Dear John Allen:

It was kind of you to write me on December 15. I am grateful for every expression of good will that it bears.

Your contribution to Freed-Hardeman College meant a great deal to us when you were here. Your expressions of confidence that continue in our work mean even more. You have no idea what these things do to inspire us onward. Frankly, we need that kind of inspiration often. There are many problems in our work, yet there are many bright spots and the bright ones outshadow all others.

You are contributing much to the service of the Lord. I can think of no better work than that which you are doing. Frankly, I have been preaching for the church in Henderson for the past seven weeks. The old feeling of located work revives in me. It is a real temptation. There have been more than seventy people respond to the invitation during these weeks. That encourages me also. I am glad that I had the opportunity to preach even to the students. This is about the first occasion of its kind in my past ten and one half years.

Come to see us whenever you can. Very best wishes to you and yours for the coming New Year.

Fraternally,

H. A. Dixon
