THE HARDING BISON, SEARCY, ARKANSAS

JANUARY 22, 1955

Salzburg, Austria, Marionette Theatre Scheduled For Appearance On Feb. 3

From Salzburg, Austria, comes Salzburg Marionette Theatre to present here on Feb. 3 the third in this year's series of lyceum performances. Herman Aicher directs the theatre.

In 1913, Anton Aicher created the Marionette theatre, and today his son tours the world to delight thousands of people yearly with performances of this group.

Some of the puppets in Aicher's group are three and one-half feet high which makes them appear life-like to the audience. Adding to the realistic appearance of the puppets is the fact that they are made of a series of carved rings instead of a solid block of wood. This factor allows the figures to run, jump and bend gracefully. Aicher has also developed a new portable stage, 27 feet long, three feet deep and 12 feet high on which the puppets perform.

Many of the Salzburg Marionette presentations are the works of Mozart. On the program for their performance here are the following selections:

Tschaikovsky's universally popular "The Nutcracker Suite," and three of Mozart's compositions, "Eine Kleine Nachtmusik," "The Concert at Schoenbrunn," and "Bastien and Bastienne."

Numerous Positions Need To Be Filled

Prof. J. D. Fenn of the placement office disclosed this week that there are several available positions open to those who are interested.

A school in Arkansas needs a teacher to teach three classes in typing, keep one study hall and work in the superintendent's office. For a teacher with a degree the salary is $220 per month. This same school also needs a home economics teacher.

A school in Arkansas needs a fourth grade teacher. This position pays $2400 per year.

One of the beauty shops here in Searcy needs a beauty operator.

One of the Christian colleges needs a bookkeeper. This position pays $185 per month plus meals. They also need a person who can teach one class of shorthand and do secretarial work.

The Southwestern Company is interested in hiring young men to sell books for their company. This can be done in part time work or full time during the summer.

The Permanent Plaque Company needs a student to act as representative for their company in selling a unique type of framing which they do.

NOTICE

The Bison will not be published next week due to final examinations. Next issue will be Feb. 11.

Bison Sponsoring 1955 Essay Contest

The Bison is again sponsoring its annual essay contest on "Americanism." The subject this year will be "What Has Made America Great."

Editor Jennie Cross said that all students enrolled in any level of work may enter the contest. The winner will receive a $25 war bond. General rules for the contest have been stated as follows:

- (1) The essay is not to exceed 2,000 words. No minimum has been set.
- (2) The essay must be typewritten and double-spaced.
- (3) The essay must be submitted to the Bison editor on or before March 15, 1955.

Judges will be selected from the faculty — one from the English department, one from the School of American Studies and Prof. Neil B. Cope, sponsor of the paper.

Panel Discussion Is FTA Program

"How and to what extent can moral and spiritual values be taught in the public school?" was the topic for discussion at the Future Teachers of America meeting Jan. 11.

Members of the panel discussing this topic were Dr. Russell Lewis, Profs. Ed. Sewell and Edwin Hughes, and Gracie Coburn who is an instructor in the Bald Knob public school. Questions from the audience helped to clarify points.

President Winfred Wright also asked any F.T.A. member who would be interested in helping with the elementary school health program to contact Mrs. French, Harding health nurse.

The next meeting of F.T.A. will be Feb. 8 in room 200 of the Science building.

Calendar

- Jan. 22 — Voice Recital, Band room, 6:30 p.m. — A Tempo, 8 p.m.

Voice Recital Tonight

The music department will present voice students of Dr. Erle T. Moore and Prof. Kenneth Davis in a recital tonight at 6:30. The recital will be held in the band room of the music building. Fifteen students will be presented on the program.

Harding Plans Expansion Program In The Field Of Graduate Study

By LOUIS ECKSTEIN

"Since Harding College is now fully accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges thus giving its credits recognition anywhere around the world and since Harding now has one of the best plants in the South and a strong faculty, the next natural step is in the field of graduate study," states President George S. Benson concerning an expansion program announced recently.

Bible Department

The program includes the developing of the graduate Bible department into a School of Religion and the offering of a master's degree in education commencing with the school year 1955-56, with the addition of the master's degree in business administration in conjunction with the School of American Studies anticipated to follow a year later.

