THE HARDING BISON

"LIBERTY IS FOUND IN DOING RIGHT"

VOLUME XXVII No. 24

THE HARDING BISON, SEARCY, ARKANSAS

MAY 15, 1954

Vision Films Premiere Scheduled Monday

Monday evening at 8:30 a worship program on Christian education will be conducted. The Vision Films production of "The Jailer of Philippi" will have its first public showing along with another experiment, "Christ Before Pilate." The Vision Films chorus under the direction of Andy Ritchie, III, will also appear on the program.

"The Jailer of Philippi" is a religious experimental movie which depicts the story of Paul and Silas as they are thrown into prison in Philippi — then released by an earthquake. They then convert the jailer to Christ and baptize him with all his household as is recorded in Acts 16.

Playing leads in the movie are Reid Bush, Bob Morgan, Al Petrich, Meredith Thom, Lloyd Smith, Maxine Richesin, Bax Walker, Jim Tuttleton, Billy Dixon and Ed Ritchie. Narration is done by Andy Ritchie, Bush, and Pat Rowe.

Charles Pittman wrote the narration and arranged the scripture used. Background music includes "Faith of Our Fathers," "Out of My Bondage," "A Mighty Fortress," "Art Thou Weary" and "A Wonderful Savior."

"Christ Before Pilate" is an experiment in color-slide photography with narration and musical background giving a realistic and beautiful effect.

Models for the slides were Claude Danley, Charles Hare, Jim Hayes, Tuttleton, Miss Rowe, Ed Ritchie, Lyman Turley, Ken Noland and Ronnie McCurry. Photography was handled by Carrel Eades and Benny Holland directed the staging. A black and white series was photographed by Weldon Hatcher. Background music includes "O Sacred Head," "Were You There When They Crucified My Lord" and "Nocturne."

The Vision Films chorus, which was formed to provide background music for "Jailer of Philippi," is one of the highlights of the movie. Under the direction of Ritchie, the chorus will present a unique program of hymns with the theme "My Redeemer." No admission will be charged.

"Bohemian Girl" Climaxes Year's Lyceum Programs

Climaxing the year's lyceum series was Balfe's opera, "The Bohemian Girl," presented in the large auditorium last night. Prof. Kenneth Davis directed the production.

The opera featured soprano Carlene Brown in the lead role as Arline, "The Bohemian Girl." Playing opposite her as Thaddeus was tenor Morgan Richardson.

Others in the main cast were Joe Lewis, baritone, as Count Arnheim; Leon Sanderson, tenor, as Florestein; Sam Haynes, baritone, as Devilshoof; mezzo-soprano Darlene Rhodes portrayed the Queen of the Gypsies; and Bob Cross, baritone, was Captain of the Guard.

These principals were supported by a chorus of approximately 40 others. The carnival characters were played by Marian Rawlings, Meredith Thom and Jim Hayes.

Donna Zinzer and Prof. Glenn Fulbright were accompanists for the entire opera. Davis was assisted by Wanda Wiley as stage Director.

The members of the opera were dressed in colorful costumes characteristic of the gypsies and noblemen of that time. The costumes were shipped from Memphis for the production.

Technical director for the opera was Thom. Pat Stine was in charge of costumes; properties were collected by Tommie Potter, Ruth Long and Johnice Young; Weldon Hatcher served as house manager; make-up was under the direction of Charles Hare and Benny Holland; and the lighting was done by Charles Pittman.

"The tremendous effort expended in preparing such a production is amply repaid in the variety of experiences derived by all the participants," Davis commented.

Early Harding History Being Published Here

A. S. Croom, Harding College business manager, has recently sent to press a book that he has compiled on the early history of Harding.

The book, entitled "The Early History of Harding College," will go on sale June 1 at $2 per copy. Croom spent some four years in the process of compiling the history which will be informative to anyone connected with the college.

Croom served as president of Arkansas Christian College from 1922 through 1924. Before returning to Harding as business manager in 1949, Croom spent 18 years preaching, teaching and selling insurance.

Magee, Nance Run-Off Victors; Noland Is Veep By Narrow Margin

By LEON GLEASON

Paul Magee, Piggott junior, capturing the lead in the Student Council primary election, kept the pace going to win the run-off election Friday morning defeating Gene Rainey, junior from Pinehurst, Texas, for the presidency of the Harding Student Council Association.

Magee defeated Rainey for the office of president by a vote of 257 to 190. Magee and Rainey were the two high men in a four-cornered race for the position following the election Wednesday. Don Brown and Weldon Hatcher were eliminated in the first go-round of elections.

Joan Nance, Newport, won the run-off election for the secretary-treasurer post of the Association as she defeated Betty Helm, Wenatchee Wash., 259 to 196 votes. Jane Claxton was eliminated from that race in the Wednesday primary.

Veep Race

In the veep race, Ken Noland, Morrilton, edged past Tommy Parrish, New Orleans, La., by the slim margin of two votes. The count was so close that the election officials counted the votes three times to assure a correct count, stated Norman Hughes, out-going prexy of the council.

Other retiring officers for this year are Bob Gilliam, vice-president, and Nancy McDaniel, secretary-treasurer.

Magee is Bible Major

Magee is a Bible major and a member of the Delta Iota social club. A junior history major, Noland is president of the Delta Iota social club, past president of FTA, first vice-president of State FTA, a member of small chorus, Campus Players and IRC. Miss Nance is a junior majoring in chemistry. She is a member of the Omega Phi social club.

Hughes, in commenting on the election stated that he was gratified with the interest that was shown in the campaign by the student body and feels assured that much constructive work will be done by the Student Association next year under the direction of the new officers.

