Dr. Nyaradi was one of the leaders of the democratic Communist Small Farmers Party in post-war Hungary. He represented his party for almost four years, first as Under-Secretary of Agriculture and then as Minister of Finance in the Hungarian Cabinet.

Dr. Nyaradi fought a desperate battle for his own country as the enforcers of Russian sponsored governments continued to extract from him a renunciation of his political beliefs. When his position became untenable on account of the Soviet pressure, he left Hungary for Germany, and came to America.

He was sent to Moscow by his government to negotiate with the Americans, the presentation of which was then to be considered an ultimate challenge of the West to the Soviet empire. Since coming to this country, Dr. Nyaradi has been active in awakening the American people to the threat of Soviet imperialism and Communist infiltration. Several of his articles were published in "Saturday Evening Post," "Putnam's Magazine," "The Reporter," "Liberty," "United Nations World," "The Chicago Tribune," or were syndicated through the Scripps-Howard newspapers. His book, "My RingSide Seat in Moscow," was acclaimed by leading Russian-American experts as one of the best books ever published on Russia by American authors.

Alumni Secretary Harding Delegate to Atlantic City

Alumni Executive Secretary, Joseph G. Lyles, will represent Harding College at the annual convention of the National Alumni Association of Young American Colleges and Schools, on "Christian Character in Colleges and Universities." It is hoped that the convention will be of particular interest to students.

Two Harding students will also participate in this series of programs. Friday, Jim Tuit, twenty-one, student on the "Importance of Education to Young Americans," and oral history of the conference. The college will also be of particular interest to students.

The dinner will be held on November 11, in the Roberts Dining Hall, at 7:00 p.m. All members and friends of the college are invited to attend. The cost of the meal will be $2.00 per person. Reservations should be made by November 9, to the Office of Student Affairs. The college will also be of particular interest to students.
Next week marks the ninth week, and not the ninth hour as it may seem to many. And firmly established here at Harding are the exams which go traditionally with the ninth week. But this year, however, this term's test emphasis has been placed on the eighth week than on the ninth. It has been done with the thought that so many tests will be scheduled during the ninth week, why not get it over with in the eighth week?

So far it seems that too many have had the same idea. Consequently, more tests have fallen on this week than are scheduled for next. Quite a few activities are scheduled this week, whereas next week dates have been left open specifically than to clear the schedule for testing.

We appreciate the professors' concern in trying to make the week test a bit lighter, but we would like to request that the eighth week be relieved from tests.

Recognition Of Education Week

Harding's right to celebrate American Education Week, November 8-13, may be found in its products scattered all over the land. It is the women who have a part of their formal education at Harding are now located in 45 states, the District of Columbia and 13 foreign countries. These Harding-influenced-alumni number in the thousands. A few years ago a study showed that 53 per cent of Harding Alumni were teachers and preachers. Their education at Harding is reaching other thousands!

To give the best academic work possible in this size school, and they have set many of your scholastic meets those required for certification in the North Central Accrediting Association. This was done and recognition from the school.

To give the students the best possible teachers, Harding's faculty is carefully selected to represent the best in character and ability.

Alumni and friends believing in the type education Harding offers are willing to give money enough to supplement fees minimally. Their contributions are to help covering so that they will come as students or send their children. With-out these alumni, Harding does not exist. Our free tuition pay less than half the operational expenses. If no one told others about Harding, there would be no students.

This year Harding College is giving educational opportu-nities to 775 (including the graduate department). These men and women have come from 46 states and five foreign countries.

Harding has good reasons to join hands with other educa­tional departments. To give the students the best possible teachers, Harding's education is carefully selected to represent the best in character and ability. Higher institutions of learning.

If they wander? - "Have you heard such magnificent sing­ing?" We're rather proud of our spiritual activities.

"Musically it is very good," he said, "but I wonder, who?"

"Wonder what, sir?" I was my immediate query.

Oh, I was just wondering how many in the audience know and feel the meaning of the words they are singing.

"But nearly everyone is singing, sir? I protested. Yes, I know. My curiosity still remains. Check into it."

A student arose to read the nuptial selected for the morning. He read very well, but the stranger whistled.

