Dear John Allen:

You are going to baptize every one in Baxter before the meeting is over. Good news keeps coming our way. Last night Irene Richardson called us to tell of Lawrence and S.N. Barr. We were mighty happy to hear of them.

You have shaken some of the old hold outs loose. I tried every way I knew but just couldn't seem to do the trick. Just goes to show that one will succeed where another failed. It really makes no difference to me. I rejoice in the fact.

Are you in school this year? I tried to get into Johns Hopkins but they have a waiting list and they do not care much for undergraduate students. By the Spring semester there should be room.

The work here is moving along but slowly. We have made increases in every department and have broken all records more than once. Right now things are slow but that is due to the honeymoon being over -- as you say.

I'm sorry that we never made connections before I left Baxter. I went by your office several times but never found you in. When I was in Baxter in July you were holding a meeting somewhere. Did you have anything in particular in mind?

Brotherly,

Demore Farley