The graduate Bible department, now offering the master's degree in religion, and already having eight full-time men, four of whom have earned doctor's degrees, would be considerably expanded, library facilities would be expanded and a building to house the School of Religion would be constructed.

"Young preachers are feeling the need of a greater amount of training in the field of religion," asserts Dr. Benson. With this expansion in the field of religion, Harding will be taking a great forward step in meeting the needs of these young men.

Education Graduates

"A large number of our graduates — fully one-third — go into the teaching field," Dr. Benson states. Through the expansion of the education field to the graduate level, Harding will offer the work needed to train people for principalships and superintendencies. Offering the master's degree in education will make Harding the only college in the central part of Arkansas, and one of only two colleges in the entire state, to offer such graduate work.

Financial Requirements

It is thought that the financial requirements for this expansion program would be somewhat as follows:

(1) In the field of religion: a building, $150,000; two endowed chairs at $200,000 each, $400,000; fellowships and scholarships for ministerial students over the next five-year period, $100,000.

(2) The graduate work in the School of American Studies:

A building for graduate studies, $300,000; a dormitory for graduate students, $200,000; an addition on the present library which would be particularly for graduate students, $50,000; library accessions over a five-year period, $50,000; additional funds for new teachers required for graduate work over a five-year period, $300,000; two endowed chairs in the graduate field, $400,000; visiting lecturers over a five-year period, $37,500; and $25,000 a year for scholarships in the graduate field over a five-year period, $125,000.

As the rush for higher education in America continues, Harding College, as in times past, will face and fulfill the challenge. "Through this expansion program, Harding will continue to meet the needs of those students who are seeking the finest of intellectual, physical and spiritual values," Dr. Benson said.

New Orleans, La., on "Export-Import Opportunities"; and Glen Sendberg, executive director of American Collectors Association, Minneapolis, Minn., who will speak on "Factors Which Will Determine Success or Failure."

It is hoped that the seminar will be such a success that it, or similar conferences, can become an annual affair on the Harding agenda.

Medical Schools Recommend May Admission Test

Candidates for admission to medical school in the fall of 1956 are advised to take the Medical College Admission Test in May, it was announced today by Educational Testing service, which prepares and administers the test for the Association of American Medical Colleges.

These tests, required of applicants by almost every medical college throughout the country, will be given twice during the current calendar year. Candidates taking the May test, however, will be able to furnish scores to institutions in early fall, when many medical colleges begin the selection of their next entering class.

Candidates may take the MCAT on Saturday, May 7, 1955, or on Monday, Oct. 31, 1955, at administrations to be held at more than 300 local centers in all parts of the country. The Association of American Medical Colleges recommends that candidates for admission to classes starting in the fall of 1956 take the May test.

The MCAT consists of tests of general scholastic ability, a test on understanding of modern society and an achievement test in science. According to ETS, no special preparation other than a review of science subjects is necessary. All questions are of the objective type.

Application forms and a Bulletin of Information, which gives details of registration and administration, as well as sample questions, are available from pre-medical advisors or directly from Educational Testing Service, 20 Nassau St., Princeton, N. J. Completed applications must reach the ETS office by April 23 and Oct. 17, respectively, for the May 7 and Oct. 31 administrations.

Dr. Hawkins Speaks To Harding Science Club

Dr. M. C. Hawkins Jr., Searcy, delivered an interesting address Jan. 13 to the Science club. His talk concerned "How to Live One Hundred Years."

In his address, Dr. Hawkins pointed out that there is no magical formula to long life. What one must do is take care of what he already has. Vaccination, annual physical examinations, good eating habits and precautions against disease are the main factors which contribute to long life.

There will not be a meeting of the Science club during exam week.

YOUR HELP WANTED

It's not overdue books, but overdue pictures 22 people have not picked up. "These Petit Jean pictures are taking up valuable space in the Alumni office," Josephine Connell reports. If the following people will please come by the Alumni Office for their pictures, the Petit Jean staff and the Alumni office will appreciate it:

Mickey Allen, Jerome Barnes, Ila Verne Crews, Denise Deering, Howard Flippin, Byron Futrell, James Gainey, Bobby House, Jeanette Kee, Don Glover, Gail Ross, Bobby Lacy, Opal Laird, Herman Leake, Duane McCampbell, James Padgett, Jack Reid, Al Martin Dietert, Roy Epperson, Ransom Feagin, Modena Harwell, and Ann Revel.