A program will be held in chapel at an early date at which time the new officers will be installed. The new officers will take office the day following the end of the spring semester.

Council Accomplishments

In discussing the council's accomplishments for the year, Hughes considered the submitting of a list of nominees to Who's Who; suggestions concerning improvements such as sidewalks, wastebaskets, etc.; discussion of social regulations; efforts in getting the Emerald Room kept open on Saturday nights for social purposes; and their discussion with the North Central co-ordinator as accomplishments of importance.

The highlight of the year's accomplishments was the sponsoring of the pep-rally for the model UN delegation on the eve of its trip to Nashville, Tenn., to attend the model UN Convention, Hughes said.

Lloyd Smith Elected Campus Players Prexy

The last Campus Player's meeting of the year featured Poe's "The Tale-Tale Heart" directed by Charles Hare. After the program, retiring president Charles Pittman called for election of officers for the next academic year.

Newly elected president is Lloyd Smith; vice-president is Charles Hare; secretary-treasurer is Jeanne Bankston; and point-keeper is Martha Burns.

Other retiring officers are: Cecil May, Jr., vice-president; Pat Rowe, secretary-treasurer; and Mary Etta Grady, point-keeper.

Seven Are Added To Faculty; Three Return to Campus

Dean L. C. Sears released a tentative list of new faculty members this week for the coming year. Seven persons have been added to the faculty and three others are returning faculty members.

James Gordon Burrow, an addition to the history department, will complete his work for his Ph.D. at the University of Illinois this summer. He received his M.A. from the University of South Carolina where he was part time instructor in 1946-47. Burrow has been an active preacher for many years.

Pattie Jo Fenn who is now assistant professor of business at George Pepperdine College, will be in the business department here next year. She also has been an instructor at Berea College and David Lipscomb College. She received her B.S. from Bowling Green College of Commerce and her M.A. from Peabody.

Another addition to the department of economics and business is Joseph Dudley Fenn, who is also now on the Pepperdine faculty and is head of the business department. He received his B.A. degree from Harding in 1930 and later returned here to teach for one year. While serving as professor of business administration at Lipscomb from 1931 to 1936, he earned his M.A. at Vanderbilt.

Returning to the business department is James Hedrick, who has received his Ed.D. degree from North Texas State College. He has been away on a leave of absence this year.

Two new members will be brought to the Bible department, Andy T. Ritchie, Jr. and Jack Pearl Lewis. Ritchie, who was previously in the music department here, is completing his work for a M.A. at Scarritt College in Nashville, Tenn.

Lewis is a graduate of Abilene Christian College and received his M.A. from Sam Houston State Teachers College in 1944. After completing work for his Ph.D. at Harvard, he did advanced graduate work at Hebrew Union College from 1951 to 1954. He has been minister for the church in Covington, Ky., for a number of years.

Erle T. Moore, who has been on leave to work on his Ph.D. at Columbia University, has now completed that work and is returning to head the music department next year.

In the chemistry department, William D. Williams will replace Exum D. Watts who has resigned to accept a position in the Teachers College in Murfreesboro, Tenn. Williams received his B.A. from Harding in 1950 and is now completing work for his Ph.D. at the University of Kentucky where he is part time instructor.

Thomas A. Olbricht, who has completed most of his work for his Ph.D. at the University of Iowa, will fill a position in the Harding speech department.

An addition to the art department will be Herbert P. Dean who received his B.A. degree from Harding in 1953. He has been doing graduate Bible work here this year.

Lyceum Series Planned For Next Year Announced

Plans have just been completed for the Harding College Concert Series for 1954-1955, Evan Ulrey, chairman of lyceum committee, announced this week.

Five major attractions will be brought to Harding for this series. Among them will be Rosemary Kuhlmann, mezzo-soprano. Miss Kuhlmann is a pupil of Mennotti, has made several appearances on radio and television and is a graduate of Juliard School of Music.

Another outstanding attraction will be the Columbus Boy Choir, directed by Hubert Huffman, Princeton, N. J. The choir is composed of 26 boys from the ages of nine to 14 who travel extensively during the concert season. On their bus are folding desks, a piano, and a public address system, which enables them to carry on with their schooling while they travel.

The choir presents programs composed of numbers from Palestrina to Gershwin, from Tyrolese Folk Songs to Negro Spirituals, and from Latin Motets to Boogie Woogie.

The world famous Salzburg Marionette Theater, directed by Herman Aicher, is one of the most unique attractions. The Salzburg group has puppets three and one-half feet high with a portable stage 27 feet long, 3 feet deep, and 12 feet high. The hand-carved puppets have beautiful authentic costumes and stage lighting.

"We are most fortunate to be able to get this most famous of all puppet theaters," Ulrey stated.

The Dallas Symphony Orchestra, to appear in the spring, is perhaps the leading symphony of the South and Southwest. The orchestra is composed of 60 musicians under the baton of Walter Hendl. This will be the first time Harding has secured a full symphony orchestra for the series.

Pianist Philippe Entremont, prodigy of France will present the last of the 1954-1955 concerts, is touring the United States for the second time.

He has won the Grand Prize of city of Paris. He has appeared in Carnegie Hall and was the visiting artist for Enter-Change Program of the National Music League and the Jeunesses Musicals de France.

Students of Harding College will be admitted to these programs on their activity tickets.

Harding Choral Trip

The Harding Chorale will leave this afternoon for a short weekend chorus trip. Director Kenneth Davis will accompany them.

Their stops will include Walnut Ridge, Poplar Bluff, Mo., and Newport. The group will return to the campus Sunday night.

