Oliver’s ‘Moods’ To Be Presented On Harding Stage December 8

By Sugar Stewart

Saturday evening Dec. 8 at eight o’clock in the Harding auditorium, the drama club will present “Who’s Moods” in a two-hour program.

Many new numbers have been planned for the program. “Beau Georgia Brown,” “I’m in the Mood for Love,” “Easy Rager,” and “Swan Street Blues.”

Christmas Party To Be Held

Unhurled in the Christmas season, the Student Association is engaging in a three-fold activity schedule for the coming weeks. Christmas dinner will be held in the Christian orphan homes, a county farm Christmas party for all students and an all-school Christmas party are planned for this last school week of 1956.

For the past several weeks the Harding women have been making scarves, mufflers, and doll clothes.

All committee members planning the Christmas activities are being given as gifts to the Christian orphan homes at Christmas. Any remaining purchases will go to children’s homes.

Three awards will be presented to the women creating the best toys as judged by a faculty judging committee. Certificates of honor will be presented to the clubs with the highest percentage of member participation in this activity. All members must be turned in to the club president by Dec. 8, and those in charge of activities must be to the Student Association by Dec. 8.

As the second project, the Student Association is sponsoring a pageant for the people at the county farm. This collection of pageants will be performed through Dec. 8. A committee will be chosen to make purchases of principal costumes to be given to the people.

The activities of the final evening on the campus prior to the holiday season begins early, with the Blessing next week for the final activities before Christmas.

Arrangements for these activities are being made in committees with a total membership of about 75 students. Student and faculty members are serving as committee chairman.

Dean’s List is Announced;
Seven Have 4.0 Average

The Dean’s list has just been released for mid-semester. It is composed of the top 15 percent of the student body. At mid-semester there were 126 on the list with seven having a 4.0 average.

Those with a 4.0 average are Billy Cox, Harold Vanderpool, John Vanderpool, Joe Hightower, Jim Chandler, Sue Frank, Bill Stafford, and Lonnie Cool.

Fredmen making the Dean’s list are:

Doris Ewing, Lavon Hanes, Ramona Alexander,VALUE Singular Bower, Jim Shadela, Anna Marie, Maria Curin, Joanne Rock; Ann Ganche, Oreois Swartz, Clarksdale, Miss., plans to practice medicine. She is a member of the Mohican social club. She is majoring in social science. She is a member of the a cappella, Future Teachers, and is Student Association secretary.

J. O. Ewing, Calvin Peters, Herman Alexander, Wallace Alexander, John Thomas, Sue, Mary Ann Powell, Flora Cowl, Bertha Lee Hooper, Larry Deaver, Dick Richardson, and Terry Richards.

For Accounting Grads

Fredric H. Sanford, Regional Manager of the U. S. Government Account¬ing Office, St. Louis, Mo., will be a guest speaker at the spring accounting students who will be graduating at mid-term or in June, 1957.

Need A Club Project?

Some players of the men's club on the campus have not made definite plans for a project this year simply because they have not decided upon a worthwhile project. The club will do a great service to the men in the dormitory by purchasing song books for verses.

Thus far, there have been few suggestions submitted in the new dorm room that all the men who desired could attend. However, there have been promising suggestions of these which could be done that would be greatly beneficial to the men in this respect.

Second, inasmuch as the reception of the dormitory has a glass front, curtains are needed for the windows; and perhaps a club could undertake this as a project, or at least speak to the administration and let them know of the desperate need.

An excellent dormitory has been provided for upperclassmen. Perhaps a club could undertake this as a project, or at least speak to the administration and let them know of the desperate need.

Delta Chi Omega

Sunday night, Dec. 2, the Delta Chi club had a banking party at the home of their sponsor, Mrs. Kenneth Davis. A meeting was held and plans for a third function were discussed. They decided they would have a coed party together at the Davis home after Christmas. They also selected their May Queen candidate.

Sunday night the Delta Chi's were served pop Prior and cold drinks. Monday morning they had doughnuts and coffee.

The Delta Chi Omega celebrated their ninth birthday Thursday night, Nov. 15, with a supper in the Caruth kitchen. It consisted of Italian spaghetti, combination salad, hot rolls, came and ice cream. While the girls enjoyed the meal, the Mrs. Atkinson spoke to them on "The Art of Conversation." An interesting question and answer period followed. The members planned their Christmas party and chose their candidate for May Queen.

