"Barber Of Seville" Here Soon

The opera is sung in a late translation of English featuring the highest caliber talents.

In this season's roster many states are represented, including North Carolina, Wisconsin, Texas, Georgia, and Virginia, and others. The debate of whether opera should be sung in English rather than the language in which it was written is one that has been warmly debated for years. There are some who cling to the theory that the work should be performed as the composer and librettist wrote it, regardless of whether the listener can understand the language. Others, realizing that in most European countries opera are performed in the language of the country, regardless of the language of the composer and the librettist, are beginning to ask why Americans who have opera in a language they cannot understand.

"Barber Of Seville" Coming To Harding Stage Monday

The National Grass Roots Opera Company, which has contributed greatly to a new interest in opera throughout the nation, will appear in the Harding College auditorium March 18 in a production of "The Barber of Seville," by Rossini.

This unique group was formed in 1954 by a family of Harding alumni, A. J. Fletcher, who realized there was a wealth of talent who could not get a foothold in the metropolitan centers. Accordingly, he organized the Grass Roots Opera Movement to give an outlet to some of these young artists.

"Barber Of Seville" at last! How lucky can a fellow get—\-I had to try seven girls this time!"
Thanks For Your Support!

To all those who helped make the Bison All-Star game a success, the Bison says "Thanks." We're not for the cooperation we received, which would not have been a success. First, the Bison desires to express gratitude to all the players, girls, and minor league men for their enthusiasm in the game and the sportsmanship displayed throughout.

Also, our thanks go to the coaches of the two major league teams, Bob Tipton and Dr. Cliff Games, who did such an excellent job of grooming these teams. And to Carl Beck who co-operated so well with the Bison in the use of intramural equipment.

From all the players, minor league men - generated so well with the Bison in the use of intramural equipment, Bob Tipton and Dr. Cliff Games supported it with your presence. We hope you were not disappointed.

Don't Be Afraid To Fail!

Have you ever been a failure? Perhaps you have failed at something during your lifetime. Maybe your grade average has failed to reach the desired mark, or you failed to win a sport's contest. Maybe you failed to make friends with those you knew you should have.

But remember, failure is not failure and there are many failures repeated day after day. Why do you fail? That question must be answered by you.

Don't let others decide for you. Don't let others decide for you.

By profit by your mistakes.

Remember: Babe Ruth! His name stands out in the history of baseball because of his unspeakable total of 3,000 home runs. He never won a World Series. He never won a World Series. He never won a World Series. Yet he is revered as one of the greatest of the great men in the world. They all made mistakes, but they rose to the top because they refused to let their mistakes overcome them.

Ben Franklin made a list of thirteen subjects which he felt necessary or desirable for him to acquire and master. He devoted a week of strict attention to each subject. After thirteen weeks, he had mastered all the subjects.

Here are the thirteen points—see if you can’t adapt them to your own life or to your living. See if you can. If not, see if you can.

Choose the subjects from this list that will best benefit you for your living attached. See if you can. If not, see if you can.

It may seem much easier to overcome failure. In any case, it is definitely more desirable.

Christianity is a religion of love. The majority of the world is filled throughout the pages of the New Testament. This is love. Love is like a stream of cool water flowing through the earth, refreshing and uplifting. Jesus said in Mark 12:30-31, "These two things remain the most important. I compiles are to love the Lord thy God with all thy mind and with all thy strength and with all thy might. And the second is like unto it, thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. There is none other commandment greater than these."

Do you think one can love enough? Can there be love for everyone? Can there be love for everything?

I believe that everyone can love more. I believe that everyone can love more. I believe that everyone can love more. I believe that everyone can love more.

Suppose I tried to convince you that a certain type of love was essential for food by offering you the following argument. I might insist as strongly as I pleased that it was necessary, but after you had eaten part of the cob and husk, would you then love the corn? Would you then love the grains, Christianity with love left out of the toes? According to Jesus, these two things remain the most important. What an ear of corn is without the kernels. What an ear of corn is without the kernels. What an ear of corn is without the kernels. After returning the next morning, you would probably declare that this little lady had followed the instructions perfectly. But if you had eaten part of the cob and husk, you would probably declare that this little lady had followed the instructions imperfectly.

What an ear of corn is without the kernels. What an ear of corn is without the kernels. What an ear of corn is without the kernels.