News, Views & Previews

By DUANE McCAMPBELL

Lewis Strauss, now chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, turned in a recommendation that the A.E.C. start work on a superbomb soon after the discovery that Russia had the A-bomb. The scientists on the commission rejected it on the grounds that the research would be an uncertain expensive gamble. It would take away from the A-bomb program and it was morally wrong. They said the U.S. should try to agree with Russia on out-lawing the A-bomb rather than to develop any other weapons.

Despite this rejection, President Truman in 1950 ordered the A.E.C. to start work on the Hydrogen bomb. Even this did not stop the opposition. The order was given in January, but nothing was done until July. As late as 1952, the scientists with Dr. Opperheimer as their spokesman, presented plans to abolish the H-bomb.

Because of this delay, it took us seven years to invent the H-bomb, while it took Russia only four. This has caused many people to wonder how safe we are in trusting secrets to scientists as stated by Representative Cole (Rep., N.Y.):

"There is no system which can assure 100 per cent effectiveness against traitors. This may indicate that the next McCarthy investigations will be directed to the A.E.C."

What caused the delay in the development of the H-bomb? For several months after the discovery that Russia had an A-bomb, our government held back the development of the H-bomb, even though it was in the realm of probability.

McCarthy asked this question during a television broadcast a few weeks ago. He called the delay deliberate and asked "who caused it? Were they loyal Americans or traitors in our government?"

This statement set off a chain reaction especially among those who took part in the 1949-50 dispute over whether or not to make the H-bomb. As a result, we are gradually finding the truth from official records. Everyone connected agrees that there was some delay in starting, because there were men in many key positions who opposed development of the H-bomb. These men opposed the bomb for a variety of reasons such as moral, scientific and financial ones. It took five months to overcome these objections.

The ones who most bitterly fought this development were David Lillenthal, then the A.E.C. chairman and Oppenheimer, one of the world's foremost physicists. The one who fought them the hardest was Strauss.

Matter of Fact

By JANE SUTHERLIN

For the benefit of those who will be taking exams next week (and who has a choice in the matter?) the following words of wisdom have been picked out.

All wish to be learned, but no one is willing to pay the price.—Juvenal.

Making the most of today is the

How can we make life more pleasant for others?

We can smile more and be more pleasant. How discouraging it is to speak to some one and be confronted with a "fish-eye freeze." How would we feel if every effort at friendliness were thus rewarded? Let us be the ones to spread cheer with more smiles.

We can be more willing to help others. Each of us could probably use twelve more hours each day. In spite of this shortage of time, it seems that the busiest are always the most willing to help. Maybe it's nothing more than taking a few minutes to talk with some one to let them know that you are still his friend. Possibly some one desires our advice or sympathy. All these are little things that mean so much.

We can be more considerate of others. It is hard to realize when we are in the halls of the dorms that every sound we make carries and is magnified in every room. Singing, whistling, talking and even yelling are alright in the proper setting; but they are disturbing to dorm residents.

IF YOU ASK ME

By JANE CLAXTON

Do you think campaigning makes for a better election and why?

Winfred Wright — Yes, I think it makes the one elected feel a greater sense of duty.

Pat Stine — Yes, because it puts some spirit into things on the campus.

Jay Byerley — Yes, if they are carried out in a proper way without arousing any animosity.

Joanne Hartman — I think it is a good idea because many students would not know who is running or anything about the candidates.

Rex Davis — Yes, it adds a few more interesting activities to campus life.

Lucretia Cooper — I certainly do. It wouldn't be much of an election without campaigning.

Walt Gilfilen — Yes, the candidate has a chance to get his name before the students so they will know more about who and what they're voting for.

Jane Russell — It's a good idea because in this way you can actively get into the spirit of the election.

Sam Haynes — But definitely — If it weren't for campaigning, we wouldn't know who was running for what. And too, it brings the school spirit out into the open.

Ila Sanders — Yes, in that it gives everyone a chance to find out what each candidate stands for.

Don England — Of course, campaigning publicizes the candidates and their platforms, giving the voters reason to decide for or against them.

Phyllis Robertson — Yes, because it creates more competition and the student body has a chance to know the candidates better.

Surely we think enough of others to be especially quiet until we enter our rooms and close our doors.

We can be more appreciative of the good things others do for us. There are a multitude of people we should be grateful to both here and at home. Let's praise them while it will do some good. We can also be appreciative for the common courtesies people do for us every day.

We can be more encouraging. If we see a job will done, let us praise the one who has done the work. Encouragement is probably even more important to some one who has made a failure than to the successful. Let us hasten and help the person on to success.

We can be more cooperative. There are many jobs that can not be done by one person alone. Consequently, we are forced to ask others to help us. What a joy it is when people are eager and willing to help in any and every strainway. When others need our help let us cooperate.

We can be more dependable. After we have agreed to help some one at a task, let us strain every nerve to be there to help at the right time. We can make our professor's job much more easy if we do our assignments as are supposed to.

We can be less critical of others. Let us know assuredly that we have plenty faults of our own. We would fall down and plead for mercy if we were put on the firing line as we put others there. The sad thing about it is that the behind-your-back criticism we indulge in harms us and certainly does no good.

Conversely, we can find good things to praise about a person when we feel the urge to criticize.

The acts enumerated are just a few ways in which the Golden Rule can be applied. "Therefore all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them: for this is the law and the prophets."

Week's Thought

We can't expect much in the to wait for off hours to serve way of a spiritual life if we have our fellow men. In our off hours most of us are either too tired or too old to be good for much.

If the spiritual life can't be a part of everyday life, and if we can't think honestly when we are dealing with material things, then business is an occupation fit for crooks only.

best way to be ready for tomorrow. (Actually, the best way is to have made the most of the last 17 weeks.)