Why Is America Great?

What has made America great? That's a thought provoking question. It is also the topic of this year's Bison essay contest.

That America is the greatest nation in the world is a fact that few question.

How do we judge the greatness of a country? Do we judge by the per capita income, the number of automobiles and bathtubs per family, the movie attendance, the number of newspaper subscribers and the bank deposits?

If America is great what has made it so? Has it been Hollywood? Has it been football and other such expensive sports that have such an appeal to our millions today? We think not!

Isn't a nation only as strong as its people? Our forefathers paved the road to greatness on which we have traveled up to the present. We — all 165,000,000 of us — will pave the road for the future. It is up to us to determine whether the road will lead to greater opportunities and greater freedom or whether it will lead to utter destruction of all that has been accomplished through all these years.

We view with alarm the tendency of many people to take our freedom for granted. Logic tells us and history bears it out that to take freedom for granted is to lose it.

It is good for us to dwell on the things that have made our nation the great one that it is. Think about these things then put your thoughts on paper. Who knows, you might win $25. Someone will!

Music, Music, Music...

Thanks, Student Council, for having an active committee, and we mean active, working to keep the juke box records changed and up to date. We are sure we express the feelings of those who frequent the Inn — whether to go in the student center for mail or that daily ice cream cone. It's nice to have some "fresh" music coming from brand new discs.

And please don't let that much needed activity cease!

Another Dream To Come True

As outlined in chapel and also in the Bison this week, is the expansion program Harding is planning in the field of graduate work. We couldn't ask for growth in any better direction.

The program calls for a great amount of work as well as money which now is in the process of being obtained. Before all the new buildings were erected on the campus they were merely a dream. A dream which materialized.

Here is another dream, but it, too, is about to become real. May the "waking-up" time not be very long hence.

We congratulate the President of Harding College, Dr. Benson, and his "team" who have worked to get this program in the workable state as outlined at present, and who will continue working even after the goal has been reached. We appreciate what you are doing for Harding College and its students.

We think it is wonderful.

Disturbing Elements And Christianity

By Andy T. Ritchie Jr.

"Those disturbing elements," chosen as the title for this little article, might bring different things to the minds of dormitory managers, faculty members or the general populace of the Harding community. To some it could mean the bad-boy type of student who persists in breaking the rules and who tends to demoralize the thinking and general living of others. The expression might refer to some who obviously and even conspicuously deviate from the accepted forms of social and personal behavior — those who gain the dubious designation of "characters."

Another use of "disturbing element" is possible — it may be applied to those who dare to differ in what they challenge the status quo. While all these areas are worthy of thought both from the view point of the ones who are inclined to apply our title expression and the objects of its application, there is still another way in which we wish to use it — the disturbance of classroom and chapel climate.

The near constant problem of studying and engaging in other irrelevant activities during the chapel time seems to resolve itself to a matter of plain Christian courtesy. Are we justified in being disrespectful and not following the Golden Rule just because we happen to be behind in our school work or disinterested in the program? Would we want to be treated as we treat others in this regard?

The chief emphasis of this journalistic endeavor, notwithstanding the importance of improving chapel manners, is to pull for a stronger spirit of mutuality and spiritual sensitiveness in classes. While the point applies to all our assemblies to some extent, it is notably and fundamentally essential to the maximum accomplishment in Bible classes.

We do not have reference here to disciplinary problems but rather to the achieving of such an atmosphere of oneness of purpose and interest that that very climate goes far in helping us to be convicted, strengthened or encouraged as the daily need may be. This wonderfully helpful situation which does often exist is sometimes disturbed and the disturbance is made manifest in a number of different ways. Have you been in a class like this? The period is officially opened with prayer and everyone is, of course, perfectly quiet, but during the time that late-comers are finding seats, immediately after prayer, conversation begins and order has to be called for again.

Since quiet was obtained the first time by thoughtful reverence but had to be achieved the second time by some remonstrance from the teacher, the real corporate spirit was lost and could hardly be regained that day. Then in some classes there is restlessness five minutes or so before dismissal bell rings. Who could teach effectively or who could listen advantageously when the run-for-it mood has been turned on?

