Little Bit O' Whit

Modestly Whit Admits Genius; Odds 'N Ends

BY MARY ANN WHITAKER

The question that is asked me more than any other is, "Whit, how do you do it?"

With all the modesty my little frame can muster I reply, "How can I do what?"

The answer invariably is, "How are you able to put out the Bison take part in extra-curricular activities and make good grades too?"

I usually cast my eyes demurely down and insist that I don't know or that it isn't much of an accomplishment. But since there has been such an interest in this question, I have decided to reveal the startling secret.

In my modest, unassuming way, I must admit that I am a GENIUS. There is simply no other explanation. Avoid it though I may try, the truth will out.

What other explanation is there? Only a genius could put out a paper, attend classes and participate in four outside activities and still come up on the Dean's List.

With my telephoto mind I skim through my lessons, breeze through exams and dash off term papers. Then in my spare time—since I am a genius I have more time than I know what to do with—I sit in my little cubicle and write world-shaking columns. In my own astute way I am a scholar of the highest degree.

Well, before you see red, I'll stop this ridiculous satire and become serious. But I couldn't resist the temptation. The implication of such a question is always that the person who is able to accomplish such "outstanding" feats must indeed be a genius.

I deny this, and if there is anything that annoys me more than for someone to imply such a thing, I don't recall what it is.

If I am a genius because I can accomplish these things then this campus has an over-abundance of geniuses. Period, and of quotation marks.

I am amazed at the ability of the couples around here to eat their meals while gazing mooningly into each other's eyes and still not dribble food down their fronts . . . at Reid Bush's ability to remain calm and aloof even during a high jump contest . . . at Al Potete's slow but constant method of getting a job done . . . at Don Goodwin's ability to find humor even in being campused.

A reminder—it is said that it is harder for a music major to get out of this place in four years than for a rich man to enter Heaven. Mary Kathryn Daniels is going to accomplish this feat in June, and proof of it is her senior recital tonight. Don't miss it.

Note to an admirer—I'm afraid you have overestimated me.

Croom To Publish

History Of Harding

A. S. Croom, Harding College business manager, revealed recently that he expects to have a book on "The Early History of Harding College" ready for the publishers by the end of 1953. Croom was one-time president of Arkansas Christian College, later changed to Harding College in 1924 upon his suggestion.

Croom, who has been working on the book between three and four years, stated that he knows the sources of material that will make a complete history of the Harding movement as well as many original documents that have been retained and accumulated over the years.

This book will serve as an enlightener as to the actual history and background of Harding College, it was mentioned.

Council Petition Deadline Extended Until May 12 Pres. Myer Announces

Student Council Pres. Buddy Myer today announced that the deadline for submitting petitions nominating candidates for council offices has been extended to Tuesday, May 12.

Myer explained that the council felt this action to be expedient at the present time. It has been brought to the attention of the executive council that several petitions are still circulating.

At present only five petitions have been received—one for president, two for vice-president and two for secretary-treasurer.

Myer urged the circulation of more petitions. "We feel that the more candidates there are running, the better chances there are of electing capable people to fill the offices," he said.

Myer outlined election plans under the extended time-limit. Voting will take place Wednesday, May 20, rather than Wednesday, May 13, as originally planned. Each candidate will be in charge of his own campaign.

Location of polling booths will be announced at a later date.

Dr. Wilson Speaks On Military Leaders

"A democracy should go slowly in exchange of the togs of a soldier for the toga of a statesman," Dr. Frederick Taylor Wilson told Harding students Thursday in his address on "Our Military Presidents."

Wilson, noted lecturer and author, speaks in all the 48 states approximately every two years, filling speaking engagements with civic organizations, universities and colleges. "A teacher whose classroom is the nation" is the title given him.

From Washington to Eisenhower, Wilson gave a brief account of America's 16 presidents who achieved the highest rank in the land on the basis of being military heroes.

"To be a great military hero and be nominated does not mean that election is assured," Wilson said. He gave several instances where military nominees were defeated.

"Take a look at five men who became presidents primarily because they were military heroes," Wilson pointed out. "Without Washington we would have never won the Revolution or ratified the Constitution." He went on to describe the instances by which Andrew Jackson, William Henry Harrison, Zachary Taylor and Ulysses Grant were elected to office.

Unusual incidents in the lives of the presidents were highlights in Wilson's speech. He mentioned serious as well as amusing anecdotes in the lives of the great men.

In summing up the results of the military presidents, Wilson said, "Dream not that the sword and helmet are signs of valor true for peace has greater victories than valor ever knew."

Harding Sophomore Treated For Fall

Don Black, Wichita, Kans., sophomore, was taken to Hawkins Clinic last Monday afternoon where he was given emergency treatment after having fallen from a cliff at a Camp Tahkodah outing. Black was hospitalized two days with a minor cerebral concussion which the doctors expected to develop into a hemorrhage, but was released when no further development occurred.

He also suffered a sprained back and ankle and tore some ligaments loose in one arm.

According to Black, he was attempting to scale a cliff to reach some more hikers when he slipped off a wet rock, fell almost 10 feet and was momentarily knocked unconscious. He managed to grab a tree after having rolled some 30 or 40 feet. He was found by searchers around 2:30, a short time after the fall.

Girls' Glee Club To Present Concert Monday At 8:15

The girls' glee club will give its annual spring concert Monday night at 8:15 in the large auditorium. The program will be characterized by variety.

The club will present two numbers from Brahms and one from Beethoven. On the lighter side several folk tunes will be sung including two Russian folk songs and some Chinese novelty numbers.

Assisting the glee club will be the girls' sextet, Prof. Glenn Fulbright and soloist Carlene Williams. The sextet, composed of Peggy Horton and Peggy Baker, first sopranos, Barbara Laird and Darlene Rhodes, second soprano, Jerry Chesshir and Mary Ann Whitaker, altos, will sing "Row, Row Your Boat," "You'll Git Heaps O' Lickens," "Indian Summer," "Sing Awhile Longer" and "The Whistling Girl." Their accompanist is Jo Ann King.

Fulbright will play "Nocturne in F sharp," by Chopin, "La Puerza del Vino," by Debussy and "Capriccio in D Minor, Op. 116, No. 7," by Brahms.

The glee club will conclude the program with three numbers—"The Song of the Metronome," by Berlin, "Silver Moon," by Romberg and "Indian Love Call," by Friml.

The club is under the direction of Mrs. Avon Lee Baxter and consists of the following:

June Argo, Joan Argo, Sara Jean Covey, Marcelene Crawford, Oleta Garner, Laverne Hash, Nedda Hixson, Peggy Horton, Jo Anne Johnson, Barbara Laird, Joan Lee, Mildred Little, Marjorie McGinnis, Tommie Ann Potter, Marilyn Price, Darlene Rhodes, Virginia Rhodes, Peggy Saunders, Mary Smith, Shirley Wayland, Mary Ann Whitaker, Carlene Williams, Peggy Baker, Jerry Chesshir, Barbara Butcher and Nina Smith. Accompanist is Nedra Vaughn.