Las Companeras

The Las Companeras met Saturday evening in the Pattie Cobb kitchen for the annual Spanish supper. The menu consisted of Rice Grande salav, Ensalada de repollo, tortillas, Sher da Menial, and Ti- guil. The stars of the entertainment program were Rosalita Ruff, Irene Lawson, and Edna Mills. Plans were made for a Christmas party at the home of the sponsor, Enidait Ruff, for next Sunday night at 8-15. A special guest at the meeting was Maurice Lawson, last year's queen.

Beta Tau Gamma

The Beta Tau's met Saturday to discuss plans for the coming banquet. Several committees were formed to carry out these plans. After a business discussion and redactions, the Beta Tau's had a practice session for the volleyball tournament.

Harding Debaters Win Sweepstakes

Harding College was one of three colleges to win Sweepstakes awards at the East Central Forensic Meet held at State Central State College, Ada, Okla., Nov. 29-Dec. 1.

Southeastern at Winfield, Kans., and Southeastern of Southern Arkansas, Durand, Okla., also copped Sweepstakes awards. Harding College was the only Arkansas school represented at the most attended by 25 schools from Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska, and Arkansas.

In individual categories, Leon Cly- mow, junior from Ponca City, Okla., tied for third place for highest total in the meet. Clymore, who received a silver medal, amassed 36 points against 40 for the top number.

The forensic progression and de­bate divisions concerned the na­tional debate topic. "Resolved: The United States should discontinue direct economic aid to foreign countries." Harding entered these last two divisions only.

Rather than being given straight wins and losses, each participant was rated on a scale from one to five so that the Sweepstakes was based on total accumulations of points. Ulrey said.

The Harding students, making up these senior men's, one senior women's, and one junior men's deb­ate teams, participated in the meet. Senior men's teams were Dean Mc­Campbell and Bill Floyd; Leon Cly­more and Gary McCrady; and Donald Dunaway and Larry Roberta Agnew; junior's teams were David and Peter Smith. Junior men's, Edith Robinson and Ron Ren, Duane McCrady and Nickoloff, both received Excellent ratings and all the others Good.

practicing with thin air, and had tennis court. Not that I'm afraid, let's just say I'm nervous. The ground seemed rather rough and I didn't wait to see if it measured six feet, I got out! The Ole Men scored early in the first quarter and then, in their first quarter and then, the Southeastern, 15-13, reach the finals.

In other tournament games, the Southeastern bested the Juniors, 26-0, in second-round action and the Freshmen topped the Grads, 19-13.

The ride to the throne was by no means cushioned. The Ole Men finished with the South, 7-6, edged the Seniors, 15-13, and then "outed" the Freshmen, 15-13, for the title.

Again, as last year, the committee of faculty members who selected the job of selecting the outstanding back and lineman of the Southeastern Athletic Football Game are to be applauded. Everyone, no doubt, had his own personal choice which might have deviated from the committee's. However, the statistics will back up Bob Fletcher as the game's outstanding back and lineman as well as the Southeastern Athletic Football Game to be supplied.

The Ole Men scored early in the first period of Saturday's game when Ganna ripped the ball loose and then, after setting it into the end zone from seven yards out, Bob Fletcher picked up the ball and climbed on the line for the point after touchdown.

The final touchdown came in the last period of the game. Ganna opened up for a 40-yard pass play, which totaled the long three and then the end zone unscared. The line was the same and the Ole Men scored the final point of the game.

The line's choice wasn't quite as obvious as Jesse Fleming. Most fans put a little more attention to line play, since most of the action originates and culminates in the backbone of the defense. The committee, however, as instructed before the season began, kept their eyes on the line, which is that part of the game that everyone likes to play a role in. Before the nets are tucked away and the Southeastern Athletic Football Game is over, we can whip ourselves into shape.

"They're a bunch of scrappers," Ellis said of his boxing crew. "They never think of them as afraid of getting hit, and they don't mind slaming you." But the freshmen are few, and they don't mind being hit. It pays off in the long run.