It seems that really considerate persons would see to it that the teacher has the opportunity of concluding classes in perfect calmness and quiet even at the cost of personal inconvenience to them.

And what of the irrelevant talking during the course of a recitation or lecture period? Sometimes it is just being sociable at the wrong time, sometimes it is private extension of what has been a class discussion and sometimes it is even the giving of help to a seat neighbor that tends to disturb the atmosphere.

Plain rudeness, proverbial "loud mouths," the interest-me-if-you-can kind of person and those without a properly developed sense of what is timely and appropriate take their turns at being disturbing elements. But these could all be absorbed quite easily if the average well-meaning Harding student could become more aware of the importance of the right spiritual climate in classes could give just a little more of unselfish thoughtfulness, of spiritual alertness.

THINK ON THESE THINGS

By DENNIE HALL

Every element of worship has its place and purpose. By observing the Lord's Supper we commemorate His suffering and death. Through prayer we make our petitions. In singing we not only praise and worship God, but we are likely to find our soul stirred in the process.

Throughout both the Old and New Testaments, commandments to sing are numerous and examples of people praising God in song are frequent.

In Eph. 5:19 we read, "Speaking to yourselves in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, and making melody in your heart to the Lord."

Although we frequently attach an added meaning to this passage, it means nothing more than that we are to make melody in our hearts — not just utter meaningless word.

Mark 14:26 shows the importance of singing in the lives of the apostles. "And when they had sung an hymn, they went out into the mount of Olives."

We are told that the early Christians often sang when they were being tortured or put to death. They were able to walk into the arena and face the hungry lions because of their faith. Although they knew that they would be torn to shreds they endured it because of their deep devotion to God. Singing helped them to keep their courage even in the presence of death.

Songs have played a part in the making of history. America has been referred to as a "singing nation."

Many years ago the passengers on a large ocean liner far out in the Atlantic Ocean were told that their ship was sinking. Some of the passengers managed to escape in smaller boats but many of them were left stranded on the slowly sinking ship. Those who escaped reported that as they were sailing out of sight they looked back and those remaining on the ship had gathered on the deck and were singing "Nearer My God To Thee." Thus they sank in the dark depths of the ocean.

In many ways we could say that history has been made with a song. Shortly after the start of World War II, President Franklin D. Roosevelt saw that the soldiers needed a song to lift their spirits when they were fighting.

Few agree as to what heaven will be like, but everybody agrees that there will be singing. There may be no preaching because its primary purpose is instruction and motivation. Those who go to heaven will no longer need preaching, but they can praise God in singing. Somehow we always picture angels singing.

Can you imagine Harding without singing? Singing impresses the visitors to the campus more than any other one thing. Graduates of Harding remember the singing long after many of the other things about their school are forgotten. Probably more people have been inspired more through singing than by any other method.

Can you imagine the world without singing? Let us hope that we always have music to brighten the day and enrich the life of man.

News Views Previews

By LYMAN TURLEY

Not long ago, Marshall MacDuffie had the opportunity to view personally some of the striking characteristics of Russia. Mr. MacDuffie was granted a visa by the No. 2 man in the Kremlin which permitted him to travel through Soviet Russia for 65 days. "The Red Carpet," a recently published book, is a record of what he saw on the trip.

Traffic, Mr. MacDuffie found, is extremely limited except on the main streets of Moscow. On a 20 mile drive over a four-lane highway, MacDuffie noticed eight vehicles, two of which were not in operating condition. On another 58 mile stretch, he counted less than one motor vehicle to the mile.

Of 800 steel workers, 20 owned automobiles. The more important personages, however, are much more fortunate. In front of the Communist Party headquarters in Moscow one evening, 55 cars were parked, 48 of them with chauffeurs. Prices are high in Russia. If one can afford to, and wishes to risk the dirt runways in a small two-engine plane, he may travel by air at three times what it would cost in America.

Entertainment is just as costly. Two can go to dinner and a movie for about $90. Or, if they cared to, they could stay home and look at their small screened television sets which cost about $600. Many of the shows are anti-American propaganda and attract large numbers of people who wish to compare American and Russian standards.

The latest boom in Russia is construction. The newest buildings exhibit sagging doors, chipped paint, and exposed wiring and plumbing. Moscows eight skyscrapers, it seems are all occupied by Communists and Communist agencies.