You can't keep trouble from coming, but you needn't give it a chair to sit on. (A hint to those who entertain visitors while studying.)

Success depends on backbone, not wishbone.

Wear your learning like your watch, in a private pocket; and do not pull it out and strike it, merely to show that you have one. — Chesterfield.

Now when the tests are over, remember:

If what might have been isn't, why worry about it?

It is better to play than to do nothing.

Last, but not least: (since these seem appropriate anytime.)

Quarrels would never last long if the fault were on one side only.

There are two opposite ways by which some men make a figure in the world—one, by talking faster than they think, and the other, by holding their tongues and not thinking at all.—Washington Irving.

In any controversy the instant we feel anger we have already ceased striving for truth, and have begun striving for ourselves.—Carlyle.

"As I was saying, this was certainly a dirty campaign."

Editorializing—

Just Plain Politics

Harding has just witnessed a campaign and election of officers for the Student Association.

And, as observers, we have witnessed an unusual election.

First, it is a hard thing to run against a friend. You are afraid of hurting the other fellow's feelings, and too, you don't want that other person to think less of you for your campaign against him — and vice-versa.

Christian spirit has displayed itself during these days of campaigning, as nominees have stated in their speeches and otherwise that they realize the other person can do a good job; and if he is the best candidate, may he win. Harding has definitely shown her true colors as having Christian ideals and standards.

It isn't difficult to let a campaign turn into a mud-slinging contest, but none of this sort of thing has shown itself around our campus. And we believe this is something of which to be proud. We want to commend the student council nominees for their excellent job of campaigning and the manner in which it was carried on. True, it could have been longer and louder, but we will say it sufficed.

Also, you of the student body and not just the candidates played an important role in the recent election. You are the ones to whom the campaigning was directed, and your response showed that the campaigning was effective. Here's a "pat on the shoulder" for showing more "spirit" in getting out and casting that vote.

The importance of your vote was stressed by the two-ballot difference between Ken Noland and Tommy Parrish. There would have been a tie for the veep post had two votes cast for Parrish been signed.

We will also point out that you have elected these officers, and it is your duty to stand behind them. It will be a big job to carry out all the responsibilities which you have placed on these person's shoulders by electing them. Remember, they can do a much better job with your support all during their term and not just at election time.

Bison Staff Puts Out Country EatDition

The Bison staff put out a "Country EatDition" Saturday evening, May 8, at Camp Wylewood in the form of an informal dinner.

The welcome was extended by Desk Chief Jennie Schoolfield, and the invocation was directed by Herman West.

Materials for the eatdition consisted of chicken-in-the-rough, baked beans, cole slaw, butter rolls, iced tea and ice cream served on tables covered with newsprint. Individual places were marked with lead slugs.

Proofreader Gene Rainey headed the entertainment with his relation of several quirks to the profession. This was followed by a TV show, "Straight Arrow," presented by the sports staff.

The speaker for the evening was Bradford Govan, Melbourne, editor of the "Melbourne Times."

Presntation of letters earned this year was made by sponsor Neil Cope to Miss Schoolfield, Betty Helm, Toady Bedford, Dewey Brown, Jane Claxton, Leon Gleason, Jackie King, Elta Starling, Mary Ann Whitaker, Weldon Hatcher, Lawrence Crawford, Dickie Burt, Richard Gee, Glenn Organ and Gil Truitt.

Other staff members and guests present were:

Shirley Harvey, Lehman Hall; Foy Carrington, Sue Daugherty; Jo Mattox, Jackie King; Toady Bedford, Pat Trigg; Dale Porterfield; Norma Knod; Ernestine Latterner; Ronnie McCurry, Gracie Fry; Leo Ford, Maxine Richesin, Owen Olbricht; Jane Brummitt, Dewey Brown; Dickie Burt, Jan Myers, Marilyn Garrett, Eddie Baker; Don Brown, JoAnne King; Wilma Wyatt, Gene Rainey; Billie Dixon, Marion Baker; Leon and Grace Gleason; Mr. and Mrs. Neil Cope; Mr. and Mrs. Herman West; Mr. and Mrs. Evan Ulrey; and Bradford Govan.

Eileen Snure Weds Walter Dale April 16

The wedding of Eileen Estelle Snure, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Snure, Hamilton, Ontario, to Walter, Pine Grove, Ontario, was solemnized April 16 at 3 p.m. at the Church of Christ in Hamilton.

Fred Smart, Toronto, assisted by George Snure, brother of the bride, officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina-length dress of deep ivory chantilly lace with matching bandeau headdresses with seed pearls. She carried white orchids arranged with streamers on a white Bible.

Miss Snure's attendants were attired in dresses of harmonizing shades of aqua, the same length and with matching bandeau haddresses. Her attendants were Mrs. Edward Rawlings, sister of the bride; Miss Lila Hoover, a cousin, both of whom carried Lestef Hibbard roses and junior bridesmaid Carol Ann Dale, daughter of the groom, carried pink sweat peas.

Bert Dale served as best man for his brother. Ushers were Victor Dale and Lester Greer, both of Toronto.

A reception, held in the dining room of the church, was attended by about 90 guests. Leaving on a honeymoon trip to the southern United States, the bride wore a grey-blue suit with white hat and navy accessories. Her flower was an orchid.

The couple will live in Nashville next year. Mrs. Dale will serve as a member of the speech staff at David Lipscomb College while Mr. Dale will resume his studies to finish his B.A. degree.

Club Outings

Omega Phi

A day at Camp Tahkodah was spent by the Omega Phi's and their guests May 10. Leaving the campus early Monday morning, the group arrived at Tahkodah to spend the morning hiking, playing horseshoes and exploring.