Do you think one can love enough? Can there be love for everyone? Can there be love for everything?

I believe that everyone can love more. I believe that everyone can love more. I believe that everyone can love more. I believe that everyone can love more.

The following letter is non-official, I am happy to pass it on to the student body with the hope that it, along with the previous editorial, will cause us to think more about chapel conduct.

Dear Editor:

It seems like we are in respect to the "Sunglads," or "Chapel Conduct—2." page two, March 6, 1957. It is a well written article, full of wonderful ideas. The writer has stated some facts which need to be supported by evidence. There are too many cases of church members who act in spirit and in grace but who have not been instructed as should be. And we believe that we are not in a better church service, because we have not been instructed as should be. And we believe that we are not in a better church service, because we have not been instructed as should be.

The last portion of the article was excellently written and has been agreed with several previous opinions stated.

The changes of fermontization have been raised against some of the programs this year—and other years. The word fermontization means nothing or less of value. I ask the question of such members, is it really worth while to be fermontized? Is it worth while to be fermontized? Is it worth while to be fermontized?

Omega Phi

Friday night, March 8, the Blue Room of the Rendezvous provided an illusion of the Orient, courtesy of the Omega Phi's and their escorts. The theme, Oriental Restaurant, was enhanced by the burning of incense before the Buddha, giving a ceremonial atmosphere.

The theme was carried forth in a typical oriental restaurant decorated with candles, fans, Chinese lanterns, and a display of original paintings, one being 400 years old. Each table had a centerpiece, Chinese dolls, and an oriental flower arrangement.

The welcome was given by Sallie Turner and the response by Harold Vanderpool. A Chinese dinner was prepared by Thos. Chan and served by But Mendiola and Anako Kakahi and Chan Sii Lam who were wearing their native costumes. After the meal, Linda Bennett was presented with a gift for the "typical finals." Sallie Turner was surprised with a gift for being the best pledge master for Camp Wyldewood.

Lions Take Championship
With Win over Falcons

Revenge was the biggest incentive for the rampaging Lions last Wednesday night as they repayed the slapping Falcons in the school championship test by the count of 52-25.

Not only were the husaling Lions out for the top crown all, but they were determined to settle and old score of an early season loss to the previously unbeaten Falcons.

A Drowned Rat?
No, Just A Bison Feature Writer

BY JACKIE ANGUS

If you notice somebody walking across campus resembling a drowned rat, don’t be alarmed, it’s only me. How do I know how a drowned rat looks? Well, I don’t really, but after swimming class I certainly know what one feels. It’s not that I can’t swim, I can...

However, this didn’t discourage me. I started paddling down stream across me — I mean down pool — half way across, the “dog-paddle” failed so my water treading ability came in handy. The only trouble with this device was that so much was gained. Resorting to floating only lead me to conclude that a rock. I submerged. On the third time up someone dragged me out. This was a difficult task because when I had my head in the pool.

Freddy signed for intramurals that fall. It was little more than mediocre. It was then he was beginning form and confidence as the three-quarter mark passed. Then the All-Star team included the mini-looking, bald-haired Al-\-Samin's name on it.

Still not completely convinced, Freddy went to Saturday night's game with little notion of winning the Bison Trophy. The night before he had led the Mohicans to an upset win over the Sigma Taus by scoring 27 points, many of which beautifully executed shot blocks. He passed it off by paying tribute to his damaged left knee could shots from the field (47 percent) while a brash youngster at Harding

Mohicans And Koinonias Reach Club Basketball Finals

In The Dressing Room

“Early Lead Defeated Us” Says Tipton

The desert thing to actually playing a basketball game is to lend an ear to the after-game dressing room conversations that go on between the players and the coaches themselves.

They rebash the good and the bad of each contest wishing they could hold onto history if it was good, and wishing they could do something to remove history if it was bad.

The following are some bits of conversation which were heard after the 1957-58 basketball season.

final contest. The game was tied at six times during the second half.

Jump shot artist Dave Richards of the Sigma Taus made the best game of his life.

Larry Peebles, with 23 points, led the Koinonias to an easy 28 to 26 victory over the Lambda Sigma-

Jungle League All-Stars
Edge Strong Air League
In Bison All-Star Fray

The coordinated Jungle League All-Stars, led by Freddy Massey's 18 points, downed the Air League All-Stars, 54-50, in the Harding Bison All-Star Basketball game Saturday night in Rhodes Memorial Field House.