Walker-Vanwinkle Say Marriage Vows

Miss Nancy Vanwinkle became the bride of Richard Walker Dec. 19 in the Church of Christ at Bay. Dr. C. L. Ganus Jr. performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Vanwinkle, wore a floor length gown of white velvet and nylon tulle and carried a bouquet of gardenias, surrounded by lilies of the valley. She was given in marriage by her brother, John Vanwinkle.

Miss Hellen Yohe, Searcy, was maid of honor and wore a gown of orchid velveteen with an overskirt of nylon tulle. She carried a nosegay of orchid mums with a shower of contrasting ribbon.

Capt. H. G. Walker Jr., Dayton, Ohio, served his brother as best man. James Walker, brother of the groom, Tampa, Fla., sang "I'll Walk Beside You" and "Through The Years."

The ushers, J. B. Stanley and A. H. Stanley lighted the candles.

After the ceremony, a reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arvil Wall. The couple then departed on a honeymoon trip to New Orleans, La.

The Walker's are now at home in Bradford where Mrs. Walker is teaching in the public schools. Mr. Walker is speech professor at Harding College. He is the son of Mrs. H. G. Walker Sr., Memphis, Tenn.

Tri Kappas Take Guests To Rome For An Evening

"Three Coins in the Fountain" was the theme of the Tri Kappa banquet held Jan. 14 in the Blue Room of the Rendezvous. The scene in the "heart of Rome" and the table decorations were in harmony with the theme as the group enjoyed an Italian menu.

The center of attraction was a fountain with streams of water flowing down the rocks below set-off by indirect lighting.

Those present and their dates were:

Betty Helm, Buster Glover; Lois Coburn, Ronald Coble; Patsy Prevett, Carrol Eades; JoAnn Seay, Stan Shewmaker; Carol Stubbefield, Leroy Alexander; Gracie Coburn, Janis Lyles; Norma Carpenter, Weldon Hatcher; Reva Beene, Doyle Border; Yvonne Davis, Charles Pittman; Annette Hendrix, Wallace Alexander; Joan Westbrook, Jim Hayes;

Miss Burton Marries Mr. Johnny Dunlap

Miss Mary Burton and Mr. Johnny Hall Dunlap were united in marriage Dec. 19 at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Burton, Nashville, Tenn.

The long stairway was decorated with holly and the pillister held a red bow. The bride walked down a pathway marked by holly wreaths, cedar, smilax and white candles.

Miss Jacque Sloan, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Mrs. Burton Grant was bridesmatron. The misses Carolyn Burton, Jackie Burton and Patricia Roberts, cousins of the bride, served as bridesmaids.

The bride's attendants were attired in two-tone ballerina length formals. The bodices were made with scooped necklines, the skirts were of a lighter shade of nylon net over satin. The attendants carried red roses.

Julian Dunlap served his brother as best man. Dr. Burton Grant, cousin of the bride, Bill Cline and Raymond Tanner were the groom's attendants. Batsell Barrett Baxter officiated, and the bride was given away by her grandfather.

The bride wore a ballerina length nylon net over a satin skirt, while the long-sleeved bodice was lace worked in the form of leaves and the scoop neckline was draped with illusion net. The bride's veil was a modified spanish halo veil, and she carried lilies-of-the-valley.

At the reception following the wedding, the Mesdames Gloria Gavit and Mary Dickerson, cousins of the bride, assisted the Mesdames Katy Cummings, Rebecca Perry, Joann Roark and Norma Scruggs in the serving of a six-tiered wedding cake. The table was decorated with smilax and white candles on a white tablecloth.

The couple went to Chattanooga, Tenn., on their honeymoon. The bride wore a blue wool traveling suit with sky blue accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunlap are at home at 1492 Woodmont Boulevard, Nashville, Tenn.

Dr. Mattox Reviews Doctors of The Mind

The library staff was host to approximately 100 guests Jan. 13 who came to hear Dr. F. W. Mattox, dean of students, review Marie B. Ray's, "Doctors of the Mind."

Preceding the book review was a tea in the lobby of the library. Assisting in welcoming guests were members of the Galaxy, Frater Sodalitas, HHH and Ju Go Ju social clubs.