Professors, Student Go To History Meet

Two Harding professors and one student were in attendance this week at the Mississippi Valley Historical Association meeting at Lexington, Ky. The meeting was in session from Thursday through today.

Prof. Clifton L. Ganus, Prof. Paul Isaac and Charles Crawford represented Harding at Lexington. Ganus is the only one of the group who is a member, having held his membership for six years.

"This is the largest historical association in this area," Ganus said. "The association is a national organization which is the second largest in the country of that type."

Outstanding historians from all over the United States were present, and the association ranks second in attendance of such members. Papers were read pertaining to historical events.

The group returned to the campus yesterday.

Mary K. Daniels To Present Recital

Mary Kathryn Daniels . . . onJnH

Mary Kathryn Daniels will present her senior recital at 8 to-night under the auspices of the Music Department. A piano major from Baltimore, Md., she is a pupil of Prof. Glen Fulbright. Miss Daniels will be assisted in her program by Jack Plummer, baritone.

The program will consist of numbers from Bach, Brahms, Beethoven, Debussy, Tcherenine and Dohnanyi.

Bison Positions Now Open For Applicants

Application for the posts of Bison editor and business manager for the '53-'54 term are now being received, faculty sponsor Neil Cope announced today. Those wishing to apply for these positions should see Cope or editor Mary Ann Whitaker by 5 p.m. Tuesday.

Only juniors and seniors should apply, Cope said. Both positions carry a $150 scholarship. They will be selected by Cope, business manager Charles Crawford and Miss Whitaker and approved by the faculty committee on student publications consisting of Cope, Dr. Joe Pryor and Evan Ulrey.

Cope stated that there is no set form for publication, but applicants might state their previous experience, reasons for applying and possible plans they might have for the Bison.

The new editor and business manager will be announced at the Bison party to be held Friday at Camp Wyldewood.

"Round The World Via TWA" Comes True For Two Hardingites

Ann and John Petree, popular Harding twins, point out their future home to Bison reporter Dick Shelton. John and Ann will leave this summer to join their parents in Iran. They will attend school there next year.

By DICK SHELTON

New York, London, Paris, Rome, Istanbul and Tehran via TWA. What an itinerary for two Hardingites! This is the tentative schedule for Ann and John Petree, Harding freshmen who will leave their home in Birmingham, Ala., around June 20, to join their parents in Tehran, Iran. Mr. Lo Petree, Ann and John's father is an industrial advisor to Iran, working under the Department of Labor to improve Iran's manufacturing methods and help stabilize her precarious economy.

From Tehran, where the brother and sister duo (twins) will remain until October, they will travel to Beirut, Lebanon, to enroll in the American University of Beirut for their sophomore year's work.

According to Ann, Tehran is a city of approximately one million population, a near-east crossroads for people from all over the world. Jews, Arabs, Moslems, French, English and Americans mingle in this ancient metropolis, famous for the historic Big Three meeting held there during World War II. The camel is still an acceptable method of transportation there, although western dress and ideas are rapidly becoming the vogue.

Beirut, where Ann and John will go to school next year, is the leading city of Lebanon, the ancient Biblical country just north of Palestine. The American University of Beirut is a highly accredited western-type school which conducts classes in English. It's scholastic standard is good. During the Christmas holidays the Petrees intend to tour the Holy Land, just south of Lebanon.

When asked what she was most interested in seeing on the trip to Tehran this summer, Ann promptly answered, "Paris, every girl dreams of seeing Paris." John mentioned that he was anxious to see some of the native workmanship in Tehran where the Iranians are noted for fine silver work. Also he wants to observe the living conditions in Tehran where thousands are starving and tourists are besieged by packs of hungry beggars.

"However," added Ann, "the danger from the riots which are highly played up in the American newspapers is greatly over-emphasized. Since our parents moved to Tehran a year ago they have seen very few disturbances. 'From what our parents write to us about Tehran, I think I'll like: There are lots of parties with strange foods and customs. The Iranian children eat watermelon seeds as a great delicacy. I want to get lots of souvenirs, in fact, I think I'll bring back half of Asia.'"

When asked about going to school in Beirut, Ann was obviously doubtful. "I'd much rather go to Harding," she said. "We will be the only Christians in Beirut and I'll miss the Christian companionship I have here." Following their year at Beirut, the pair plan to return to Harding.

Ann and John are now getting their passports in order and will have two weeks in June to pack and take from nine to 12 vacation shots which are necessities for world travelers. We take this opportunity to wish Ann and John Petree "bon voyage" and a safe return.

Johnson To Attend Grounds Meeting

Percy Johnson, work co-ordinator and head of the building and grounds department, is scheduled to attend the second annual convention of the Southern Association of Ground Maintenance Officials to be held at the Chickasaw Country Club in Memphis, Tenn., May 19-18.

Johnson will represent Harding, a charter member of the organization. Johnson succeeded Royal Bowers as head of the building and grounds department at Harding, Bowers being a member of the 4-member board of directors of the organization.

A group of prominent speakers are slated to address the convention. The speakers include Dr. O. J. Maer, Dr. Marvin Ferguson and Dr. James Watson, Jr.

The latest improved equipment will be demonstrated to the delegates. Various city and memorial parks will be visited.

The purpose of this association, according to its constitution, is to promote the mutual assistance of its members in the acquisition, exchange and diffusion of knowledge pertaining to improved methods of establishment and maintenance of lawns, landscapes, parks, playgrounds, cemeteries or other planted areas.

IRC To Donate Electric Map As Year's Project

The International Relations club will donate an electric map of the world to Harding as its project, the members decided at the club's last meeting of the year Tuesday evening.

"We feel as if the map will encourage greater interest in international affairs," president Jimmy Lyons said, "by providing a geographical background that the students can see while evaluating the news."

The map was proposed earlier in the year as the club's project. In its completed stage a daily news report from the Associated Press will be put on the bulletin board adjoining the map, which in turn will be lighted where the news is being made. The map will be put up in the near future.

Justices Appointed

The recently ratified constitution of the IRC provides for a judicial branch of the club by stating, "All judicial powers of IRC shall be vested in a High Court which shall be composed of five justices, of whom four shall be student members of IRC and one a faculty or staff member belonging to IRC." The next clause goes on to state that the high court shall be presided over by a chief justice.

Nominees for the positions were presented to the members for approval. Those receiving appointments were: Mrs. Frank L. Holmes, chief justice; Wilma DeBerry, Kazuo Kusano, Jennie Schoofield and Ray Wilburn justices respectively.

The constitution further states that two club members are to be appointed to serve along with the executive council which is composed of the president, vice-president and faculty advisor. Wayland Wilkerson and Devereaux Jarrett were appointed to the council.