Lunch was a climax of the morning's activities as the girls prepared southern fried chicken, combination salad, potato salad, bread, lemonade, and brownies for the hungry group.

The afternoon activities included more hiking, a "hot" softball game, boating and fishing. Those on the outing were:

Carole Jarrard, Johnny Figgins; Jennie Schoolfield, Bob Cross; Joan Nance, Ronald Coble; Norma Knod, Jesse Keathley; Norma Knod, Bob Purdom; Shirley Blake, Bob Blake; Martha Burns, Charles Grubbs; Hellen Yohe, Cecil Alexander; Wilmae Parker, Joe Darrah; Ernestine Latterner, Mike Moore; Margie McGinnis, Reid Bush;

Ju Go Ju

Six o'clock, Monday morning April 10, was the time of departure for 17 Ju Go Ju's and their guests as they left for Petit Jean State Park on their spring outing.

After stopping for breakfast in Conway, the group was prepared for the various hikes and activities in which they participated throughout the day.

"Time off" was taken again at noon, however, for a feast of fried chicken, potato salad, baked beans, lemonade and strawberries with ice cream.

Members and guests attending were:

Norma Bawcom, Jerry Broderick; Mary Hill, Doyle Helms; Shirley Cutting, Benny Sanders; Janice Redwine, Don Cope; Dolores McBride, Jay Byerley; Jeanne Bankston, Bill Grisham.

Rita Jo Baldwin, Kenny Perrin; Marion Stephens, Leon Sanderson; Betty Leopard, Owen Olbricht; Jane Sutherland, Paul Summitt; Rosemary Philpott, Knox Summitt; Barbara Richards, Rex Davis.

Special guests and sponsors were Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Beck.

May Shower Honors Miss Patsy Burch

A miscellaneous shower honoring Miss Patsy Burch, bride-elect of Troy Cannon, Henrietta, Okla., was held in the F. W. Mattox home Wednesday night.

Hostesses Mrs. Mattox and Misses Annie May Alston, Lucretia Farrar and Hellen Yohe welcomed the guests at the door. The guests were then shown Miss Burch's gifts which were on display.

The bride-to-be was attired in a purple and black taffeta dress. She wore a white carnation corsage which was a gift of the hostesses.

The refreshment table was overlaid with a lace cloth, while the centerpiece was an arrangement of pink roses and mock orange flanked by a half circle of burning candles.

The crystal punch service was placed at one end of the table. Mrs. Guy Vanderpool poured. Danity refreshments served were mixed nuts, punch and an assortment of decorative cookies.

Approximately 40 guests called during the evening. Miss Burch, assistant librarian at Harding, plans a June wedding.

Tri-Kappa

Petit Jean State Park's scenic beauty and recreational facilities furnished the Tri-Kappa's and their dates a perfect spot for their spring outing.

Leaving the campus early last Monday morning, the group breakfasted "on the way" on donuts and milk as they jogged along in a truck.

After a morning of hiking and exploring, a picnic lunch was served to the hungry couples. The lunch began with baked ham, potato salad, baked beans, lettuce and tomatoes, cold drinks, and was climaxed with a special treat, ice cream topped with fresh strawberries.

Boating, fishing and more hiking were among the activities on the agenda for the afternoon.

The date list was as follows:

Ortell Armstrong, Bob Claunch; Jo Ann Seay, Stan Shewmaker; Alta Cheek, Ralph Hartman; Camille Anderson, Burl Hogans; Mary Etta Grady, Ken Shewmaker; Katherine Privett, Glenn Olbricht; Patsy Prevett, Ray Wilburn.

Clubs Follow Tradition With Projects

By JO CONNELL

A tradition which has remained alive throughout the years on the Harding campus is that of the social clubs sponsoring projects representing a variety of services. This year, besides offering wholesome fun, recreation and social development to the students, the various clubs have continued this tradition.

The Tri-Kappas and Alpha Phi Kappas joined efforts to purchase a silver tea service for the library. Some alumni members of these clubs assisted in this presentation.

The W.H.C.'s and the Sub-T's are combining their efforts to provide an adequate and appropriate display place for the many trophies won by various groups during the years and the awards anticipated in the future.

These clubs called on all their alumni members to help in purchasing a trophy case to be placed on the main floor of the Student Center.

The Frater Sodalis club has put up new bulletin boards on either side of the dining hall door. The Sigma Tau Sigmas have a continuing project of providing identification badges for visiting groups to the campus.

A recent club project was the May Fete, sponsored by the Ju Go Ju's. The Reginas present an award to the senior who best exemplifies the "Harding Spirit."

To answer an immediate need, the Cavaliers and Phi Deltas painted the new swings on the campus and the Omega Phi's are painting the new bleachers.

The Las Companeras annually frame a panel of portraits of the senior class to hang in the Science Hall.

The HHH club gave a Christmas party for the people at the County Farm, and they are now working at Camp Wylewood whenever possible to help with the preparations for camp opening.

The Tofebts keep the furniture in the infirmary painted and help with the physicals in the fall.

To help beautify the campus, the Tri Sigma Deltas provided some of the new shrubbery. The Mohicans were responsible for the sidewalk between Armstrong and East Dorm.

This list is not quite complete, but it does indicate the variety of projects undertaken by the social clubs on the campus. The spirit of service continues to permeate the activities at Harding.

Camera Club Awards Five Persons Ribbons

Ribbons were awarded to winners in the Camera Club's snapshot contest at the club's meeting Tuesday night. First place winners were Jennie Schoolfield and Walter Gilfilen. Winners of second place awards were James Maxwell and Walter Gilfilen, with a third place ribbon going to Weldon Hatcher.