"How many are listening to what is being read?"

Completely taken aback by this stranger's continued interruption, I made no reply.

Next, the one selected to lead the prayer arose and began. It was what he would consider an excellent prayer. It lasted 15 minutes. After-words I simply couldn't resist re-marking how uplifting the prayer was.

"How many times did your mind wander?"

I was agast at his insouciance and could not say a word. My anger was somewhat alleviated when I noticed the speaker taking his place. The students began to cross the hall to join hands with other educational institutions in celebrating American Education Week!

IRC Functioning Again

We have heard very little if anything at all this year from the once most active club on campus as the IRC. But this group has not entirely drifted out of sight or sound. Plans are now being made for an organizational meeting Monday night at which time officers will be elected.

The International Relations Club was chartered in 1952 at which time Dr. Charles D. Kenney became sponsor. He helped the group become one of the most active organizations on the campus. IRC delegates went to Lebanon, Tenn., to the model United Nations gathering, bringing home all honors. Last spring, another delegation traveled to David Lipscomb to play an active part in the Foreign Relations Committee.

The majority of the club did not return this year due to transfers and drafts, but the organization is not dried out by any means. Activities with which we are being planned for this year is to get underway Monday night. Dr. Richard F. Staar will sponsor the club.

Purposes of the IRC are to build international understanding, appreciation of other countries' problems and to have a break office, critical attitude toward the policies of our own government.

What the club accomplished some of their objectives by presentation of papers, first time述职 as they also did in 1952. IRC is essentially an organization for world politics but at the same time, supports the ideal of world fellowship.

Why not give your support to the IRC?

A stranger accosted me before chapel one morning and asked me to accompany him to chapel. We sat in the balcony so we could observe the proceedings.

During the singing I leaned over and asked the stranger, "Have you heard such magnificent singing?" We're rather proud of our spiritual activities.

Birthday Party Honors...wedding cake was served by the hostess.

Miss Jackie Jones was honored with a birthday party Oct. 17, in Cathcart Hall. Refreshments of cakes and iced tea were served by the hostess. Miss Margaret Harby, Other present were the Misses Jo Ann Harrison, Becky Prewitt, Lola Eades, Marietta Ray, Kathy Sample, Carolyn Hart, Dot McGee, Marianna Williams, and Lee Allbright.

She was initiated very informally. The final night of pledging. It consisted of letters received from the various pledges' friends, and proved to be quite interesting.

The H H H club initiated informally on Friday night, the report of which was only a comment, "They'll never forget it." The club's formal welcoming came on Saturday night in the form of a party given by their sponsor Mrs. James Burrow. The entertainment for the evening was given by the pledgers. It consisted of letters received from the various pledges' friends, and proved to be quite interesting.

The T N T s culminated a week of pledging with their initiation Monday night on "Bobo Island". Everyone had a good time - especially the old members. The ceremony was then signed by the new and old members, and plans were discussed for forthcoming football games.

The L C club held its initiation in their third floor reception room of Cathcart Hall Saturday night. After the candlelight ceremony, the pledgers were quickly revived with hotdogs and cold drinks, with a quick trip through the cemetery to wind up the festivities for the evening. The new members were officially welcomed at the meeting Monday night. The penalty list regarding tardiness and absences was made known.

The Tobs held their initiation Saturday at Bobo's. Both new and old members were welcomed in with a candlelight ceremony made impressive by the girl's formal gowns, roses, and a fire in the fireplace. Each pledge was initiated separately, and presented with a coat of red roses. Refreshments of spiced tea, mint, and petit fours were served. The informal part came afterwards in Mrs. Dykes apartment with the pledges taking place. The menu consisted of tomato soup, cheese, and a cold drink which was only a comment, "They'll never forget it." The club's formal welcoming came on Friday night in the form of a party given by their sponsor Mrs. James Burrow. The entertainment for the evening was given by the pledgers. It consisted of letters received from the various pledges' friends, and proved to be quite interesting.

The Omega Phi "Flintos" were taken to the Stapleton's farm Saturday night for an informal initiation. An impressive roast of steaks and marmalade in the fire- place, the pledges entertained the beginners.