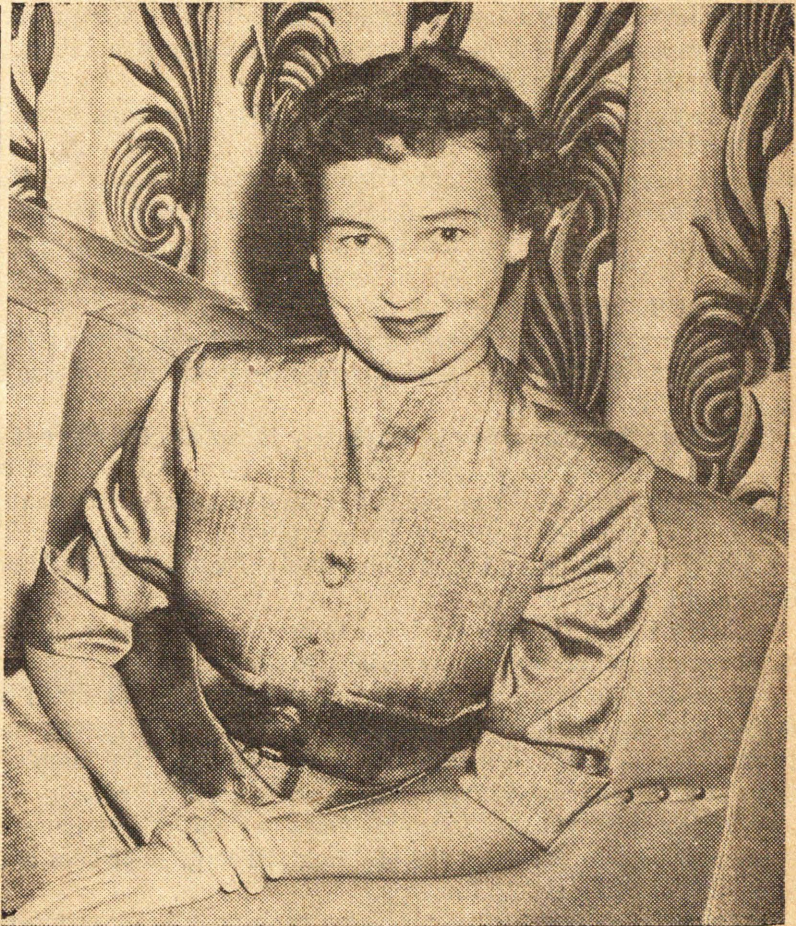

In formulating plans for a coming banquet, Gene Rainey was named program chairman.

Dr. Charles D. Kenney, sponsor of the IRC, has been asked to be faculty advisor at the Middle Atlantic States Model United Nations next year. This organization is the father of all model sessions as it held model League of Nations sessions before the coming of the UN.

Plans for the next year's model UN which will be held at David Lipscomb College, Nashville, Tenn., are in the formulative stage. Kenney said that he hoped that it will be possible for more delegates to go to the session next year. Work will begin by the delegates for 1954 as soon as it is decided which country Harding will represent.

Girls' Glee Club Gives Program At Augusta

The girls' glee club gave a program for the Augusta High School, Augusta, Thursday morning, May 7, at 10 a.m. The program was the same as the one for the forth coming concert Monday night, May 11 with the exception of numbers by Prof. Glenn Fulbright and the sextet. Solo numbers were by Carlene Williams, who sang "Go Away From My Window," "Lilac Tree," and "My Hero," and Sara Jean Covey, who sang "When I Grow Too Old To Dream," "Since First I Met Thee" and "Loveliest Night of the Year."

Miss Janie McGuire, 1953 Petit Jean Queen

By TOM NELSON

In a colorful ceremony yesterday afternoon, Student Council Pres. Buddy Myer crowned Miss Janie McGuire queen of the 1952-53 yearbook to climax the Petit Jean dedication festivities.

Miss McGuire, nominee of the Koinonia club, is a senior from Prescott. She is a home economics major and is a member of the GATA social club.

Attendants to the queen were Nancy McDaniel, nominee of the Lambda Sigma club, and Mary Helen Clayton, candidate of the Tri-Sigma Delta club. Miss McDaniel is a junior from Atlanta, Ga., and Miss Clayton, Morrilton, is a junior.

Yearbook Dedicated to Pryor

In another festive highlight, Rickie Arimura, PJ editor dedicated the new yearbook to Dr. Joe Pryor. Reid Bush acted as master of ceremonies and announced for the program.

Photographers lined the walkway to photograph the queen. Miss McGuire carried red roses while attendants Miss McDaniel and Miss Clayton carried pink roses. Trainbearers for the queen were Martha Pitner and Mary Hanna Sewell. Clifton Ganus III acted as crownbearer. The Harding band provided special coronation music for the event.

"Who's Who" Revealed

As a part of the dedication ceremony, "Who's Who" winners of both the college and high school were revealed. College Honor Students recognized were Jane Sutherland, Searcy; Norman Hughes, Crestview, Fla.; and Irma Coons, Washington, D.C.

Best-All-Round students were Buddy Myer, McGehee and Rickie Arimura, St. Louis, Mo.

In class favorites were:

Freshman — Don Willingham, Amarillo, Tex., and Margaret Austin, Piggott; sophomore, Don Brown, Searcy, and Barbara Richards, Cleveland, Tenn.; Juniors—Harvey Starling, Imboden, and Gracie McReynolds, DeRidder, La.; seniors — Bob Anderson, Chicago, Ill., and Rita Nossaman, Isabel, Kan.

In the Academy "Who's Who" winners were:

Best-all-around — Pat Copeland, Little Rock, and David Rhodes, Searcy; favorites — Dot Goodwin, Vicksburg, Miss., and Maurice Baldwin, Searcy; honor students — Gail Shoptaw, Fayetteville, and Norman Dykes, Searcy; eutest — Joan Fletcher, Williford, and Mike Rhodes, Searcy; wittiest — Ruth Merritt, Shreveport, La., and W. D. Burkhalter, Memphis, Tenn.

Moore Reveals Opera Casting, To Be Given 22nd

The lead cast for the opera "Martha" was revealed this week by Prof. Erle T. Moore, music department head and director of the production. The opera, written by Flowtow, is probably the biggest music-dramatic production ever attempted at Harding College.

It will be performed May 22 in the main auditorium of the Administration-Auditorium building. Featured in the lead role of Martha is soprano Carlene Williams. Playing opposite her as Lionel is tenor Ray Wright. Others in the main cast are Marilyn Starks, mezzo soprano; Sam Haynes, baritone; Alfred Petrich, baritone; Bill Clark, bass. These principles will be supported by a chorus of 25 or 30 others.

Miss Williams is a sophomore from Amarillo, Tex., and has appeared publicly many times on the Harding stage. Wright, a senior from Memphis, Tenn., is not only well known as a singer, but also has appeared in many plays.

Eileen Snure is in charge of the staging for the play. She will be assisted by the Campus Players. Extras for the production will be taken from Campus Players.

Moore states, "Even though this is probably the biggest music-dramatic production ever attempted at Harding, we believe we have things pretty well under control and the audience may look forward to a fine performance."

New College Catalogue Off Press Next Week

Prof. Neil B. Cope, Public Relations Director, announced today that the new 1953-54 edition of the Harding College Catalogue would be off the press next week and available to all who desire a copy.

The new catalogue gives latest information on courses offered and faculty.

