Eddie Baggett To Conduct Band in Spring Concert Friday Night

Friday evening, March 20, at 8 o'clock, the Harding College Band will present the 23rd annual Spring Band Concert, in the gymnasium. The program, to be held in the gymnasium, will consist of a variety of items such as marches, songs, and feature numbers. Mr. Coffman, in charge, will be on the platform.

Shrubbery Planting To Beautify Campus

The beauty of Harding’s newly planted shrubbery is enhanced by a new circular design of the flower bed itself. The plants, which have been coming up for the last week, will consist of a variety of species, mostly evergreens, for conifers. This design was selected by Mr. Coffman, after a visit with Mr. Hunt, director of the plantations, while visiting the campus grounds.

Dr. Baggett

Dr. B. E. Baggett, professor of English at Harding College, will be the keynote speaker at the spring meeting of the College of Christian Workers, held at Ft. Smith College.

Dr. Baggett will conduct the college chapel service on March 24.

Church Has Varied Bible Class Program

The College Church this week invited a special visiting speaker, Rev. Dr. C. H. Conക, to open the morning Bible classes to the student body.

There are several classes of Bible study here on campus, meeting at varying times and places. These classes are open to all interested students, whether they be members of the college, friends or visitors.

The Bible Study is divided into the following classes:

1. Morning Bible Study
2. Afternoon Bible Study
3. Evening Bible Study

Each class meets in the college chapel, and is conducted by a different teacher each week.

Eight Accepted Into Honor Society

Emphasizing practical Christian living, Harding College Training School sponsors a group of students who have been accepted into the Honor Society. The students are chosen based on their academic achievements and their potential for leadership.

The members of the Honor Society are:

1. Edward Johnson
2. William Smith
3. James Brown
4. Thomas Price
5. David Miller

Harding To Host 300 On Career Day

September 14, 1953

Harding College announces that it will host 300 high school students from the region on Career Day, scheduled for September 14.

The day will include sessions on various careers, and students will have the opportunity to meet with representatives from different fields.

Harding Seniors Accept Graduate Assistantships

Two Harding history majors recently accepted graduate assistantships towards their master’s degrees. Mr. Frank Schumacher, who is working on his master’s degree in history, and Mrs. Virginia Carter, who is working on her master’s degree in education, are both assistant professors in the history department.

Mr. Schumacher is working on a project on the history of the American West, while Mrs. Carter is working on a project on the history of education. Both are expected to complete their degrees in the next two years.

These scholarships are granted to students who are working towards a master’s degree, and are awarded based on academic achievement.

The students will be involved in research and teaching activities, and are expected to contribute to the academic community.

For more information on the graduate assistantship program, please contact the office of the dean of students.
Thanks For The Entertainment, Eric

There may have been a lot of controversy over it, but we believe that no one will deny that he has enjoyed thoroughly the concert series made possible this year by the purchase of the student activity tickets.

In addition to the students responsible for this more than any other person is Eric E. Moore. He has accomplished an unusual feat in bringing to the campus outstanding forms of dramatic and musical entertainment. Eric has been very successful in attracting a wide audience and creating an atmosphere of great enthusiasm for the culture. He has taken on all the responsibility of arranging for and planning these concerts. He has given us the opportunity to see and enjoy some of the most famous and well-known groups in the country.

We would also like to remind the students that at this time we are accepting applications for the next year's group. This is an opportunity to become involved in one of the biggest entertainment features they may know about. He is anxious to know more about the students who may be interested in joining this group.

Pat Dial had a letter this week which she felt she would like to share with the students. Since there are a number of people who consider the whole thing a waste of time, she is hoping to inspire other uses. The features have a one-act workshop setup that permits anyone in Campus Players to direct a play that they have written and present it to the entire group. If the director who has to take the lead in the production wishes to be a producer, he can choose a play with a large cast in order to test the dramatic abilities of the Campus Players, who are admit to such one-acts free. Or he may, if he wishes, present it a larger group and the Campus Players meeting becomes open to any who wish to play and see the play.

If the director in the play that he has spent, he is the hero. Therefore, the director is not sure if support, help is needed. There are plans for a meeting with the student body under the auspices of the Student Council. At this meeting students will be given the opportunity to voice their suggestions. Eric Moore has also indicated a willingness to talk with any students who wish to discuss the future of the play and to plan for the next year.

We are pleased to see the number of people who have already expressed interest in participating in the future. dial has been very happy and we hope that dial will continue to be involved in the future.

Dial has been happy with the way things have been going. She has been appreciated for her efforts and the students have been very supportive. This has been an opportunity to learn and grow as individuals and as a group.

We would like to express our gratitude to Eric Moore for his dedication and hard work. His efforts have made this year's concert series a success and we look forward to seeing what he has in store for us in the future.
The article appears to be a newspaper article discussing various events and activities. It mentions several names and groups, such as Harding University, the Omega Club, and the Mayfair Hotel. The content includes mentions of dances, receptions, and other social events. The text also references a variety of people such as Mr. and Mrs. Formby, Mr. and Mrs. Ewell, and others. The article seems to be a summary of events taking place at or around Harding University and related social gatherings.
Perrin Drops In 19 To Lead The Way As The Celtics Show Ability

BY AL POZETE

MARCH 12 — In the annual All-Star game, the Western Division今晚的NBA All-Star Game started with the Western Conference winning 137-127 over the Eastern Conference, with the loss for the Celtics.

The team was led by Bill Russell, who scored 20 points and grabbed 15 rebounds, while Bob Cousy added 17 points and 11 assists. The Celtics also had a strong performance from their young stars, with John Havlicek scoring 18 points and Jerry West adding 15 points.

The game was a highly competitive one, with the Western Conference leading by as many as 14 points at one point in the third quarter, but the Eastern Conference fought back to tie the game at 117 with only 1:21 left to play.

The Celtics were able to hold off the Eastern Conference in the final minutes, with Russell making two free throws with 10.2 seconds left to put the game out of reach, 133-129.

The victory was a sweet one for the Celtics, who had been struggling with injuries and poor play in recent weeks. The win helped to boost the team's morale and set them up for a strong finish to the season.

Afterwards, Russell was named the Most Valuable Player of the All-Star game, while Cousy was named the Most Improved Player.

Overall, it was a great performance by the Celtics, who showed that they could still compete at a high level even when facing adversity. With the win, they are now tied for second place in the Eastern Conference, just one game behind the Milwaukee Bucks.