Both teams were erratic at times and experts at others. However, the Jungle League, coached by Cliff Nason's, grabbed a narrow 12-7 lead in the first 15 minutes of action and never gave it up from then, although the Air League pushed with two points, 52-50, with 15 seconds left in the game.

At that juncture, forward Leon McQueen nailed the Jungle League's Calvin Jones as he was going up for an attempted layup. Draws were both free shots. As the Air League hurried the ball into play, quail shot Flashboard of the Jungle's made a clean away and the remaining seconds melted away before any more points could be mustered.

Massey, who was unanimously selected as the game's outstanding player, was hot for the Air League. The blond sophomore, playing in his first all-star game, led his team to a 24-14 spread at mid-quarter by dashing eight points, and in the third quarter when the Air League fell behind 10 points, poured in an important six points.

Massey's nearest rival was Vernon Massey and Ted Lloyd of the Air and Jungle Leagues respectively who both scored 10 points.

It was a defensive game from the start. Coach Bob Tipton's sharpshooter, Dwight Smith, and Harold Norwood, troubled the Jungle's tall boys at times by breaking the ball, and Gunna's Pete Bishin, Keith Boler and Flashboard did the same. There were a dozen blocked shots Saturday night, especially by Watch Alexander, Massey, Lloyd, and McQueen.

After the Jungle League had pulled to a 24-14 lead at intermission, the 6'-4" Lloyd went out of the game with a sprained ankle. Immediately, Tipton's bunch clamped the gap, 31-29, with four minutes gone. But Schwartz hit two consecutive sets shots from 18 feet and Bill Clad nicknamed two hooks over McQueen's timely assist.

However, F. McQueen dashed two free throws, and following two one-pointers by McQueen and a layup by V. Massey, Stone sank two gift tosses to put the Jungle's out on front again. Shortly thereafter, Lloyd re-entered the game with a taped ankle and Gunna's bunch picked up another 10-point lead.

With 45 seconds remaining in the game the Jungle League held a six-point lead, 52-46, but 6'-4" Dave Richards, who had previously failed to rent for the Air League except for one layup, blocked two straight jump shots and a free throw to pull his team within one point. It was here that Down sank the deciding points after being foiled by McQueen.

Independent Team Takes 8-1 Record
To State Tournament At Little Rock

Harding College has an unofficial entry in the state AAU Tounament at Conway this week. The Fig-ugly Wiggly Supermarket team composed entirely of Harding students and coached by Gil Truitt, also a student, are AAU North central district champions and carry on 8-1 record into the tournament.

The team, which advanced to the state semifinals before being eliminated last year, is even stronger this year with the addition of stellar players like Freddie Massey, who won the most valuable player award in the Black All-Star game Saturday night. Red Norwood, who holds the single game scoring record here at Harding, Leon McQueen, Dwight Smith, and Dale Flashboard, Truitt feels that they have justifiable hopes of playing in the finals Saturday night.

In the wake of repeated rumors that Harding will have an intercollegiate sports in the near future, signiificant will be the result of battles with college quintets entered in the tournament won by Arkansas State Teachers College last year. State Teachers' victory is not entered this year but A. C. members, Ochsner and Hendrix as well as 8-9 Teachers' junior varsity are entered.

The Piggies have already stamped 10 of their own. On college competition having drubbed Little Rock, 76-50, and enured two Bouler College victories. Jones, who is 11.4 in average; Keith Boler, runner up to Lloyd in the intramural scoring race, and who is 11.4 in AAU, erect Dave Richards, who can be a great ball handler and defensive guard in the campus. Truitt's charges boast as much talent as those Norwood, McQueen, Smith, Flashboard, and Bill Clad relies on nearly as much time in play as the regulars. This strong bench is a key factor in the Fig-ugly Wiggles bid for the state championship.

The Piggies lone loss was an off night defeat by the Stuttgart Inter-dependents, which was composed of remaining A. C. graduates, who have since joined the Warren team. The Hardgolds had their revenge in a return match drawing them 50 to 53.

Truitt rates the aforementioned Warren team and Hale Electric of Hot Springs which has Mental Walker, former University of Arkinas ace, as two of the strongest teams in the tournament.
