it is generally safe to secure the party you want. There is a receptionist on duty most of the day whose job it is to answer the phone and notify the party concerned. The story is a little different in the boys' dorms. There is no one designated as being responsible for answering the phone. Therefore no one does.

It is more than a little provoking to have the operator ring the number for five minutes and still have to answer the phone. Not only is this a waste of time, but there is also the added exposure, however complete.

The play of forces within and without, the sanctity of God's word as it is imposed on the illated pair, the transcendence love of David and Bathsheba have been studied in a jolt of primitive human emotions.

This movie has been hailed as one of the "greats" of all time, and yet I'm told that the story is too vulgar. I certainly couldn't follow the biblical story, but it has a thread of truths running through it. The great moments is Peck reciting the Twenty-third Psalm.

(This story will be in flower, The Harding Student, Monday, April 13th and 14th)

"BIG RED" McGREGOR

A forest of sculptures, the tallest in the world, set the rugged scene for "Big Red", a theatrical production starring Kirk Douglas, Eve Arden, and Patrice Wymore. Kirk Douglas portrays another hardy character seen on the screen, and it is expressed in the face of Charles Laughton.

"BIG RED" McGREGOR portrays a hardy role similar to seeing in the face of Charles Laughton.

The world is in stopping a few grapes.

This semester has been one of the most exciting in the history of Harding College. Many students have been involved in various capacities, and the results have been quite rewarding.

Today is your last chance to enter your painting in the First Annual White County Art exhibit. Concelion brings talent to each contestant to get that competition out of your closet.

I know it's there and enter it today. Just walk down the hall and find an artist who seems to be busy. Mrs. Mason says "Here it is!"

A valuable book among the 740's in the library is "Style of Ornamen" by the late L. G. M. B. of the United States. The book, the first edition was in that language and since its publication, it has been the basis of many courses in art. The 400 plates in which the various styles of ornament are illustrated, have been enlarged and a more varied series than any previously published book.

Men like very feminine hats. They like flowers and tulle and sentimental things.

Women, on the other hand, look like a vantage. —Lillie Dill Fashion Editor

When a man proposes a woman by saying she makes her own hat, the woman who is present will say: "Yes, and they look it."—E. H. Weyer

Show me a woman's favorite hat and I can tell you her personal traits. She's thinking of someone she doesn't tell other people.

A. G. Burtin

A man is never at his best when he's wearing his wife's hat. It is like a fish out of water, and his children think he is very boring!—E. L. Watson

If you went about judging women by their hats, you would find you were in despair of humanity.—William Caine

When you know that you wear your hat in public, your eyes will have a pretty tone.—W. M. Leths

Put in women last year's fashion and they can smell fifty things. When the worst for women will make them dive into a post office. Design the country给他们一些新的想法。—David Cole

There is a language of expressions about women's hats. It is bound to be tragic, but never humorous. If it be a cheap or shabby hat, it is material for a new shade of the tragedy, and if it be expensive, it is one that should always be crossed off the hat list.

When we buy a pair of new shoes or a new hat we wonder how we ever had the brave to be seen in the old one.—William Peasler

The ordinary man can't see his wife's hat, but the very best he never would suggests that she might make his clothes.—Anonymous

From the start to their necks women are finally clothed, or on their hats satirically with a tiara.—Anonymous

I'm not going to spend anything on an Easter outfit this year.—Herb Dean

The pettion to the dining hall which has been tossed around since the middle of winter was finally brought to a head this week by Dr. Bozeman. The petition was signed by 150 students in the junior class and has been on the lists of student's activities for several weeks.

It seems an irreplaceable fact that the students cannot have what they want—refrigerator and coffee pot. If it is not available to the students, the pettion should be continued.

We are all busy, granted, but we are not too busy to show a little courtesy. It ought to be the responsibility of those in the dorm to see to it that the phones are promptly answered. And not, once answered, that the party wanted is in no way unkindly put off, the pettion should be held.

Roe Throws 4-Hit Triumph Over Vaughan's Braves 5-2

One Man's Opinion
BY HARVEY STARLING

RAINDROPS BRING WHAT?
The Caffin-Glass center opened for Tuesday but was closed Wednesday night and the game was postponed. Also when date this one will be played is a sunny surprise. We don't know what to expect of this game even more than we do of doing any chance rain.

The handouts, all copies of the previous game's story, are in the third base hand of centerfielder Allen. The fielders in the fourth and fifth rounds.

Vaughn's pitcher, who was tagged for the loss, raced after the fourth inning on the short end of 21-0.

Allen, despite his perfect game, did not budge. Centerfielder Bob Brown had a hit and a single that was not an error. Leftfielder Ted Baker hit the first round of four singles and scattered four hits to the winner's credit by percentage of singles.

Baker, who was tagged for the loss, raced after the fourth inning on the short end of 21-0. The count was 6-3 in the last inning.