The formal initiation of pledges was held Sunday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Perry Mason. Refreshments of punch, sandwiches, and individual cakes were served. The menu consisted of tomato soup, cheese, and a cold drink which was only a comment, "They'll never forget it." The club's formal welcoming came on Friday night in the form of a party given by their sponsor Mrs. James Burrow. The entertainment for the evening was given by the pledgers. It consisted of letters received from the various pledges' friends, and proved to be quite interesting.

The formal initiation for the Regis club pledges was held Saturday night in the home of Mrs. Joe Pryor. An impressive ceremony led by Peggy Petrel initiated the new members. Refreshments of spiced tea, mint, and petit fours were served. The formal candlelight initiation for the Gamma club pledges was held Saturday night in the home of Mrs. Ruth Atteberry. The program consisted of readings, jokes and musical numbers.

While singing around the fireplaces, the girls consumed large quantities of hot chili, crackers, rolls, and spiced punch. They were served the spiced punch.

Following the exhausting trek, the Sigma Tau ladies was given a treat. They were gathered around a camp fire for a few doses of witchcraft, comedy, and ogling - all "treated" with raw eggs and then rounded. Passing the tests, the pledges were then served "Splgy Joe" burgers, cakes and cookies. The excapees ended at 1:30 a.m.

Fifteen badly-frightened pledges became full-fledged members of the W. H. C. club Sunday night somewhere on the grounds belonging to Camp Wyldewood.

The pledges were blindfolded and driven out through a three mile hike over trails and through underbrush. The time element was no barrier; there were guests from the gay '90's, "The Sorority's," and the swinging '50's. Miss Gaynor's magazine was also present.

Entertainment was furnished by the new members. Hostesses, Lola Eades and Janice Harrison, served refreshments of popcorn, apples and soda to the meal; the menu of crown rib roast, scalloped potatoes, gravy, cranberry sauce, rolls, dressing, cole slaw, green beans, coffee, rolls and apple pie.

Guests were the Misses Jesus Lou Smith, Helen Vobe, Dorothy Maudy, Joan Connell, Marietta Grady, Alva Garmon, Misses Anderson and Joan Westbrook.

Film Forum Presents Slum Problems November 27th

"What's the Answer to Slums?" will be second American Film Forum presentation Nov. 27 in the American Studies Auditorium, Dr. Frank L. Holmes has announced.

Charles E. Slusser, Commissioner of Public Housing Administration, and Charles T. Stewart, Director of the Urban Land Institute, will be the participants discussing the problem. Marquis Childs serves as moderator.

The Film Forum states that there is hardly a community in the United States which is not affected by a housing problem. It is truly a national and knotty subject, and one which continues to vex citizens on every level. There is no argument about its existence, the forum said. "Basically, the difference lies in whether or not housing should be accomplished by private industry or by federal agency," the forum stated.

Stewart, representing private industry, advocates the thesis that the job can be done better and less expensively by industry. He points out that a program of rehabilitation rather than widespread demolition can effectively do a great portion of the job.

Slusser disagrees and champions the cause of federal housing in order to replace approximately nine million dwellings which are below standard, and since it is such a huge problem, private industry is incapable of handling it.

Stevens, minister of the Clevis Church of Christ, Clevis, N. Mex.

Academy News in Brief

In an impressive candlelight ceremony, 12 pledges were initiated into the Sigma Alpha Iota social club.

The sub-deb club held its informal initiation at the home of Deanna Houser Thursday night. The semi-formal initiation took place at Loreta Hubbard's home Saturday night. The new members were initiated in the traditional way by the president, Ila Verne Houser. After the vows were taken, cakes and cookies were served and several group pictures were taken.

The key club is a service club established for the purpose of developing better citizenship. In an effort to better acquaint members with the business and the public high school in town, the key club sends two boys to the Beauty Key club meeting on Wednesday and to the Kiwanis meeting on Thursday. Their own meeting is on Friday.

The newly organized Academy Large Chorus has an enrollment of approximately 80 members. This group meets once a week for an hour and a half. It will present a program of selections by Sigmund Romberg later in the year. Prof. Eddie Buggert is the director.