Election of officers was postponed until Tuesday night at 7 p.m. The meeting will be in room 304 of Administration Building. Conflicting meetings kept some from being present.

The annual Camera club exhibition is now on display in the Ganus Student Center. A large number of pictures make up the display and present some very good prints.

A Tempo Has Outing

The A Tempo club went to Bee Rock Saturday, May 7, for an outing. After playing softball and eating, a business meeting was held. Officers elected for the ensuing year are:

Sam Haynes, president; Donna Zinzer, vice-president; Beverly Snow, secretary-treasurer; and Rita Jo Baldwin, reporter.

Plans are being made for A Tempo to present several one-act operas next year. A spring program is to be presented by the club for the student body this year.

Committee System Initiated By Frosh

A first for Harding freshmen was the Freshman class committee system organized this year. At the beginning of the year, the executive committee of the frosh appointed four major committees, each having a chairman. These committee chairmen and the class officers formed the freshman executive committee which has been functioning during the year.

The project committee has discussed projects presented to it by class members and decided on the class project for this year. Another group, the social committee, has planned and carried out all of the social functions of the class with complete organization. Portions of this group served on the committee that wrote a letter of welcome to all of the new freshmen coming in at the semester.

Another committee, unique in its origin and make-up is the committee on recommendations to the Student Council. This group polled members of the frosh class and asked them what they wanted to see the Council discuss. Members of the committee then studied the suggestions and presented a list of 30 suggestions to the Student Association. These suggestions were discussed and action taken on most of them.

The final committee of the class is the finance group which has collected outing fees, class dues and other funds. Besides the work of the committees, the class has sent flowers to sick and bereaved Harding freshmen.

"Had it not been for the committees working with the class officers, our class record would have not been nearly so complete," Dick Richardson, freshman president said.

By JO ANNE KING

The pace of club meetings has slowed down considerably since the end of school is approaching. Some outing planning is still in progress. The Reginas had a call meeting last Saturday night to make final plans for their outing to Petit Jean on Monday, May 17.

M. E. A.'s called a short meeting Monday afternoon to make plans for their outing on May 17 to Tahkodah.

The newest thing on campus are the Galaxy's new club jackets. Boys, they are really pretty! They will elect new officers at their regular meeting next Monday night.

The Omega Phi's meet this afternoon to start painting the bleachers, which is their project for this year.

Table manners are important for social success and should be practiced at all times. I think many times we often forget about manners as we hurriedly "gobble" down our food and dash off to class.

First of all, remember that cutting the cafeteria line is strictly taboo unless you're an unlucky one with an 11:35 and 1:00 class too. (Then you can do it legally.)

To make it easier for the people who serve us, follow instructions, indicate as quickly as possible your choice of food, have your meal ticket ready and move on to the table to which the hostess directs you. Even though you are with Jo and Tom, and there's only one chair left, the hostess will appreciate it if you will take it without grumbling. (Who knows, you might meet "someone" that you'd never even noticed before.)

Of course, everyone knows that a gentleman always waits until the ladies are seated before he parks himself, and he also remembers to seat the girl next to him.

When everyone is ready to eat, take it easy, and don't rush through the meal as if you had to catch a train. The point of a meal is to enjoy the company of others, as well as the food.

Always remember to raise the food to your mouth — don't duck your head over your plate like a hungry bird of prey. Don't play games with your food and never twiddle with the silverware. These are just habits which make you appear ill at ease, so be smooth, keep your hands on your lap when you're not eating.

Be as attractive as you can at the table — this means not talking with your mouth full, and avoiding unpleasant conversations. Don't sprawl on the table or tilt back on the legs of your chair.

Just a tip for the boys — be a gentleman and especially when there are girls at your table, see that you are responsible for getting those seconds on milk for them.

Remember that good manners become habits as rapidly as bad ones do, so let's stay on the right side. It'll make our social security that much more secure and our eating more pleasant.

White Sox Lose To Indians 10-0 In No-Hit, Shut-out

May 8 — Behind the no-hit shut-out hurled by Jerry Martin, the Indians today continued their roll towards the pennant. Scoring every inning, they came out the winners by the score of 10-0.

Martin walked two while hitting the same number to go with his six strikeouts in the four inning game. He retired the side twice and walked one man while hitting one in the first when he was very impolitely blasted from the box.

The Indians added nine hits to six walks and came out with ten runs and five men stranded. They scored three in the first when Edsel Hughes led off with a double. "Mize" Moore then followed with another of the same. Doyle Border smashed a triple and after one man went down, Kenny French smacked another double.

In the second stanza, an error, four walks and French's second hit after two were down meant an additional three runs. The rampaging Indians ended their spree with four more counters in the third inning. Hughes walked after Wilkerson had done the same thing. Moore, Border, Leonard Hall and French each threw in a hit with Moore's a double, the only extra-base hit in this frame.

Carroll Bennett went the distance for the hapless Sox, losers of six consecutive games and inhabitants of the celler slot. All the runs of the Indians, except one were earned.

Hughes, a double and three runs scored; Moore, two doubles and three runs accounted for; Border, a triple and single for a perfect day; and French with three consecutive hits were the swatters for the Indians. The best the Sox could do was Stinson who walked in the first and advanced to third base. He also got hit in the third go-around.

Mohicans Take Field Day Honors

The annual Track and Field day held on the campus May 6 and the night of May 7, saw the Mohicans have a scalping party, run-away with the laurels by amassing 49 points, to be far ahead of their nearest opponents, the Koinoinas, by nearly 20 points. This margin was one of the highest ever recorded in the Harding Annals.