Editorializing—

A Step Toward Understanding

We would like to take time here to commend our president, Dr. George S. Benson. Recently he has announced that if students have questions about the school and its policies that he will be glad to answer them publicly from the chapel platform.

We feel that this is a demonstration of a great spirit within Dr. Benson. He undoubtedly feels that the students have a right to question anything the school does, and right along with this he knows that the school has a reason for everything it does. Many times, however, misunderstandings arise between students and administration because these reasons are not made clear.

It is with this in mind that he is attempting to answer any and all questions. The administration has no way of knowing where there might be a misunderstanding unless such things are brought to its attention.

We feel that this move will do much to strengthen the bond of understanding between students and administration. We hope the student body will take advantage of—but not abuse—this privilege.

Looking For A Project?

If there are any campus organizations looking for projects, we have a few proposals. Just looking around the campus a bit we have found several very crying needs.

This spring the young men's thoughts have been greatly hampered in their turnings because of the condition of our swings. These swings have not been the best of condition for several years, but their morality rate has increased this year. At present there are six swings on the campus. There were seven, but one had to be carted away to—we can only guess where. (We assume it went where all good swings go after they have served out their usefulness).

Of the remaining six, we can recommend only three with any degree of confidence what soever. And our recommendation on these three is with no little bit of hesitancy.

Of the other three, one is absolutely incapacitated since it has assumed the awkward position of lying flat on its face — if we can conceive of a swing having a face. Another one is on our unsafe list because it has the bad habit of suddenly dumping its occupants to the ground. The third has a slightly termite-eaten leg, which gives the appearance of breaking under the weight of a fly.

After this inventory we hope some class or club might find it within its powers to donate some new swings to the campus.

A second need which we have in mind are the bulletin boards at the dining hall entrance. They are worn to the extent that we have difficulty finding a spot to stick a tack in. It has become commonplace for notices to be stuck in the wooden frames rather than the boards.

We are also waiting for some class to donate the money and labor for some new bleachers out by the ball field. The present ones are at (or past) the point of being safety hazards.

One of the commonest problems each year in class meeting is "What can we have for a class project this year?" We are anticipating this question by supplying the answers.

Thanks To The Petit Jean Staff

The Bison wants to go on record with hearty congratulations to Rickie Arimura and her entire Petit Jean staff for the excellent job they have done this year. Proof of the excellence of this job is in those shiny, new PJ's which we all received yesterday.

We know that a lot of work and tireless effort has gone into the production of the yearbooks and we appreciate it. With the Bison office right next to the Petit Jean office, we have extra reason for being sure that every effort has been expended on making this year's Petit Jean the best ever, for we have heard the staff working and planning throughout the year.

May we say that your efforts have not been in vain, and thanks again for a job well-done.

How About A Little More Care?

We all regret very much Don Black's unfortunate accident last week, and we hope that it will serve as a warning to the rest of us.

There are always dangers connected with outings, especially where mountain climbing and boating are concerned. Some of us remember last year when Frank Hall was injured in a fall on an outing. Frank was in a serious condition for sometime, but fortunately has recovered now.

This, however, is not too good a record for Harding with two serious falls on outings in as many years. We hope that all clubs and groups which have not yet had their outings will take extra precautions when mountain climbing and boating.

IF YOU ASK ME!

By WARRINE BRYANT

What Is Your Opinion of Non-Segregation In Schools?"

Gene Rainey — "I am for non-segregation and co-education.

Gene Patterson — "Ditto."

Al Poteete — "I don't see anything wrong with it. If you are going to segregate against one race why not all of them?"

Don McCalister — "Non-Segregation is an excellent means of exemplifying the Christian virtues so many people profess to hold."

Pearl Helm — "I think they should have equal but separate facilities."

Gay Sue Willis—"They have as much right to an education as I do, therefore I would be willing to go to school with them."

Bob Roe — "Non-segregation is certainly a more Christian view."

Willard Davis — "I respect colored people and I think they should have equal educational facilities, but I still maintain segregation to a certain degree."

Jack McNutt — "Under certain circumstances I believe it is all right."

Shirley Barrentine — "Since I am a Southerner, I have been taught segregation, but after some study I believe segregation is very unChristian."

Liz Herndon — "I think that it would be okay. After all they are human and they do need an education."

Norman Hughes — "Non-segregation would be an ideal situation if all the people were educated. At the present, however, the cultural background of many people would make it undesirable."

Glenn Burgess — "I think they are entitled to schools as good as ours. I believe Christ would make no distinction."

Bob Anderson — "Personally I don't believe there should be segregation. However, I do think that it would have to be a gradual change through education. It's a problem that can't be forced either way."

Kenneth Webb — "I have gone to schools of all sorts and have never experienced bad or unclean companionship in either manner. If there should be non-segregation, it should not be an all open movement. It should be planned and done carefully."

Andee King — "I believe it's very unfair to deny them an education. We should provide schools for them until we can break down the barrier of prejudice."

By James Zink

Epictetus, the Stoic philosopher, once said, "Each single thing that comes into being in the universe affords a ready ground for praising Providence, if one possesses these two qualities — a power to see clearly the circumstances of each, and the spirit of gratitude therewith." Of very great importance in this saying is "the spirit of gratitude" a necessity for the praising of "Providence."

We should be thankful to God for all the multitudes of blessings He has given to us. It is beyond human ability to realize just how much God has given in His infinite love. Seneca, another Stoic philosopher, said: "We can be thankful to a friend for a few acres, or a little money; and yet for the freedom and command of the whole earth, and life, health and reason, we look upon for the great benefits of our being, as ourselves as under no obligation." Perhaps this is characteristic of some people; however, we are completely responsible to God for the way in which we handle the things he has given to us.

Many times we forget to express our gratitude to someone who has done something for us. We don't mean to forget, but we do. However, it seems as though we can always find fault and time to criticize. Such an attitude as this is certainly un-Christian, and compared to "heathens" like Epictetus and Seneca, some Christians are made to look rather weak.

FAMOUS LAST WORDS

Let's go out and sit in the swings.—by Tom Nelson

THINK ON THESE THINGS

By CECIL MAY, JR.

By BOB ROE

Today's column is nothing more than a conglomeration of thoughts that have been mine as of late — if of any value to you, accept them as yours; if not, forget them.

I sometimes use this illustration in a sermon to illustrate the importance of true Christian love and unity. Let us suppose that in this community we have the obligation of finding Christ's Church. The difficulty is that all the signs marking buildings have been taken down.

We have been given a special power which enables us to pass over every assembly and with a mere glance see if these people measure up to the rule we have been given. Our only guide is the statement made by Christ in John 13:35, "Ye shall know these are my disciples because they love one another."

As we pass from group to group on this investigation we often discover in a moment that a particular meeting is not of Christ's disciples because of the open dissention and ill will. Other visits take longer until we at last see the deep underlying spirit of disunity which is no less deadly. At last we believe we have found Christ's disciples by the rule of John 13:35.

As we ask to see the sign that had been taken down, we realize to our embarrassment that we have made a mistake — quite a mistake! For you see the sign says "Ladies of the Elks."