The refreshment table was covered with a lace cloth attractively centered with a white mum arrangement flanked with burning red tapers. Pouring coffee and tea from silver services at each end of the table were the Misses Rita Jo Baldwin and Gail Ross.

In the review, Dr. Mattox told something about the author, stating that she was a student of the history of psychology. Mrs. Ray has also written "How to Live Two Lives in One."

"Doctors of the Mind" is a story of psychology showing what has happened in the development of the human mind to the present time.

The book reviews the conflict of the psychologists and physiologists in their search for the mind.

ACADEMY News In Brief

In chapel Wednesday, the students were given ballots to vote on the favorite, best-all-around, wittiest and cutest students. Everyone is eager to know who will win the honors.

Last week the students and faculty attended the college chapel and enjoyed hearing J. Q. DuPont speak on the DuPont company's history.

There were also several social events. The students had their first all-school party in the Emerald Room.

The junior girls had a bunking party at the Pitner's home Sunday night. Thank you, Mrs. Pitner, for a wonderful time.

W.H.C. Entertains At Country Supper

A country atmosphere made up of scarecrows, bales of hay, wheelbarrows, and the delectable aroma of home cooked food, surrounded 27 young ladies dressed in long cotton frocks who entertained their escorts at the W.H.C. country supper given at the Legion Hut, Jan. 14.

The meal, which consisted of fresh vegetables and plenty of fried chicken, was served country style, and entertainment was provided by Jan Kimpel and her committee.

The tables were decorated with ivy, and pipe cleaner men and ladies were the place cards. The lighting was furnished by old fashioned kerosene lanterns. A big scarecrow surrounded by bales of hay, a ladder, a wheelbarrow, and garden tools decorated one end of the Legion Hut.

Bill Floyd and Edsel Hughes gave extemporaneous speeches while clutching a cube of ice. The object of this game was to see who would be left "holding the bag" (ice).

All the country boys were invited to give impromptu speeches on such subjects as "Sweet Gum Balls," "How to Get Maximum Production out of Silk Worms" and "Why I Put My Left Shoe on First." The country folk then joined to play relay races with balloons and candles.

Miss Gloria Smith took the prize for costume originality. Her dress was made of burlap sacking trimmed in red checked material. Miss Darlene Darling also won first prize for being dressed as a typical southern belle. The judges for this event were Miss Jo Connell, Mrs. Evan Ulrey and Mrs. W. B. West, Jr.

Iva Lou Langdon, Ken Perrin; Katie Sampson, Jerry Westjohn; Gloria Smith, Herman Alexander; Lorene Smith, Don Shepherd; Ramona Stallings, Betty Warfel; Pat Stine, Eugene Bailey; Emilie Travis, Pete Stone; Carol Trent, Dennie Hall; Barbara Walton, J. L. May; Tillie Watson, Pat Teague; Joy Womack, Pat Bell; Dr. and Mrs. W. B. West; Jo Connell, Beulah Moudy, Mrs. Ulrey, Mr. and Mrs. Don Sime and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Walker were special guests of the occasion.

Social Agenda Full As Mid-Year Arrives At Harding

Club business agendas are really full to over-flowing now! Between banquets, semester officers and May Court members, business is really on the boom.

The Alpha Phi Kappa social club has chosen Feb. 19 as their banquet date. The gala event will be staged in the Kiwanis Room of the Mayfair Hotel.

The L.C.s met Saturday night with Alice Degenhart, Norma Crosby and Lillian Cornett acting as hostesses. The future election of officers and club membership for the second semester were discussed. Refreshments of punch, cookies, and small sandwiches were served by the hostesses.

The Regina social club met Saturday night to discuss plans for the second semester. A complete turnover of officers for the coming term were elected. Capturing the top honor was Ramona Thompson, with Lora Ann Oliver as vice-president. Virginia Baker was chosen as secretary-treasurer, and Ann Belue and Mary Anne Smith will act as reporters. Banquet plans were discussed in detail, and Joy Bell was elected to the May Court.

The Omega Phis met in Cissy Blake's room to discuss a shower for club member Mrs. Richard Walker and to elect officers. The new officers for next semester are Marjorie McGinnis, president; Norma Lee, vice-president; Cissy Blake, secretary; Carole Jarrard, treasurer; Rita Jo Stephens, song leader; and Janiece Selby, reporter.