The Mohicans were ahead by only few points when they went into the mile relay, but by winning this event they went on to win the meet. Norman Dykes along with Phillips was the main stay of the winners. He won the 440 yd. dash, and placed in the 110 and 220 yd dashes.

Owen Olbricht of the Alpha Phi Kappas was high point man with 16 followed by Phillips with 15.

In the 110 yd dash, the winner was Don Johnston (Sub T-16) in the time of 10.7 seconds. Placing second was Don Brown (Koinoinias) Brown then turned around and won the 220 yd dash in the time of 25.1. Dykes, after placing third in the 110, came in second to start off the competition between these two clubs.

The gruelling 440 yd dash saw Dykes come in first. His time was 55 seconds flat. Phillips came right in behind him to put the Mohicans ahead in the fight for first place.

Phillips again came through with a win in the 880 yd run. He came in in front of Billy Ray Harper (Frater Sodalis), and his time was 2:20.6. Phillips again turned the trick in the mile run. This time he was in front of Harper, breaking the tape at 5:6.2.

In the relays, the Koinoinias won two out of three to go ahead in this field. A team composed of Don Brown, Byron Futrell, Tom Rucker, and Darrell Hickman registered a time of 49.8 in the 440 yd relay. Also in this double relay the same team won with a time of 1:41.5.

The mile relay was won by the Mohicans with a time of 4:9. Their team was composed of Will Goodheer, Hollis Maynard, Phillips and Dykes.

In the field events, the pole vault ended in a three way tie. Hickman, Ken Mallernee (APK) and Reid Bush (Ind.) all registered a height of 9'6". The broad jump saw Lehman Hall (Mohican) come in first with a distance of 17' 9 one-half inches. Bush came in second in this event. In shot put Koinonia Don Brown putted the shot through the air to the distance of 41'3". Olbricht placed second.

Olbricht turned to the discus and sailed it through the air to land 120' 4". Coming in second was Leonard Hall. The high jump was taken by Bush with a distance of 5' 10 one-half inches, and Olbricht came in second. Olbricht again came in first with a time of 14.7 in the 120 yd low hurdles. Lehman Hall came in behind Olbricht.

The girls had a day too, and Mary Burton, Betty Floyd and the Tri-Kappas came in first. Outstanding in this department were Lora Ann Oliver.

One Man's Opinion

By TOADY BEDFORD .

PHILLIPS . . . PHILLIPS . . . PHILLIPS . . .

Hi, gang, is that handle still ringing in your ears, too? I guess it is, and why not? It's not often that a guy like Bud Phillips shows up on this 26 acre plot . . . a five event man if there ever was one . . .

Now that the books are closed and the spikes are up on the hook for another year, let's take another look at some of the accomplishments of the burr-headed speedster from Pochontas.

In the mile, his tedious hours of "getting into shape" certainly paid off. For the first two laps he brought up the rear of a six man field, saving himself. Gradually, being better than a hundred yards behind Billy Ray Harper, who started like a shot, he pulled up even with less than half a lap to go. At this point, he opened up and finished the marathon like he was sprinting the fifty yard dash . . . The bewildered and tired Harper came in second.

In circling the oval four times in 5:6.2, he didn't set any speed records but he looked good — good stride, good pace, great finish . . .

By the way studes, along this same line lets change the scene for just a sec . . . many of you have already heard about it and many I know haven't. Last week, blimey Auld England produced the first chap to break the four-minute mile. Oi say gov'nor t'was Roger Bannister. His time was a quick 3:59.4 That's shavin' it close but it gets the job done. . . Getting back to Phillips, though, lets see what else he did. The half-mile was a carbon copy of the mile. It was the Mohican marathroner again using the same tactics as before.

Harper might have had a fighting chance, but he made the same mistake of taking the lead in his short chopping strides. by doing this, he couldn't get that "second wind" which is so vital for the spurt finish. Phillips turned in some more good time . . . 2:20.6 . . .

RUNNER-UP . . . FOR A CHANGE . . .

In the 440 dash, probably the toughest run of all, Phillips ran second only to his teammate Norman Dykes who was comparatively fresh. To add insult to injury, Dykes, the top favored man for the event, drew the pole position.

Phillips' time wasn't recorded, but he was only a few feet behind Dykes at the tape. The victor was clocked at :56.2, a second and two-tenths slower than his prelim time which will go on the books.

It is only fair to point out here that all the men were running under the handicap of topcoat weather which slowed them down considerably as the records will show.

ANOTHER RECORD GOES . . .

Seems as if this was the week for schoolboy track marks to take the fatal plunge . . . one of the most noted record fractures (other than Bannister's feat) took place up in the wheat fields of Kansas. Last week, Kansas U's Wes Santee chugged two miles in 8:55 flat . . . he stated that he had no definite plans for the future . . . ditto Bannister.

Gotta ring out for now gang. See ya' next week same time, same station . . .

Keathley Twirls Red-Sox One-Hit Ball For 6-0 Win

By DEWEY BROWN

May 11 — Southpaw Jesse Keathley turned in a dazzling performance today as he twirled one-hit ball past the third-place Red Sox, 6-0.

Keathley, in his sparkling job on the hill, was tagged for only safety—a single by Don Johnston. He passed only two men and sent six down on strikes in his seven inning feat. The Sox went down one, two, three in four of those chapters, be the slants of Keathley.

The Red Sox moundsmen, Bob Nossaman and Glen Harger, deserved better fate, however, as they gave up only four singles between them. They issued four free passes and breezed the same in their duo performance.

The A's broke the 0-0 statement wide open in the fourth shashi as they pushed across three runs to potentially wrap up the game. Nossaman allowed only one single, to Norman Hughes, in that fatal episode; but the right combination of Annie-oaklies, hit batsmen and errors were all the Athletics needed to surge ahead.