Father Eternal, may I realize if I am to bring peace to lost souls I must first find peace within and a spirit that will instill peace in my brethren. May I admit worlds have been lost, souls damned and eternal hopes destroyed because of the kind of sin I hide in my heart.

Have you ever heard anyone say "Let's play Christian?" Well, I doubt if you have, yet perhaps such language is not too far off. How many times do we act as one who might say, "I'll play Christian if you will?" We will be the good Christian everyone else is trying to be so long as that is the rule of the game. Let someone act in an unChristian way and we seem to be able to switch games as easily as a child might change from "cowboy" to playing school.

We may become as proud of our unscrupulous actions as once we were about being Christ-like. Perhaps the real test of our Christ-lives is not here at Harding, but rather in a world where Christ is not the rule of life. Living Christ in face of an opposing world is our cross — living Christ in eternity will be our crown.

"The problem of evil," says Alfred North Whitehead in "Religion In The Making," "Is the rock on which any simple theology is shipwrecked." That cannot be truth which takes account only of pleasantness and has no answer for the hard things of life.

Pilate put this problem to Jesus, and Jesus, who is King of Truth and its sublime teacher, said not a word but went out and laid down His life for His friends.

As we reflect upon the crucifixion of our Savior — how he was persecuted at the hands of religious men, it should cause every Christian to pause and search his attitude toward mankind.

What if the timeless One had come to our generation and if we were as confident as the Jews that Christ was wrong, would we destroy this man before we heard His truth? How many times have professed believers in Christ fought as blindly and insanely as the Jews against Christ? For us to fight error in the same spirit and manner the Jews fought Christ is indeed wrong — even though we are fighting error. How many misguided souls could have been won to truth by an understanding teacher? How many broken lives could be healed by a physician who loves both body and soul? What would have happened had the Jews listened to Christ's message with the spirit Christ preached?

There would have been a far greater Pentecost! Do I fight error with its own devices and thereby become a part of it, or can I hear a man and search his message for truth and upon not finding truth reject the message without rejecting the man and thereby rejecting every hope of destroying his error?

Holy Father, may I treat every man as though he were the Christ, love his soul as though it were eternal, respect his difference as though I might be wrong, and help him find truth as though without my help he would never see thee. Because of Christ . . . amen.

matter of FACT

JANE SUTHERLIN

Recently I have become impressed with opinions from a variety of groups. Furthermore, it is usually good to know what those who are in the center of things are thinking. For these two reasons I have devoted this week's column to an interview with a distant relative of mine — Sir Gold Fish, whose present address is Harding Lily Pond.

Although Sir Fish was rather timid at first, he soon was answering my questions and even asking questions of his own.

To begin with I asked, "How do you like life at Harding?"

"Occasionally I get to feeling hemmed in, but usually it's fine."

"Are you very busy these days?"

"Practically going in circles."

"What did you think of the May Fete?"

"Oh, that getting up at six every morning kind of chawed me, but looking back—it was fun. But why did they take the bridge away? It made such a nice shade."

Then he added, "Speaking of the bridge reminds me. I didn't think mixed bathing was allowed at Harding."

"It's not. Why?"

"Well, what were all those feet doing in here the other day?" (Although I tried I never was able to make him understand that "mixed bathing" didn't include feet and fish.)

BEFORE NOVEMBER, THE CRY that was heard from the ranks of the Democrats was "Ike is a military man, therefore he does not know the first thing about economy of government. Inherently, the army teaches the spend waste cycle." Now, however, as the President is announcing an economy cut in the armed forces' money bags, the tune has changed to, "Ike is crazy to economize in the army, navy, etc. He will drastically hurt our preparedness schedule."

Dyed-in-the-wool Fair Dealers have repeatedly pointed to switches in GOP policy. That is, what Republicans are doing now as contrasted with what they said was going to be done. Yet this reversal on the part of the deflated Trumanites takes the cake.

IF ANYONE SHOULD KNOW what this country needs in the way of armed might, Eisenhower should. So when the administration delineates H. S. T.'s defense program as a crazy quilt blueprint, Americans should give the present government SOME intelligence in making the decision. The U. S. citizens, for a change, have been feeling that the activities in Washington are in really capable hands. It is not feeling caused by the winner of a popularity contest occupying the White House. But, on the other hand, the state of well being is the result of the Autonomic nervous system being in balance because someone is running the government that has a knowledge of what he is doing.

THE THREE ASIATIC WARS are being closely watched by the free nations of the world. In Malaya, the British are winning; in Indo China, the French are losing; in Korea, no one is winning and all are losing. It seems as if the Communist forces are gradually pushing forward in the continent — the loss of which would certainly be felt. The U. S., of course, will help France, but because of present commitments, the support will be minimal.

AS SENATOR WAYNE MORSE of Oregon was giving his little speech of 22½ hours, renamed grumbings were heard against the filibuster. The South, seeing their offspring backfire, simply grinned and bore it. . . MRS. ETHLYN BOTT has been chosen "Mother of the Year." For most of us, the mother of all years will be seen in a few weeks. . . THE SECOND ASSISTANT DISHWASHER IN THE BASEMENT was named as a member of a spy ring by ex-Red THOD MASON. Mason led a small group that stole secrets from General Motors. Also branded as a spy was the COUNTERMAN IN THE CAFE-TERIA.

As usual the conversation got around to the weather and I asked him if he were afraid of tornadoes.

"Tornadoes? Don't bother me a bit. Now what really gets on my nerves is the earthquakes we are always having." "Earthquakes?" We don't have earthquakes here."

"I sure hate to contradict you but I feel the earth trembling every day long about 12:25."

About this time a number of small dark fish went by and I noticed that Sir Gold Fish turned his back on them. "I never do see you Gold Fish associating with those dark fish," I remarked.

"Of course you don't! And furthermore you won't!" he exclaimed, highly insulted.

"What's wrong with them? They have eyes, mouth, fins just like you, and you all swim in the same pond."

In reply he quoted this scripture to me, "And the Lord said, 'Thou shalt not swim in a school of fish that are dark in color nor shalt thou let them swim in thy school.'" (He couldn't remember the exact chapter and verse, but I could tell he knew what he was talking about because he used "thee" and "thou.")

Sir Fish also remarked that he was very fond of the hymn sings. "They make me feel so close to everyone," he explained.

At the close of our talk I said, "You know, it is only a few weeks until school's out. Will you miss us?"

He didn't answer, but from the moisture about his eyes I could tell that he was deeply touched. So this summer if any of you have some extra time, why not drop him a line?

GATA's Brave Weather To Journey To Petit Jean For Annual Outing

By YVONNE HART

Amid gusts of icy wind and sheets of pelting rain, the GATA's and their dates embarked on their annual spring outing last Monday. Fired with hopes of a sunny afternoon, all 24 of the enthusiastic group piled into cars and set their "bright, thin faces" toward Petit Jean.

To save time, the group ate breakfast in the dining hall and were all set for a hike to the falls when they arrived. The rain stopped just long enough for them to rush down to the falls from the lodge and right back again.

