In an attempt to achieve communication of thoughts, ideas, and emotions with anyone in the civilized world could comfortably travel with his Athenian colleague concerning ten in one language could be read by the world, man's tool meshed with every other man's tool, needed is one communicative tool - any one could only communicate if the imaginary combatants could only communicate or the world would be realized.

Colgan said that he gained all of the facts that an international language-selecting project was convened, with delegates from every continent, including Russia, Japan, German, and English. It could even be divided into the languages of all the groups, other "nigger-lovers," "communists" or "Gangsters." The project was an international concern and was divided into suspicious ethnic, ideological, and national groups. If only the world could be divided among them, the efforts could be resolved if the imaginary combatants could only communicate.

"We have a common enemy," said Colgan. "We have a common cause. It is divided into suspicious ethnic, ideological, national, and geographical groups. If only the world could be divided among them, the efforts could be resolved if the imaginary combatants could only communicate."

Regina's Dates Have Variety
In Entertainment At Tahkodah

Monday, April 27, witnessed Regina's outing at Camp Tahkodah. The 'play by play' rendition would begin with Denny Berryhill and Anne Bozarth leaving at 5:15 a.m. in order to reserve our special place among the facilities.

At 7:00 a.m. the other 11 couples began the adventure.

Regina's dates were: Carolyn Barton, Ed Higgitty; Regina Gray, Joe Beachart; Betty Floyd, John Small; Ernest Smith, Warren Ganthorp; Carie Push, Flip Van Winkle; Shirley Sisson, Andrew Stoutte; Donna Heman, Bud Geary; Marilyn Smith, Warren Guntharp; Betty Floyd, Jack Ryan; Erma Sisco, Andre Stotts; Donna Bill Grady; Jo and Joe Byron.

The 'play by play' facilities.

The class prophetically engaged with Donny Berryhill and Anne Bixler leaving at 5:15 a.m. in order to reserve a special place among the facilities. Regina's and their dates were: Regina Clary, Joe Bozarth; Smith, Warren Guntharp; Betty Floyd, Jack Ryan; Erma Sisco, Andre Stotts; Donna Bill Grady; Jo and Joe Byron.

The treasure hunt proved dangerous. The clues led the couples over streams, broken logs, and potholes. The treasure was finally located within seeing distance of the camp.

Kappa Phis, Dates Go To Wyldewood

Early Monday morning, Apr. 13, 117 of our Kappa Phi social club and their dates went to Wyldewood for their third function. The function was a partaking (un)healthy and a treasure hunt. With plenty of pancakes and sausages the breakfast turned out a culinary and several boasted early risers were able to obtain valuables by having a contest to see who could find the best pancakes.

Unusual Voice: Unusual Girl

by Bonnie Perini

One of the most extraordinary voices ever known was that of Lucrezia Aguiari, an eighteenth-century Italian operatic singer. She had a four-octave range that was from middle C to an octave more than the average soprano. A present-day vocalist, perhaps of equal ability, is the Peruvian soprano, Yma Sumac, who has a four-octave range.

Women with such incredible compass are almost unknown. But occasionally one does appear and such is the voice of pretty Donna Adams, eighteen-year-old daughter of Mrs. Raymond Stew­art of Wilton Springs, Missouri.

Donna, presently a freshman at Harding, is a wondrous range of four octaves with a singing range just under four octaves. In comparison a clarinet has a three and one-third octave and a flute’s range is three octaves.

Donna has been studying voice for the past four years and relatively few of these lessons have been private. Her musical ability is not limited to voice. For two years she studied piano. She has also become adept at playing a number of other instruments including the flute, piccolo, and trombone.

Her singing experience has consisted primarily of three years of high school choral work. She entered college after her junior year. In high school she entered the Missouri High School Choral Contests each year, both in choral and instrumental classes. Among other accomplishments in these contests Donna received a number-one rating in voice.

The first solo experience came for her in college when she was in the eighth grade. While still in high school she sang on numerous occasions before civic organizations at the YWCA and in the church. Donna was soloist in the university chorus and the leading soloist at Christmas holidays where she was soloist in an opera arias with a group from the chorus who made an Armed Forces tour.

What are Donna’s musical plans for the future? Present plans for the straight A student include a B.A. degree in music. Until a few months ago she entertained the ambition to enter the opera field. However, two summers at Wyldwood resulted in an acquaintance with Lewis Lebirdon of Little Rock, who has stifled this desire.

On May 11 Donna and Lewis plan to be married. To Donna a normal marriage is the most important thing in her life, and she feels that any possible singing career must be sacrificed because of her belief that a woman’s place should be in the home.

She thinks, however, that she might like to teach private voice lessons in her home and maybe some day after rearing a family, she would consider teaching music in a high school.