Aggies Fight Hard To Hold Faculty

Nov. 4 - The Aggies put up a hard fight today before going down the drain after the running of the Faculty game. It was another close Faculty game with the Old Man coming out victorious.

After allowing the Faculty to take a 13-12 halftime lead, the Aggies determined to win. However, the Aggies just were not made for the hard-fisted Aggies. One play from scrimmage was halted too soon, on the 3rd from the 5. This would have been another.

Another controversial decision was made regarding whether or not John Schurber's hand touched the ball on a run over the stripe from scrimmage. One other way to make it was declared a touchdown.

For two and one-half quarters of the game, the Aggies were down by a point, but with the passing game effective on the obvious offensive efforts of the Aggies, there is no need to mention their point lead.

But at the midfield of the second quarter, the Aggies scored and the Aggies struck the Aggies wide to gain the point tally. Determinative Dale Lambert and Russell Shurbet were planted in the middle and around the ends, plus some timely pass by Lambert to chisel off the score.

Brown chopped off the last three yards for the score. Allen then hit June Barnett's extra point boot split the uprights, and Texas scored a 13-6 lead which was pulled up to 20-20 in the last half, driving 56 yards for the score. The extra point split the uprights and a grand speech from Oct. 31.

HARDING ACADEMY WILDCAT Bowl To Augusta, 7-6

By Dewey Brown

Harding Academy's Wildcats struck quick and held on for three thrilling quarters before bowing to the Augusta Redcocks, 7-6, to cinch the district 28B room which they were defending.

According to Associated Press reports, the last week was normal for three teams which were playing for this championship. With three teams playing in the district, the Wildcats were two points better than point-a-minute Rice and two points better than point-a-minute Rice.

HARDING'S THREE POINTS

Harding's three points followed the opening kickoff as they penetrated 58 yards to the 22. Little Johnny Berryhill curled in Augusta's boot on his 49 yard spike and returned it 15 yards to the 36. In 10 plays and three first down the Academy gobbled up the yards. Mike Rhodes bobbed right for a one and Allen then hit June Barnett's extra point boot split the uprights, and Harding's three points seemed to be up for every play they made.

SAY BYE... IT'S THE U. OF. KAZAROCKERS GETTING FILLED UP

Last week the Houston Post ably summed up the prevailing line of thought on the subject of Razorback football. There was no editorial, just a cartoon but it was more expressive of the situation than a novel. The caption was "Win With the Wind."

The caption is a Hog pass (fashionable). In the foreground is a monstrous Razorback sitting up on his haunches, picking his teeth and painting a hairy, crooked finger (or "my foot") at a quivering owl, tiger and mustang who are perched precariously on the fence. These of course represent Rice, L.S.U. and S.M.U.

All around this grotesque figure with an oversized abdomen are trying their previous meals or victories. There is a bleached steer's head, a farmer with his pitchfork through his skin and a gasping Horned Frog. It says very mildly, "After all these lean years."

As you all know by now, the nearly immortal Bowden Wyatt and his bunch have made the long trip to College Station, Tex., and dropped a 17-10 from the Ags last Saturday night. It was close, two decided after consultation. (Three touchdowns.)

The scene is where so much depends on the outcome of every single scrap. But the Razorbacks look like they are going to hold well in spite of the pain they have been taking. This is all we have been doing and some of the close ones they have been missing. There is no way to be up for every play they make .

Whoaahhhhhhhhhhhhh

This Saturday the Rice Owls will fly into the Hog Pen for a scramble that could well decide the ticket of the Southwestern Conference. Rice, always a tough customer, will be out to shoo some bacon off the Hog. On the other hand Wyatt and his boys are wondering how Owls sticks would taste, especially on the Sabb...

PICT TOUGH

Perring down from the lofty heights of the No. 1 and turning to the sagging Hogs the Owls are trying for a pretty well in hand. But all they have to do is look skyward to the skyward. They have to do is look skyward to the skyward. They have to do is look skyward to the skyward.