The trip down the mountain was treacherous, with slippery rocks and wet leaves paving the way; but forging the streams was worse. Everyone peeled off their shoes and socks (if they used their heads) and waded across.

Huddled together before a roaring log fire in the pavilion the shivering couples enjoyed baked ham, tossed salad, potato chips, tomatoes, pickles and lemonade, with ice cream and strawberries for dessert.

Needless to say amid gusts of icy wind and sheets of pelting rain the GATA's and their dates piled into their cars to return to Searcy after lunch, their hopeful fire for sunshine quite quenched.

Those present were:

Peggy West, Gottfried Reichel; Joyce Fuller, Norman Hughes; Vernelle Wornock, John Zelnick; Marjorie Hyatt, Ken Childs; Mary Johnson, Willard Davis; Pat Rowe, Meredith Thom; Frances Smith, Jack Davis; Jeanetta Hazlet, Sammy Stout; Riekie Arimura; Joretta West; Pat Fogarty, Joe Mattox and sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Baggett.

Alpha Phi Kappa Go to Tahkodah

Monday, May 4, the Alpha Phi Kappa's and their dates journeyed to Camp Tahkodah for their annual spring outing.

The day was spent in fishing, boating and mountain climbing. At noon the group gathered around a camp fire for a lunch of barbecued beef, potato salad, tossed salad, potato chips, buns, lemonade and ice cream.

Those attending were:

Don Black, Pearl Helm; Owen Olbricht, Janet Heidebreder; Stanley Sayers, Billie Burroughs; Ralph Hartman, Florence White; Ronald Coble, Lois Coburn; Pat Dorsey, Virginia Dykes; Glenn Olbricht, Kathryn Privett; Ken Mallernee, Betty Stuart.

Johnny Figgins, Joyce Philpott; John Boggs, Jackie Hutchinson; Bob Coburn, Gracie McReynolds; Don Barkman, Margaret Buchanan; Harry Boggs, Anita Hart; Jim Smith, Frances Johns; Bill Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pitner and Martha Pitner.

Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Davis and their two children.

Junior Class Outing Held At Bee Rock

The Junior class held its last class outing of the year at Bee Rock Saturday afternoon, May 2.

Around a campsite overlooking the Little Red river and in the shadow of the bluff, the 25 class members who attended ate a plentiful meal after vigorous mountain climbing. Grilled hamburgers with lettuce and tomatoes, soft drinks and homemade cookies were provided in abundance.

Transportation was provided by class sponsor, Dr. Joe Pryor, and Harvey Stirling, Lehman Hall, Owen Olbricht and special guest Gerald Comer.

Academy Seniors Honored At Party

The 1953 seniors of the Harding Academy were the honorees at a party given by Mr. and Mrs. John Lee Dykes in the Emerald Room of the Student Center May 2.

Miniature graduation caps were given each senior and refreshments of strawberry shortcake and drinks were served. "Progressive Pit" was played and Lenora Archer won with the highest score, while Suzy Green copped the "booby prize" for the lowest score.

Those present were:

Lenora Archer, Ben Stinson; Carolyn Beacham, Bernard Brown; Pat Copeland; Finis Caldwell, Peggy Dean; Norman Dykes, Joan Fletcher, Joy Ganus, La Vera Hanes, John Burkett, Roy Henderson, Jackie Hutchison, Hugh Jackson, Jimmie Jenkins, Martha King, David Rhodes, Eddie Layman, Suzie Green, Betty Warfel, Ruth Merritt, Chester Manderschiul, Brenda Hodges and special guest, Mrs. Inez Pickens.

Mohicans' Outing At Petit Jean Park

The members of the Mohican social club and their dates journeyed to Petit Jean State Park for their annual spring outing Monday, April 27.

Upon arrival at Petit Jean, there was a race for the boats and the morning was spent boat riding.

Lunch was served at 12 o'clock. The menu consisted of steaks, potato salad, pork and beans, potato chips, punch, karo pecan pie and ice cream.

After lunch the group embarked on a visit to Cedar Falls and other interesting sites. At 4:30 the group returned to the campus.

Members attending with their dates were:

Paul Osborn, Minnie Lee Lane; Ken Shewmaker, Mary Cullen; Wil Goodheer, Warrine Bryant; James Maxwell, Ruth Maddox; Hollis Maynard, Bunny Hash; Harold Romine, Lucille Hardin; Gene Robinson, Elsie Vana; Russ McNulty, Beverly Butler; Lehman Hall, Pearl Helm; Norman Kee, Anne Bradke and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Knight.

Also attending was club sponsor, Erle T. Moore.

Sigma Tau Sigma Club Has Outing At Tahkodah

About 7:15 on Monday morning, May 4, the members of the Sigma Tau Sigma club loaded their dates into their cars and left for an outing at camp Tahkodah. They returned at 6 p.m.

At the camp hiking, boating, horseshoe playing and eating occupied most of the time. The lunch menu consisted of lemonade, hot dogs, chili, potato salad, cookies and ice cream with chocolate syrup.

The group was sponsored by Mrs. W. B. West. The couples attending were:

Leroy Alexander, Jo Ann Seay; Jerome Barnes, Joyce Stuckwisch; Carnell Brittain, Martha Burns; Weldon Hatcher, Ann Bradke; George Keifer, Joan Nance; Victor Lloyd, Nancy McDaniel; Cecil May, Jr., Polly Williams; Bobby Miller, Jenny Majors; David Porter, Amy Thompson; Bill Williams, Shirley Fisk; Bill Reed, Arlene Stamps; Ray Wilburn, Ruby Johnson. Special guest was Louise White with Benny Holland.

Harding PTA To Hold Annual Picnic Saturday

The annual spring picnic of the Harding Elementary PTA will be held Saturday, May 16, according to Mrs. George S. Benson, president.

This picnic is held each year by the PTA to raise funds to buy needed improvements for the grammar school. Tables are provided on the campus and a large assortment of foods consisting of sandwiches of roast beef, ham salad, tuna and pimento cheese; cakes, pies, stuffed eggs, salads and bottled soft drinks and ice tea.

Everyone is urged to make plans to attend this event.

Petit Jean Scene Of Fraters' Outing

On Monday, April 27, the Frater Sodalis club went to Petit Jean for their annual outing. Arriving at the boat house about 9 a.m., they spent an enjoyable morning in boats on the lake.

Lunch consisted of fried chicken and trimmings.

The afternoon was spent near the falls, climbing cliffs and wading. The club arrived back on the campus about 5:30 p.m.

Members and guests attending included:

Stan Reinhardt, Peggy Hall; Andy T. Ritchie III, Peggy Baker; Ted Morris, Mickey Price; Bill Reinhardt, Ortell Armstrong; James Vandermolen, Wilma Campbell; Dewitt Kilhnl, Demetra Lemmons; Mike Moore, Shirley Fisk; Huey Waites, Geraldine Holloway; Pete Waites.

Sponsors were Mr. and Mrs. Andy T. Ritchie, with Edward and Joan Ritchie.