With more training and experience perhaps Donna could be another Aguiari or Sumac but after all, which career is more important, singing or marriage? Donna answers, “marriage.”

A Cappella, Chorale Sing in Opera ‘Norma’

Approximately 50 members of Harding’s A Cappella and Choral, under the direction of Kenneth Davis, will sing in the chorus of the opera, ‘Norma,” in Little Rock on May 3.

This opera by Vincenzo Ballini will be the climax to the weekly Festival of Arts.

The Arkansas State Opera Co. has engaged William Lewis, youngest member of the Metropolitan Opera, to take the male lead. Barbara Stevenson of Dallas will sing the title role of ‘Norma.”

Duo soloists will be Lorene Lloyd and Sheldon Soffer, musical co-ordinator for the American Opera Society, will be the conductor.

Bisons Drop Two Against Ozarks

The Bisons dropped two games to the Ozarks by identical scores, 3-0.

In the first game Steve Mayfield went all the way allowing only seven hits and striking out nine but could get no support from his teammates either in the field or at bat. Only one of the runs was earned as Mayfield took his first game of the year against these three.

In the second game of the twin-bill Larry Poole worked on the mound for the Bisons but could fare no better than did Mayfield as Ozarks plated up three unearned runs and defeated the Bisons by the same score, 3-0. Harding had several chances to score in the second game but couldn’t find the right combination as they left eight men on base. The bright spots of the two games was two victories and one defeat.

The Bisons now have a very good record of nine victories against only three set-backs.

Against Ozarks

In the first game of the year against Mayfield as could fare no better than did 3-0. ed the Bisons by the same score, 3-0. Harding got the win and had looked very strong in the last three meets tying Arkansas Tech and defeating Hendrix and Ouachita. The trackmen should reach the peak of their season, if they continue to improve, when they journey to Little Rock, May 6-7 in participating in the state A&M meet. Harding shows definite strength in the distance races and the hurdlers and should account quite well for themselves in these events against SWC-wide competition.

Against Ozarkas Friday, weakness in fields events almost cost the Bisons the meet. This has been a big problem for Coach Greg Hover all season. Ed Hoverman has placed consistently all season in the long jump and broad jump. A high wind hampered the performances of trackmen as low times were recorded in all running events. Lewis Walker was high point man for the meet with 161/2 points. Lewis won the high and low hurdles, the 220 yard dash, and won on the winning 440 yard relay. Roger Brown and Fred Mason remained undefeated in their events as they won the mile run and 880 yard dash respectively.

SUMMARY

440 yard relay — Harding 2 — Ozarkas 0 — Time 4:20.20

Shot put — York, O; 2. Scotti, H; 3. Citty, M — Distance 42.4.

CLOSER TO SCHOOL
Harding Drops Fourth Game
To College of the Ozarks

The Bison baseball team finally broke out of their hitting slump but fell to College of the Ozarks at Clarksville by the score of 6-3 and 4-6. Ed Higginbotham, Jim Brown and Doyle Wood all suffered from control problems in the first game, giving the Pirates the win.

G. B. Baggett, director, is president of the Arkansas College of the Ozarks.

The most famous poem ever written about baseball is "Casey at the Bat," which took about 75 years ago by a former Harvard pitcher, Ernest Thayer of Worington, Mass. "Casey at the Bat" was the second, in which they scored 7 times on only 1 hit and 6 free passes. The second contest saw the Tigers strike quickly with 2 runs in the first and on two walks, Harding added 2 more in the third but lost the lead when the Bisons pulled away in the fourth and scored 3 more times in the fourth and fifth in the sixth and striped a last-inning rally by the Tigers, allowing only one run on two hits and an error after two were out.

Harding's most successful batmen were Gerald Casey and Ken Nichols, who had 5 for 7 and 5 for 5 respectively. Joe Hightower contributed his share with 3 for 5. The Bisons now have a season's record of 9 wins, 5 losses and 1 tie. All 5 losses, however, are against AIC teams.

Brush up a combined total of 10 bases on balls. Steve Mayfield and Doyle Wood suffered from the same malady in the finals when they walked totaled the same amount.

In the first game Harding accumulated 11 hits to 7 for the Bisons, but were unable to group them close enough together to sustain a rally. Harding's big inning was the sixth, in which they scored 7 times on only 1 hit and 6 free passes.

The second contest saw the Tigers strike quickly with 2 runs in the first and on two walks, Harding added 2 more in the third but lost the lead when the Bisons pulled away in the fourth and scored 3 more times in the fourth and fifth in the sixth and stripped a last-inning rally by the Bisons, allowing only one run on two hits and an error after two were out.