GATA social club met Jan. 15 in Cathcart Hall at which time plans for the banquet were completed.

Mrs. Eddie Baggett, club sponsor, was given a silver place setting for her new son.

After the business meeting, refreshments were served by the hostesses, Misses Lee Albright and Ginger Jackson.

Stairway To Stars Is Banquet Theme

Under a blue sky sprinkled with silver stars, the Mu Eta Adelphean club entertained their dates with a banquet Jan. 15 at the Rendezvous.

At one end of the room was the setting of the theme, "Stairway to the Stars" which showed a blue stairway in front of a sky blue drape. At the top of the stairway was a large, white half-moon and star representing the club emblem. In the center of each table was a blue candle surrounded by angel hair sprinkled with blue glitter. Prof. Jim Atteberry crowned Dot Hall and Dave Darrah queen and king of the banquet.

Pat Young, president, welcomed the guests, and the response was given by Eugene Bailey. Mistress of Ceremony, Carolyn Gray, introduced the program.

Zena Street sang "Blue Moon, and "Some Enchanted Evening" was sung by a trio composed of Bobby Ethridge, Zena Street and Grace Ann Howard. Barbara Ethridge played a piano solo, "Stardust."

McNalty-Hunter Plan February 10 Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Cay Hunter, Morrilton, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Sherry Eileen Hunter to Russell Albert McNalty. Mr. McNalty is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McNalty, Meaford, Ontario, Canada. Miss Hunter is a freshman at Harding College, and Mr. McNalty is a graduate of Harding College.

The wedding will take place Feb. 10, at 7:30 p.m. in the Church of Christ in Morrilton.

AAUW To Have Antique Display

The members of the local branch of the American Association of University Women are making plans to turn back the pages of history and display the contents of a "Treasure Chest of The Past," showing a part of American culture which has been preserved.

The setting for the display will be the large banquet room at the Rendezvous Jan. 28, from 2:30 to 8:30 p.m.

All entries must be 50 years of age or older. The classifications and the chairman for each will be:

Bric-a-brac, Mrs. E. C. Pearrow; money, Mrs. Robert Burns; glass, Mrs. Ray Yarnell; china, Mrs. George Benson; silver, Mrs. Nick Rand; fire-arms, Mrs. E. R. Stapleton; rugs, Mrs. John Fuller; lamps, Mrs. Frank Holmes; books, Mrs. J. T. Glass; linen, Mrs. Irene Forest; clothing, Mrs. Robert Scott Bell; and pictures, Mrs. Tom Watkins.

Registration, beginning at 9 a.m., Jan. 28 and continuing until 12 noon, will be supervised by Mrs. Oweta Humphries, assisted by Mrs. Perry Mason, Miss Pearl Latham and Miss Bonnie Beach.

If interested in having antiques displayed, call Mrs. Herman West (1461) before Jan. 27. There will be no admission charge, but a silver offering may be made which will go to the scholarship fund.

Miss Hutt Honoree At Birthday Event

Miss Carolyn Hutt was the surprised honoree at a birthday party Jan. 13 in Cathcart Hall. Birthday cake was served by the hostesses, Misses Roselyn Shappley and Margaret Hardy, to the Misses Martha Tucker, Lee Albright, Ginger Jackson, Carroll Leah Pearson, Cathy Sample, Esther Hatcher, Shirley Harvey, Flora Rutherford, Joanne Hartman, Patsy Prevett, Lola Eades, Margie Hyatt, Yvonne Niceswanger, Jayne Van Wey, and the honored guest, Miss Hutt.

Harding Student Marries Girls' Club Presidents In Iowa During Holidays

Nanci Priester, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Priester, Filer, Iowa, and Bill Ramsay, son of Harry Ramsay, Waltham, Mass., exchanged marriage vows Dec. 30 at the home of the bride's parents.

J. P. Williams, minister of the Church of Christ, Jerome, Iowa, performed the double-ring ceremony.

Mrs. Marvin Sperle was matron of honor. Dean Showell, Tremonton, Utah, served as best man.

President of the women's social clubs were guests of Dr. and Mrs. Benson at a bunking party at Camp Tahkodah Jan. 16.