The Graphic (George Pepperdine College, Los Angeles, Calif.) has come up with a list of statements and their actual translations. The reporter tells what professors state to students and then gives his translation of what they actually mean.

Statement—"Let us not go to extremes in this matter."
Translation — I am uninterested in the problem. I prefer not to do anything at all about it.

The students at Mount Union College (Ohio) decided to do something for their professors.

They initiated a "Be kind to Professors Week." Here are some of the don'ts they decided upon.

Don't take off your shoes in class unless your mother has darned your socks recently.

Don't hold hands with your "true love" in the classroom. It makes life difficult for the seven people sitting between you.

Don't take notes on a typewriter. This is terribly distracting to the students trying to sleep.

Some Longfellow at the Northeastern News in Boston, Massachusetts penned an "Ode to a Grade Slip."

Oh, beautiful for letter-grades That surely must be lies;

Thy Symbolism always hits Me right between the eyes.

Thermometer of intellect, My marks they worry me;

They crown me dumb And make me numb,

From "C" to shining "C."

Fraters Elect Officers For '53-54 School Year

On Monday, April 13, the Frater Sodalis club, elected officers for the 1953-54 term. Those chosen include:

Huey Waites, president; Andy Ritchie III, vice-president; Bill Reinhardt, secretary; Doyle Border, treasurer; Mike Moore, reporter. The new officers will also serve for the remainder of this school year.

The University of Minnesota paper reports that probably the most unnecessary bit in instruction appears on the back of training checks issued to bets attending schools on the GI bill. It reads:

"It is suggested that this check be promptly negotiated."

In a recent public speaking class Dr. Ziebarth was commenting on a student speech on the controversy, "Cremation vs. Earthly Burial."

"It would be a grave error indeed . . ." he unintentionally said as he opened his remarks.

Student ratings of their teachers often give valuable information that aids the instructor in improving his methods. But when one professor saw a grade of "poor" for not bringing his course up to date, he stared at it blankly for a moment, then raised one eyebrow.

STUDENTS DISAPPROVE

College students overwhelmingly disapprove of enrollment policies which discriminate against Negroes, according to the Associate Press National Poll of Student Opinion.

Students from all sections of the country were asked: What is your opinion of college policies which state that Negroes may not enroll there? Here are the results:

Approve	17%
Disapprove	76%
No opinion	5%
Other	2%

Students in the South are more evenly split on the question, but show a clear-cut majority against segregation. Here's the comparison between North and South:

Approve	5%	33%
Disapprove	90%	53%
No opinion	4%	7%
Other	1%	5%

Independents Win Track And Field Meet; Vols Belt Chicks 9-To-4 For First Victory

Reid Bush Is High With 18 Points

MAY 6 — Reid Bush racked up a total of 18 points in the track and field events today as he led the Independents to an easy victory over the remaining contenders. The Independents went for a total of 47½ points, while the next contending Koinonia club could only produce 27.4 points. Bush also set a new record as he went over the 6' ½" mark in the high jump event to better the old record of 5' 8" previously held by Hugh Rhodes. Bush, in racking up his 18 points, finished first in the high jump, broad jump, and helped bring his team in first in the 880 yard relay. He finished second in the 100 yard dash, shot put and his team came in second in the mile relay.

Don Brown came in second for scoring honors with 15½ points for the Koinonias. Brown finished first in the 100 yard dash at '10.8 to better his last year mark of '12. He also finished first in the shot put with 43' 9", and the 220 yard dash in '27.1, four seconds over his last year mark. He picked up his other ½ point in the mile relay.

Another feature attraction for the day was Les Richesin finishing first in the mile run for the fourth straight year. His timing for today was 5 '33.4. His best timing was last year when he finished in 4 '43.

The 100 yard dash, by Brown, and the half mile which was won by Frank Davidson, Koinonia, at 2 '22 were not records, but they were both considered to be very good speed since they were run on a wet grass track.

The Mohicans finished in third place, led by Lehman Hall's 12.2 points to boost the team to 22.5, while the Sub-T's edged into fourth place with 12 points. In fifth place was the Lambda Sigma with 11.7 points, sixth place went to the Alpha Phi Kappa with 11 points, seventh went to Delta Iotas with eight points, in eighth place Frater Sodalis 3.2, ninth place Galaxy two points, and in tenth place was the Tri Sigma Delta with two points.

In the girls' events the Tri-Kappas took first place honors with 20.5 points, while the Omega Phi's finished second with 16 points. Third place went to WHC with 13.5 points, fourth Delta Chi Omega 13 points, fifth Las Companeras five points, sixth Ju Gu three points, and seventh place went to the Regina with two points.

Mary Burton was high scorer in the girls' events with 13 points. She finished first in the 50 yard dash at '7.2 and first place in the broad jump with 13' 9". She picked up her other three points in the base run.

Contending for high point honors was Polly Williams with 11 points. She picked up first place in the 220 yard walk, second place in the 50 yard dash, fourth place in broad jump, and she picked up her other two points on the base run and the 440 yard relay.

FINAL RESULTS:

Half mile run—First Davidson (2 '22), Koinonia; second Richesin, Mohicans; third, Olan Hanes, Independent; fourth, Verlin Vaughn, Galaxy.

100 yard dash: Brown ('10.8), Koinonia; second, Bush, Independent; third, C. L. Cox, Sub-T 16; and fourth, Andy Ritchie, Frater Sodalis.

Girls' 50 yard dash: Burton ('7.2), Delta Chi Omega; second, Williams, WHC, third, Mary Ruth Herrin, Tri Kappa; and fourth, Marjorie McGinnis, Omega Phi.

Shot Put: Brown (43' 9"); second, Bush; third, Lowell Blankenship, Delta Iota; and fourth,

Starling, Chicks Hand Pelicans 2nd Loss Of Season 4-1

MAY 6 — Harvey Starling cut down the Pelicans with a sharp three-hit one-run performance as he posted a 4-1 victory for the Chicks in a minor league clash today, highlighting Track and Field Day at Harding College.

Only three batters got as far as second base for the Pelicans as Starling quieted the Pel's bats. He gave up one walk and struck out five. The lone Pelican run was unearned as a result of two errors in the sixth inning.

The Pelicans, playing without their captain and regular catcher Lee Miller, who was injured in warmup play, couldn't get going as they suffered their second loss.

The win gave the fourth place Chicks' pennant hopes a shot in the arm, but knocked the Pelicans out of a first place tie with the Barons to a tie for second with the Travelers. The Chicks have now won two and lost 3 for a .400 percentage.

The victory came after a shake-up by captain Rex Davis. James Hearn was moved from first to third, James Heydenreich was shifted from third to catcher, Rex Davis moved from catcher to short, Don Underwood switched from short to left field and Demsey Tomlinson moved in from the field to play first.

Pelican pitcher, John Hillis, limited the Chicks to six hits but four came in the fifth frame and resulted in two runs. However, only one of the four runs were earned as the Pelican fielders made seven errors. Hillis gave up four runs, six hits, walked two and struckout 12.

In the first Ken Noland grounded out to third, Kusano struckout, Hillis was safe on an error and Perrin hit into a fielder's choice, forcing Hillis at second for the third out.