The A's racked up two more in the fifth off the offerings of Harger. A walk to Byron Futrell, the third baseman's bobble of Cliff Seawel's grounder, two consecutive safeties by James McKee (just up from the minor league Travlers) and Keathley were sufficient to gain the tallies.

In the sixth, the Athletics tabulated a single marker to round out their scoring for the day. Following outs by Louis Stephens and Gil Truitt, Futrell walked and swiped second and third to bring up Claude Danley. Johnson, who earlier switched from centerfield to the third sack, fielded Danley's boulder and heaved an outfield toss over the initial sacker's head to bring in Futrell for the tally. Seawel grounded third to first to close it out.

The Red Sox had a golden opportunity to score in the fifth, but it was soon stamped out as the A's pulled a sneaker. With Bobby Brown and Buddy Phillips stationed at third and first respectively, the Athletics beat the Sox at their own game.

Phillips headed for second on the pitch and catcher Seawel motioned toward the second sack to pull Brown off third. He then lashed the pellet to Danley at third to nab Brown and halt the Red Sox' only serious threat.

Both teams executed a double play. In the first inning, Danley fielded Rex Davis' hopper, hurled it to Truitt at second to catch the advancing Harger, who relayed to Bedford on first, trapping Davis for the double out. The Red Sox pulled theirs in the third behind Harger. Danley slashed a liner into Harger's glove at third for number one and Harger retaliated it to Glen Burgess at first to catch Futrell who had been pulled off by the liner.

In the batting circles it was McKee, Keathley, Hughes, and Bedford for the A's, while Johnston pasted the Sox' single safety. triumph, for a four Keathley registered his fourth triumph for a four, one and one slatement. Nossaman suffered his second defeat and his record now stands at one win, two losses and one toss-up.

Academy Track Team Places Third

The Harding Academy Track team scored 19 points and finished third in the Class B division of the Arkansas State track and field meet in Little Rock last Saturday.

Freddy Massey set a new state record in the 880 yard run as he posted a time of 2:42 seconds. Massey's win was the only first one by the Academy team, but several place positions gave the squad the needed points.

John Weible, placing second in the 440 yard run and Harold Vanderpool, taking third in the low hurdles and fourth in the discus were other individual winners for Coach Hugh Groover's team.

The 440 yard relay team, consisting of Bill Path, Vanderpool, Garret Timmerman and John Weible ran third, while the mile relay team made up of Vanderpool, Vanderpool, Vanderpool, and Weible placed fourth.

Travelers Leave Cellar To Beat Crackers 16-6

By FOY CARRINGTON

May 7 — The cellar-dwelling Travelers today rose up to to knock down the Crackers by the score of 16-6. It was a very slow ball game, the longest of the current season lasting two hours and forty-seven minutes.

Joe Burrough went the distance for the Travs, making the second consecutive time he has done so. He allowed six hits and walked five while allowing twelve of them to fan the air with their impotent sticks. He was very effective except in the third and seventh when they got four runs and two respectively.

The Travs scored four times in the first frame on McKee's and Burrough's singles, sandwiching around James Heydenreich's double plus an error. In the third, they again got four pointers on Burrough's second hit, James Smith's triple and McKee's third consecutive hit.

In the following stanza, they racked two more up on the scoreboard on Burrough's third hit and four walks. Two more came across in the fifth on Heydenreich's second hit, two errors and a double by Olan Hanes. They ended their rampage in seventh by chalking up the final four on a triple by Jack Burbridge, Heydenreich's double, two men hit by the pitcher, two balks by Jim Maxwell and one error.

Distance clouting was marked up by Don Underwood for the Crackers who registered a triple and home run while knocking in three runs and scoring twice. Maurice Tomlinson also got two hits for the losing Crackers.

Smith with a triple and two runs scored; McKee with three hits; Burbridge with a triple to his credit to tie for the league lead; Heydenreich with two doubles and a single; Hanes with a double; and Burrough with three singles and five runs scored were the batting leaders for the Travelers.

Indians Continue Toward Pennant Defeating Faculty

May 13 — Today the surging Indians continued their unbeaten run towards the Major league pennant by outplaying the Faculty to the tune of 4-1.

Lehman Hall went the route for the Cleveland boys and registered his fifth triumph for a perfect record. He gave the faculty six scattered hits. Hall didn't walk a man while striking out two men. In only the fifth inning, when the Ole Men got their run, did they get more than one hit.

Cecil Beck went the distance for the Faculty except for one man in the first. Pinky Berryhill came in to face Jerry Martin as he is a right handed batter, and Beck is left-handed. Beck gave only five hits while walking two and fanning four men.

The Indians scored a run in the first when "Mize" Moore smashed a single and later stole home. They racked two more home in the third when Edsel Hughes and Doyle Border sandwiched singles around Moore's triple and Leonard Hall's single were good enough to register the fourth and last run.

The Faculty scored their lone run in the fifth when Hugh Rhodes singled after one was down. "Pinky" Berryhill then knocked one of the two doubles for the Faculty to score Rhodes.

Cliff Ganus led off the fourth with a double to no avail as he was stopped there by a run-down play. Hugh Groover led off the first with a single but died at second.

Fine fielding by shortstops Groover and Moore deserve plaudits as well as a fine play by P. Berryhill in the fifth which robbed Border of a hit.

Historical Meeting

Dr. Clifton L. Ganus and Prof. Paul Issac were in attendance at the Mississippi Valley Historical Association, Madison, Wis., April 23. History professors from all over the nation were present. Ganus read a paper entitled "Freedom's Bureau: Health, Welfare and Education."