After breakfast Monday morning, Dr. Benson took the guests on a hike (complete with ropes for going down mountains). After the hike, boating and indoor games were enjoyed.

Guests were the Misses Hyatt, Stokes, Rita Jo Baldwin, Peggy Futrell, Ernestine Lattener, Mary Vineyard, Pat Young, Margaret Buchanan, Betty Helm, Glenda Givens, Iva Lou Langdon and Sue Hart.

Jan. 18 — On Monday, Jim Ellis, Foy Carrington and Larry Hall journeyed to Osceola to participate in the Northeastern Arkansas Golden Gloves Tournament.

Ellis, who is the open middle-weight defending champion, has gone unchallenged. Saturday night, however, he will fight an exhibition bout with someone from either Memphis or Missouri.

The other two young pugilists were quite successful Monday night. Carrington, who is slim, wiry and fast, jumped into the fray and proceeded to knockout his opponent in the first 45 seconds of the first round. By virtue of this victory, he has inserted himself into the finals which will take place in the same city on Saturday night.

All three will make the trip to Osceola Saturday night when Carrington goes into the finals.

Wildcats Have Tenth Victory

Jan. 17 — Harding Academy Wildcats rocketed to their 10th basketball quest tonight over the tumbling Cotton Plant Scrappers, 56-40.

Freddy Massey spearheaded the Cat's attack with a variety of hooks and crips that totaled 23 points, high for the game. Gerald Casey, who stashed away 15 markers on long-distance counts, led the way in defense, coming up with 13 rebounds.

Harding, now posting a glittering 10-1 won-lost record, high in state circles, held a 10 point lead over the faltering Scrappers throughout most of the game and then poured it on for their final 16 point bulge.

In the preliminary event, Harding Jrs. downed Cotton Plant's non-varsity squad, 31-27.

The Wildcats now hold a 606 to 475 total point lead against their opponents this season for a 55.0 to 43.1 average per game showing.

One Man's Opinion

By TOADY BEDFORD

PROGNOSTICATOR ASSAILED FOR ANNUAL CAGE FORECAST.. PLEASE KEEP HON. SHIRT ON...

Woe is me. . . I knew it. Last week, if you will be so kind as to remember, I attempted to make a few predictions as to the outcome of the now current hardwood season. Lo and behold the ink wasn't even dry and the papers as yet weren't strewn on the floor of the student union when it hit. The telephone jangled, Western Union rushed in and I don't know what tall . . . Probably if someone had thought of it there would have been a few poison pen letters slipped under the portal of 109 Armstrong.

Thus was the order of events last Friday night when I got home . . . "Once upon a midnight dreary, while I pondered, weak and weary, Over many a quaint and curious volume of forgotten lore — While I nodded, nearly napping, suddenly there came a tapping, As of some one violently rapping, rapping at my chamber door — 'Tis some visitor," I muttered, A tapping at my chamber door — Only this and nothing more."

Upon opening the door there stood, I supposed, a would be assailant, glowering at me with a tattered (probably from a fit of rage) Bison dangling unceremoniously from a huge, brawny pinky. I admitted him after he had thrust his size 12 brogan through the door and mashed me up against the wall crowding himself into the room. Slinking to the most distant corner, I waited for him to start in.

"I have come here in righteous indignation . . . etc. and I . . ." And so it went indefinitely. What proceeded would have rivaled any one of Billy Shakespeare's soliloquies. When the first break came I inquired of him, "Have you tried Campus Players lately?" I sheepishly shut up at his snarled retort.

When his blood pressure dipped below boiling, we discussed the teams and their merits and deficits. He finally pulled out after two hours of concentrated explanation. He was told that that's the way we see it and that's the way it was going to stay.

The other day it took 30 minutes to make the ordinarily two and one-half minute trip from the student union to the dorm. One character went so far as to ask what I meant by "HMMMMmmmm." After looking at the sky, grass, dorm and him I said, "HMMMMmmmm means . . . uh . . . well . . . it just means hmmm."

If one of you guys will take time to check the standings you will find that we were only off one place in each league . . . Not counting the Minors . . . Besides this is only the first week of the schedule. There are six more to go on it. So in the words of our gallant Oriental friends, "Keep honorable shirt on . . . pliz . . ."