For the Pelicans in the second Waters collected a single but was Hillis gave up a blooper hit to Heydenreich, but struckout the next three batters to end the inning.

Hillis made it four in a row as he struckout Burchfield and Hearn in the Chicks' half of the third. Davis was safe on an error by the third baseman, but Harvey Starling popped out to short as the frame ended.

Starling gave up two hits in the top of the fourth but the Pelicans were unable to score, leaving Morris and Waters, who had singled, stranded on base.

Hall Pitches Two-Hitter; Gets Four

MAY 7—Leo Hall, Vol moundsman, pitched a brilliant two-hit masterpiece, and singled four times in as many trips to the plate to lead the climbing Vols to a 9 to 4 win over Rex Davis' Chicks.

The winless Vols jumped on Davis for a run in the first inning, when Ken Snyder singled, stole second and scored on Vol Pilot, John Funk's single.

The Chicks, however, were first to break into the scoring column as Davis walked, Harvey Starling doubled, Demsey Tomlinson walked to load the bases and Don Underwood singled. The payoff blow netted the Chicks two runs.

The Chicks tallied in the second, when Davis again started the rally by drawing a walk from Hall. Tomlinson was hit by a pitch to put him on and James Heydenreich walked to capitalize on Hall's momentary wildness. With the bases loaded, Davis scored on a catcher's miscue throw into center field. Meanwhile, on the defensive aspect of the game, Davis continued to hurl winning ball.

In the top of the third, Don Underwood drew a free pass, and subsequently scored on Davis' fielder's choice.

Without the fourth inning, the outcome might have been different for the Chicks, but Hall had visions of victory in his eyes as he stepped up and lined his second hit—a line single into right-center field. Kent Rollman moved Hall down to second and took first himself, when his bouncing ball got away from the first-baseman.

Ken Snyder sent Hall scampering home with a fly ball to left field on which Starling the short-fielder, collided. Gene Robinson walked to keep things going and Funk stepped up to take his cut at the slants of Davis. That was when the roof fell in. Funk cut loose and clouted a terrific drive that landed in Blakney Road to clear the bases.

Pete Ward waited out Davis and took first on a charity pass, and Cox went to first via a second base error. Hall started the second go-round with his third single to drive in another run, but Rollman fanned to end the inning.

Red Sox Outlast Tigers In 5-4 Tilt

By HARVEY STARLING
MAY 1 — Dale Porterfield's two run single, which scored John Zelnick and Kenny French in the top half of the fifth, gave the Red Sox a 5-to-4 lead which they held to the end to give them their third win against three losses. The Tiger loss dropped them deeper into the cellar with what looks like no hopes of climbing out.

Lehman Hall started on the hill in today's May Day tilt, but was relieved by Bobby Camp in the third.

The Tigers got a run in the first off Hall and another in the second. French and Doyle Border tallied in the second to make it 2-2 at the end of two frames.

Second Red Sox hitter in the third, Bobby Camp, singled, went to second on Walt Nelms infield out, and crossed the plate on French's blow to left center. Border reached first on an error, but Zelnick forced him at second to end the inning.

The never-die Tigers bounced back with one to tie it up in their half of the third. It was Harry Olree who scored on Leonard Hall's single after he had clashed a double to begin the inning.

Dick Otey struck out to begin the fourth for the Tigers and Benny Sanders flied to left, but Bob Brown doubled and Harry Olree slammed a triple to score Brown and give the Tigers a 4-3 lead.

The fifth frame was the inning for the Red Sox and successive hits by Zelnick and Porterfield, two of the Red Sox five for the afternoon, gave the Sox the 5-4 win.

Roe And Indians Get First Loss; Camp Gives Red Sox 2-1 Victory By Limiting Tribe Bats To Two Hits

MAY 6—Bob Camp pitched a masterful two-hitter for the Red Sox to upset J. C. Roe and the league leading Indians 2-1 in a major league game today.

It was the first defeat of the season for the first place Indians who had not lost a previous game. The defeat was also the first for J. C. Roe, ace pitcher in the major league. Roe had previously won four straight games.

Handicapped by an eight man lineup, Roe gave up only four hits which were spaced nicely, but five errors paved the way for two fatal unearned runs. Roe gave up a total of two runs, four hits, walked one and struckout 13.

Bob Camp pitched his best game of the year in besting Roe. He gave up only two hits and allowed only three men to reach third base. Although the Indians managed to get a man on base in five of the innings, Camp was never in serious trouble. He gave up one run, four hits, walked one and struckout seven.

Jimmy Allen, captain and catcher of the Indians provided the thrill of the day when he stepped into a pitch that went lower than Camp intended, and pounded it out of reach of the center fielder's head for a tremendous home run. Wayland Wilkerson collected the only other hit off Camp as he polled a Texas-Leaguer over second.

Don Johnston stepped into two of Roe's pitches for solid hits, in the first and third innings. Ralph Moore followed Johnston in the first with a single and Pitcher Bob Camp came through with a single in the third.

Don Johnston opened the first inning for the Red Sox with a clean base hit. He went to second as Ralph Moore singled, but died there as Roe struck out Hugh Groover, Bob Camp and Kenny French in succession.

Jimmy Allen teed off on a low pitch by Camp and pounded the ball for a round tripper to open the second and score a run for the Indians. Glen Wallace bounced out to shortstop Ray Boarder, Jim McAuley and Wayland Wilkerson fanned to end the second. The Reds hit pay dirt in the third frame as Dale Porterfield bounced out short to first and Don Johnston lined a single over second, to put a man on first. Moore hit a grounder and was safe as the first baseman erred on the try for a double play as Johnston was out at second. Groover was safe as the second baseman booted the ball on an easy play that would have been the third out. Moore scored on the play and Groover crossed the plate for the second run of the inning as Bob Camp punched out a single. French struckout.

Allen got as far as third base in the fourth for the Indians but died there as Wallace popped to third and McAuley and Wilkerson both bounced out short to first.

In the sixth the Indians were again stymied as Wallace was out on a ground ball to the pitcher, McAuley struckout, Wilkerson punched the second hit off Camp and the left fielder caught Davidson's fly ball for the third out.

Roe struckout Camp, French and Nelms after Groover got on base by way of an error in the Sox' half of the sixth inning. In the seventh he struckout Border and Zelnick, walked Porterfield and got Moore to ground out to third to end the batting for the Red Sox.

Camp had no trouble from the Indians in the last frame as Harness bounced out to the pitcher, Roe struckout and Berryhill flew out to center to end the game.

Arnold And Wright Take Tennis Title From Moore And Olree

MAY 5—Jack Arnold and Ray Wright finished off the men's tennis doubles tournament today in grand style as they went the entire tennis tournament, coming out on top of every set.

In the finals today it was Arnold and Wright over Ralph Moore and Harry Olree 6-1, 6-3, and 6-4, as the boys took the crown in easy style.

In the final match Wright and Arnold played a smooth and easy game. They were never under pressure, and, therefore, never had to display the top performance that both men are capable of playing.
