Do Elephants Have Residence in Men's Dorm?

By Dennie Hall

"There's an elephant in the dorm, open the door quick," pleaded an excited voice as somebody knocked frantically on the door.

Slowly, I laid my book aside and pitched myself to see if I had fallen asleep as well as I was dreaming. When the noise outside my door grew more insistent I pinched myself to see if I had fallen asleep and was having a nightmare.

By the almost hysterical Virgil I was about to witness something between the legs of the spectators. I was determined to see it. I was all eagerness, I was about to witness something.

I was about to witness something.

It was my turn to enter the door.

The first elimination round saw Gibbons' team lose out of 12 debates. The team was eliminated as the Floyd and Dave team lost their debate.

The second elimination round were two Harding teams. The team eliminated was the Dillard team, and the choice of the decision for the McCamplin-Taylor team was based on the decision not to be known at this time.

The Millaps tournament is a well known tournament, and is named for those in the Millaps family of Lawyers, "the red shack." This is understandable and helpful in their field of trial.

The president was there last year that marked a much greater interest in this club, and the activity that there doesn't do here this year.

Two years ago around this time, the School of American studies was beginning its spring break trip to Washington, D.C., which really came to pass. The tour lasted five days — and the students who went will tell you they were unforgettable ones.

At the moment, the school is proposing another such trip, but this one will not only go to Washington, but will take in New York, also. Even more for your money!

Many such a suggestion is made, questions are immediately raised about how much it would cost and many other long and involved inquiries.

So we will tell you first that the cost will run around $100, depending upon how much spending money you want to add to that.

Actually, this is the cheapest one could possibly get as it includes "everything." And we mean, transportation, housing, food and tours. If you should make the trip yourself, it would be by small of a figure.

That sounds interesting you say — what do we see and what we do.

Well, while traveling, you cover a section of the Allegheny, Blue Ridge and Cumberland mountains and along the Potomac River to Washington. You also visit Arlington cemetery, Alexandria, Mount Vernon and Lincoln Memorial.

Other Washington landmarks are also on the agenda, but let's talk about New York. First tour is through the NBC television studio (to see George Gobel), and from there to the observation roof of Rockefeller Center.

There is a grand tour of Upper and Lower Manhattan, as well as the various places having historical significance. Not only do you get to inspect the United States headquarters, but you get to attend a session.

The main problem is finding enough students who want to — and can. If you are interested to the point that you are willing to take on the cost, a word to the wise: Frank L. Holmes, director of the School of American Studies.

We know you will want to go!

Santa since has been gone and gone and gone, and that outside reading, everyone has settled down to finish a semester that seems to have been a few exceptions to the rule.

It is possible that we have been strong have developed the art of sightseeing make-up of ancient — never to be ashamed that smaug. Jim Withers is the champ of all informational background we so sorely need to understand growth, development and current problems facing the country in addition.

The other sea to the north is called the Sea of Galilee. Fishermen have earned a living from its supply of fish for centuries. It abounds with life, both plant and fish. And the borders of the sea are rich and full. You can go to the foot of Mount Hermon and Mount Zioph and the Sea of Galilee from there.

The lesson of the Sea of Galilee is that we must be careful of the waters which flow into it, but pass- minding us that all we have, no matter how great or small, can only be identified as 'giving.'

The quibble is not to be ad- mired, but to be praised. Anyone who supports this is worthy of praise. A great one reveals a petty and insincere nature. A large one reveals the purpose of the quibbler are not in harmony with the principles of the Christian way of life. Let us not fall into the degrading, un-Christian habit of quibbling.
Candlelight Xmas Is Delta Chi Theme

"Christmas by Candlelight" was the very appropriate theme for the Delta Chi Omega banquet held Dec. 14, in the Terace Room of the Mayfair Hotel. Following the theme throughout the program, the tables were decorated with blue candles surrounded by clouds of blue and white angels hair. The crowning of the club queen, Miss Emelyn Pritchard, will be provided by chairman Jim, the club banquet, Miss Peggy Putrell, a Petit Joan queen finalist.

Delta Chi’s activity preceding the holidays consisted of furnishing the annual Christmas tree for the carol sing, defeating the Faculty Ole Men in a basketball game and presenting to their queen, Miss Putrell, a Sigma Tau Sigma sweater.

