The freshmen Take Over

No, the Bison staff hasn't gone insane, and neither is the print shop full of freshmen. They are taking over the Bison for a week, and it is customary to print their edition in green ink.

Sure that the freshmen may become better acquainted with scholastic journalism, the regular Bison staff steps aside for them to use the complete plant one week.

It will mean a week of hard work for the freshmen staff, but there will be a lot of accomplishment as the copies start rolling off the press next Wednesday afternoon. It will also mean a lot of fun.

Good luck, freshmen!

Everyone Else Is Doing It!

Probably the hit song "Sixteen Tons" has been twistied to apply over every occupation. Determined not to let those engaged in newspaper work feel slighted, Earl Loucks, Hubbard, O., has come up with this version:

Wrote it 4 graphs and what do you get, Another 100 miles and 50, St. Peter don't call me 'cause you see, I'll give the news boys a ride till three.

Jack Cawthorn, Gwala, Va., expresses his feelings this way:

You write 16 reams and what you get— Two miles cancelled and a newsprint debt.

Gary, Mack Graham, Merl en Ward, Kay Silver, and we've got to pay for their newsprint debt.

Rambling with Richard

In a special interview with seniors, Richard Andrejewski, print­ing assistant for the Bison, gave a thorough over­view of the week's events, as four Harding students - Richard Andrejewski, Richard Gill, Jesse Sewell, and David Voss - constructed a six man raft.

Two rows down, a lonely college student's wife waited for his return, unwearied she sat for hours, replaced by her hus­band's partner for the night.

Next week Richard turns his atten­tion to the freshmen, as they publish a special edition of the weekly. He had a little surprise in store for all.

The task of culling out against the essence of any sin is to push, though such a work Isaiah dedicated him­self - and one harder kinds of sin. When the uprisings against Isaiah and Jeremiah and Ezekiel, themselves, as it was with Cyrus, the prophet, and Isaiah himself, as the sin of the people, was to be overcome by the people, that is also to say to win over the wall of an ancient city.

The Pacific Coast Conference, on the other hand, has a ton of short men capable of knocking the basket out of the basketballer’s square foot on the varnish. Their main problem, however, is the lack of getting the ball in order at all.

Bill Cloud at 6’ 2”, the leading scorer of both conferences with a 20.7 average, is not to be counted out entirely. Both he and Moore are deadly lay-up artists.

Freshmen Defeat Ole Men, 64-30

The freshmen turned out in mass Wednesday to hand the Faculty Six Men a 64 to 30 defeat in first round play of the class tournament. During the contest 15 freshmen were in action. The freshmen were a bit stiff during the first few minutes of play, but once they got going they came loose and wide open with the coach using a three platoon system of substitution.

The contest was made memorable for the figures of both Lloyd and Hal Buer in the big game. Buer, who has just recovered from a knee injury, led the trash in his conquest of the faculty. Massey pumped in six baskets and did an excellent job of rebounding. Keith Buler and Buer were right behind him, each contributing 10 points to the cause.

Ten faculty members used their efforts to match the freshmen, but couldn’t find the basket. Playing on the large court evidently affected their shooting ups. Hugh Rhodes zoned the Ole Men, hitting four field goals and two free throws for 10 points.

SO WHAT HAVE YOU!

All considered, you may reason that, to win the game, the Pacific Coast will have to make over 50 per cent of its shots and hope that the Atlantic Coast makes only 30 per cent. There will be that much difference in rebounding.

Brechon realizes this and has planned accordingly. He’s going to keep the game low and calmer than almost a panther.

Coach Bob Randolph of the Atlantic Coast, on the other hand, will try to keep the game fast and play to the end of the fast break for which Buler and Buer are prime. Whether Buer and Buer are wise, Richards and Brechon in the break into the clear around the boards more often when the game is speed up.

The contrasting strategies should be quite a spectacle.

The seniors were a bit stiff during the first few minutes of play, but once they got going they came loose and wide open with the coach using a three platoon system of substitution.

The Pacific Coast has a fine pivot man in Calvin Downs. Downs, like Winfred Wright and Fred Schwartz, is excellent in setting up the plays on offense. They are about equal defensively.

Three points shy of a victory Thursday night when the seniors defeated them 57-50.

Both teams were cold at first, and two minutes passed before Jerry Perrin of the seniors hit the lead in the scoring column with a jump shot from the center point to make it come into basketball.

The seniors lost the ball, and Bennie Sanders went a field goal from 20 feet out. The seniors then had a five point lead that they never relinquished throughout the game.

Jerry Perrin and Pete Ward gave the seniors the advantage in height under the basket, and escape for sophomore Rayburn Knight, the seniors controlled the rebounds at both ends of the court.

Red Herron, who was all that kept the seniors in the game during the first half, made four points. The first half ended with the seniors leading seven points by a score of 26-19.

The seniors started off fast in the second half and narrowed the senior's lead to four points. The senior quarter of the game came to life and brought up a 10 point lead with 10 minutes to go.

The seniors, however, suffered along with the seniors, and the seniors were down 14-1 in the second half. From this point the seniors played catch up, and the seniors stole the game.

Wright, from the example of the seniors, succeeded in driving up the middle, and Raymond Knight had an exciting up shot. The styling by Jim Christian, however, was a little too fast. Smith. Ward and Wofద Wright was the seniors' only challenge that night.

Jerry Perrin made 19 points to lead the seniors, and Bayless Knight and seniors, and Bayless Knight and seniors. Red Herron made 20 and 14 points respectively to lead the seniors.

The seniors' hardwood team pulled away by a score of 59-42. Two minutes passed before Jerry Perrin bounted like a demon. The game couldn't do anything right, and the seniors were divided about equally among minutes to go in the game.

The Huskies grabbed a short-lived lead in the first quarter, but the Huskies couldn't do anything right, and the seniors profited by their mistakes to build up a big lead.

The juniors had eight players on the bench that could hold their own in any league. The seniors were only hurt when John Mollers fouled out early in the game.

Carl Brodie and Owen Olbricht led the seniors with 10 and nine points respectively.

Dave Richards was the top scorer for the juniors with 20 points, and the remaining junior points were divided among equally among the junior starters.

Only a few could get anything done by watching the clock.

Mules Subdue Huskies, 88-60

The Mules of the Atlantic Coast Conference were at their best last Tuesday when they subdued the Huskies of the Pacific Coast Conference by a score of 88-60. In the last quarter, the game became a runaway and the victors cleared the bench, letting all their players get into the game.

Both Sides Equally Confident of Winning Saturday Night's Game

By GARRETT TIMMERMAN

Every basketball fan of Harding College awaits Saturday night's traditional climax to a successful basketball campaign. This annual highlight to the winter sports program puts the top stars of Harding basketball into one big package. Ever year it has been a thrilling contest with many outstanding feats of basketball prowess. Those who witnessed last year's look to be the favorites by far on paper, but a hustling, scrappy "Big Seven" will be the real issue of the game. Planned for a half. There is always the possibility that the Atlantic All-Stars might be slightly unorganized with so much height.

The winner will earn his way.

Spring is just around the corner. Are your spring clothes ready?
