Harding's Student Association scores another first! This is Harding's contribution to the cause of promoting greater unity and understanding between Christian colleges and, of course, without taking his cooperation of the other colleges they could not have happened. This is another great example of Christian cooperation and understanding between the two colleges.

Letter Number Two.

There is a type of preaching called “life-situation Oratory.” This seems to be the primary reason he chooses his sermon according to what he thinks is spiritually needed of the congregation happen to be.

It appears to have become a set procedure to ad�ee to apply every sermon a person speaks in chapel

That should not be necessary. Consider:

We would consider it foolish to clap at a church service but to have that same service in chapel and an invitation to applaud every time someone speaks in chapel. When you take it to free from the church in order to worship. You can worship God anywhere.

It is stealing, if you ever wanted to do foreign mission work, this place is crying as did the people in Macedonia. I would write more when I am less dispirited.

Bob Anderson Gives Life to Help the Deaf

By Bonnie Porter

Since 1949 when Sam Rooks, along with a few others, organized the Psychology Club at Harding, the Sign Language Club, if you prefer the correct English, has been shown by students in learning the sign language for the deaf. Bob Anderson has gone to college to help gain the knowledge necessary for this group of people.

Purpose of the Club

Bob Anderson, a member of the psychology club, has worked with the deaf during his junior and senior years. He feels that studying the sign language will help him gain better insight into the mind of the deaf.