In the regular business meeting, Gerald Rassen was nominated to represent the club in the Health Council. Myrna French’s home was the setting for the OMEGA club meeting Saturday, December 14th. Plans were made for the banquet house to be held Friday, March 4, at the Rensselaer. Delicious refreshments of chocolates, cookies and hot chocolates were served by the hostess to the members present.

The TOEFLs met Saturday night in the room of Amanda Pearson and Pat Higgins to make plans for their banquet which is to be held Jan. 25 at the Mayfair.

The Toefl’s also held their Christmas party in the apartment of Mary Ann Richesin, Daisey Richesin and Mary Ann Roger. Decorations of the tree and festive candles were very attractive. The members exchanged gifts, played games and sung Christmas carols. Refreshments of punch, pretzels, Christmas candy and pop corn were served.

The GATA social club held their annual Christmas party Dec. 14 at the home of Nicky Gray. After exchanging gifts which the members had made, a lively game of charades was played. Miss Carroll Pearson added to the enjoyment of the evening with her rendition of "Dream Beamers". Refreshments of hot chocolate and decorated doughnuts were served.

The Koinonia met on Monday night after the Christmas holidays to discuss banquet plans. The date for the banquet has been set for Feb. 12 and will take place at the Mayfair Hotel. As yet a speaker has not been secured.

The T.N.E Rs met Monday night in the Mayfair Hotel for the last business meeting, discussing plans for the annual "Cowboy Party." After the business was settled, everyone had a fun-filled evening playing basketball and other games.

Also meeting Saturday evening were the Phi Dallas. Banquet plans were discussed, and the date set for the banquet is January 12th, planning a T.G.R. which they hope everyone will become interested in also.

One Man's Opinion

By TOADY BEDFORD

BUFFALOS — A mighty close second but it could go either way.
They have four seasoned vets in Jim Pattison, Paul Surrpent, Pete
Ward and Dave Lenington.

Someers — The Oklahoma entry looks like a title contender. They're anything like his brother, they'll be in there. If not on accuracy, it'll be team spirit.

JAHUWAH — Alling Rex Davis
won't help too much. That leaves Royce Borden and C. V. Combs to carry on. Maybe Dick Pflum will make the difference.

Cornhuskers — Mediocrity is the keynote of this outfit. No stars, just good ball players. They may surprise us. Terry Stine captures the bunch.
Faculty — They will be in there!

DOWN IN THE MINORS (so pun intended)

Here we have an eight team loop with squads colorfully named after our feathered friends the birds. Does that sound like John B? Try this off with an entry composed of inseliged high school boys.

Chickens — Final team. Can't make the difference. They have reserved strength.

Cardinals — Running second with Tom Bucker and Dick Corsey who always comes through when the chips are down.

Robins — Bill Holmes and Tom Brown are the only ones who can compete. On they Tom of the same sheet as brother Don in more ways than one.

Wrens — With Texan Dewey
and Jim Maxwell how can they miss — the fourth slot.

Larks — What is the old saying?
That luck of the Irish is going to
that in there.

Teewers — Never heard of them before. Must be a Southern bird — likely the squad. John Weible and Gerrett Timmerman seem to be the only standouts.

Sparrows — 1MM77777777, 17777777.
Academy — Ditto

The Frater Sodalis planted a man downcourt, who quickly racked up 9 points before the Tri Sigs caught on to what was happening. Throughout the game, the big factor was hustle as not many teams were able during the entire game.

Jim Zeitlin led the victors with ten points. Mason Andrews and Joe Dietz each contributed six markers while Trudy Bedford tossed in a couple of field goals.

ECHOES FROM THE ALUMNI

Josephine Connell, alumni executive secretary, has begun a new research program. With the aid of Mrs. Don England, alumni office secretary, Harding alumni are being pie-pointed on a large framed map of the United States.

The number of alumni living in different localities are represented by colored pin heads. The color scheme for the map is:

Red — 1 alumni; yellow, 2-5; blue, 6-10; green, 11-25; black, 26-50; silver, 51-75; gold, 76-100.

There are only three states which have no Harding alumni, New Hampshire, North Dakota and Nebraska. There are alumni located in 10 foreign countries; however, foreign country students will not be pie-pointed.