According to the Associated Press and the other big boys, they literally staggered Stanford in a game that Buck Rogers will be talking about. When the final gun sounded it was 70 to 0. On the following Saturday they nearly duplicated the same feat when they toppled the lumbermen from Oregon by the still better than point-a-minute score of 11-0.

DON'T SWEAT IT

Every week there are a bunch of guys who get a few column inches and a by-line and they go wild. The columnists are talking about are the week's anticipation. They check the weekly schedule and then wear out a beat up two-foots piece trying to figure out who is going to come out on top at the end of the long, long day.

This week they have gone completely haywire. Some say that the Hogs single wing will tell the difference and others say it will be their downside: One duck went so far as to say that the Owls would win by three TDs. Since the Owls are rated as the No. 20 team in the nation (which doesn't mean a thing) I don't think that we have too much to worry about, as far as losing by a touchdown.
BRECHEEEN TOSSES GRADS WIN, 26-2

Speedy Carl Brecheen uncorked his backhand arm and added a dose of backhand to space down the Grade seventh straight win as they flattened the yearling Owls by a score of 26-2.

Later from the Grads own 25, Porter took a handoff from Brecheen and dashed for four to the 29 and Brecheen skirted left end to the Owl's 30 and a three-yard down. He then faded right and shot a pass to Brecheen on the 15. Sanderson rumbled for two yards behind the time- stone block of O. Olbricht. Brecheen's set up in Porter and was snatched out of bounds, and the score stood, 6-0.

Special plays later, aided by a holding penalty, the Owls gained life on the 15. Vanderpool spotted Benny Sanders a right flat and connected on the 12. Sanders was pulled in on the one foot line.

Attempts to kick out of the dangerous situation, O. Olbricht muffed the pass from center for a safety which tied the score, 6-6.

BRECHEEEN TOSSES GRADS WIN, 26-2

With the Owls spirits damped, the Grads found it easy picking as they ran up the score almost at will. Minutes later, Brecheen and Co., struck again as they pared 49 yards in two plays for a six-pointer. Brecheen, with his right and toward a beauty to O. Olbricht was incomplete for a yard. Brecheen raked up 13 more to reach the seven before being snowed under. Brecheen then bowed Anderson in the end zone for the tally. O. Olbricht snatched a Vanderpool stray down the middle for the point after.

Brecheen settled that score on the next play, however, as Vanderpool pointed out of danger to the Grads' 15. Brecheen nailed the oval in, passed to figure out his route of flight and set sail down the left side line. Massey hung back again for a break on the Academy's 20. Brecheen again took command of the situation as he ground out yardage to the seven, and then circled around right end for the backbreaker and a 14-0 lead. Donald Roberts extra point kick was true for the one-pointer at the half.

The Wildcats, meanwhile, mustered a little offensive for them, selves, and struck quickly for their six-pointer. From their 27, Mike Rhodes burshed left tackle for eight to the 35. He then bolted through left tackle to the 30 for a three yard pick-up. Then came the cutie. Allen, chased back to his 28 by a hoard of overwhelming tacklers, uncorked a beautiful pass to Massey on Des Arc's 48 at the left side line. Massey legged for about 15, ran into trouble and cut sharply to his right behind timely blocking to go all the way for the touchdown.

From that point on, Des Arc just ground out enough yardage to run out the clock and preserve their 15-6 decision as the game ended.

Turning in yeoman defensive services were Rhodes, Homey, Massey, Ken Oren, Reggie Hammill, Roy Vanderpool, Allen, Otis Fails, and Sonny Todd.

Graduates Win 1954 Tennis Title

By Jerome Burnes

Harding's 1954 Class Tennis tournament was concluded this week as the Graduates best the Freshmen to take the championship.

An unusual supply of tennis talent was unleashed as the new crop at Harding showed off their stuff. The Freshmen added new faces in athletic competition in the person of David Eldridge and Dick Neuman. Both men played smooth, constant singles and both doubles matches.

Brecheen while Sanderson defeated Pete Smith. The juniors were eliminated early in the tournament by Frank Smith.

The seniors were defeated in the first set to hand the Grads the win. Brecheen then located Anderson in the first set and set sail down the left side line for the tally.
