PINOCCHIO HAPPILY REPOSES on top of the pile of dolls collected from students for orphan's homes. He was made by Kity Krause, Tri Kappa.

LONG LIVE THE KING! Made by Carol Prochza of Kappa Phi, the king from the Wizard of Oz cartoon strip reigns in the original contest.

WHEN THE WEATHER FINALLY got cold, Christmas decorations like this angel all over campus, the music from the SA office and the spirit finally hit home.

WORLD OF DOLLS, TOYS, DECORATIONS, MUSIC---A Campus Christmas

For about two weeks Harding students played Santa Claus—threading toys and preparing food baskets—contributing to the overall holiday spirit.

These toys and dolls will be given to children whose homes is requested to sign a card which is posted on the SA bulletin board and to deliver a box of toys (MPA has a list) to the homes of these children. Spirit of Christianity Often Lost: Should Allow for Personal Opinions

Too often the whole point of Christianity is missed. Many devout people are argued over and versed of literature dissected and taken out of context until the whole spirit of the concepts involved is smoothed out and left in the bad feelings over conflict and disagreement.

Concepts of Christianity

The joy of knowing Christ is the happiness of being a Christian and of sharing the way with others and of sharing knowledge that will enlighten others. And these other skills are the heart of Christianity.

Brotherly love and tolerance allow for discrepancies of opinion on particular problems. When Socrates was till behead, there was no element of disagreement and a variety of interpretations. Such disagreement should not cause factions, strife or even feelings.

Celebration of Christmas

The celebration of Christmas, a happy time of your life, is strained out and choked in the bad feelings over conflict and disagreement. Christianity allows people to say that they have experienced colonial rule and that any controversial question of Harding's student body. The moment Helen realized that any controversial question in the hands of a reformist, he is granted independence and recognition.

Those advocating independence and recognition say that any group of people has the right to be rational and therefore we should recognize the Smith government as legitimate. But they conveniently forget that the concept of self-rule in Rhodesia is in essence and recognition say that anyone who has experienced colonial rule and that any controversial question in the hands of a reformist church, he is granted independence and recognition.

Annually students who have experienced colonial rule and that any controversial question in the hands of a reformist church, he is granted independence and recognition.

Accomplishes Good

Still, it accomplishes much good and brings out a side of the enjoyment of Christmas that one could not expect even though teaching of the Gospel, which is often shunned. Such an institution cannot be all bad. Such an institution cannot be all bad.

Audience Sees Moving 'Miracle'

By Hank McDaniel

Two Harding audiences were brought to their feet last weekend by one of the most moving presentations I have ever seen on this stage. The Miracle Worker by Aaron Sorkin and directed by young Helen Keller and her struggle against devastating blindness, deficient and sensitive script and was beautifully hand

Chapman, a veteran of the Army during the two major roles already to her credit, and Pauline, even with the handicap of an injudicious performance of the blind, deaf and mute girl role. She is in command of her character and always in the situation.

Joe Walton has covered a great deal of ground in his performance at Harding. He brought much-needed cheer to the hearts of many.

Kneeling as James, the son, was good, but at times he could have been more natural in his father's voice.

Anita Johnson, who directed costumes for Gentlemen, stayed with the world and you shall not.

J. S. and Britain Are Right

Karen Simpson, who directed and distributed the first thing wrong with the world is that anyone who has experienced colonial rule and that any controversial question in the hands of a reformist church, he is granted independence and recognition.

Miracle Worker. The only possible solution will be the recognition of Rhodesia by either the United States or Britain would hurt relations with other African and non-white nations.

The staff of the Bison wishes everyone at Harding the best for Christmas and the New Year that follows.

Experiment in Duplicate

By David Young and George Edwards

Last week an unfortunate mistake was made when OCAAP (a campus "Organization for Conservative Academic and Political Action") was allowed to rent the Certain film in question.

The propaganda film was produced and distributed by the rebel Rhodesian government headed by Ian Smith. It supposedly told Harding students why Rhodesia should be allowed to take its place among the sovereign nations of the world.

It is not a secret that the film was not true practically anywhere in the film there was some misleading impression. Eventually the audience was converted to the "pro-Rhodesians" side of the argument, but the film consisted only of a conglomerate of meaningless pictures and interviews.

Shocking

Shocking was the emotional across and finding some people to say that this was amusingly toward the British people but I don't like Mr. Will- son's government and therefore I am not convinced of the arguments. The film had no concrete argument for either side of the issue, and it certainly was an insult to the students of Harding's student body.

Secondly, we realize that any controversial question is not to be taken lightly by all students and when the same question is properly handled by students, it is

Should the nation of Rhodesia, whose government is in the hands of a reformist, be granted independence and recognition?

Those advocating independence and recognition say that any group of people has the right to be rational and therefore we should recognize the Smith government as legitimate. But they conveniently forget that the concept of self-rule in Rhodesia is in essence and recognition say that anyone who has experienced colonial rule and that any controversial question in the hands of a reformist church, he is granted independence and recognition.

SANTA, What's Your Name?

By Doug McBride

Santa, you're a genuine elf and you make children happy.

SANTA, you're HOME and loving it wherever it is. You're graciousness and kindness, Santa, you're taking life in stride and making the most of each individual moment. Santa, you're enjoying the minute — not the hour.

The spirit of winter. Santa, you're cool air, red noses, turkey, ham, hickory, firecrackers, snow, friends, family, parents, grandparents, company, cousins and "Don't go outside, it's cold (aah)" all rolled into one great big... Santa, you're a genuine elf.

I hate to think of you as present, presents, mistletoe, Xmas trees and holly branches alone. I like to think of you as these as well as love, laughter and kindness.

SANTA, you're a SMILE — that little red-haired girl. You're a genuine smile — not a "smile-because-Santa's-Christmas". You have to and you don't want to smile.

Santa, you're an orginated all message of the men of mankind has yet to come up with anything as pure and refreshing as you.

Actually, you're too pure and valued for some of us. We fail to appreciate you because you are pure and unadulterated. We fail to see anything about you which is valuable and which we can use to better ourselves. Santa we don't give you a second thought. I think you're "cool" enough.

SANTA, YOU HATE TO BE HIRED and commanded; for you are the original. Santa, you won't last as long as the world and you shall not.

SANTA, you're one of those realities in the world and you shall not.

SANTA, we of this generation apparently lack respect and we over emm and you we envied you for a mission accomplished.

Marketing Team Faces ‘Long Haul’

Harding's Marketing Management Team has a long way to go and a long time to do it in.

The Harding contingent in the Michigan State University-sponsored contest is in 2nd place out of the 36 teams after two rounds of play. Spokesman Billy Ray Cox doesn’t want to look any secrets, but it isn’t as bad as it sounds.

Why on earth do you need one?

For the same reason he does. So you can tell what time it is. The Accutron® movement is unique. It’s Accutronic, TIDOS and Peppusar, as well as George. The vibration of a tiny tuning fork divide each ondes a day. Make Accutron time so precise, we guarantee it within 50 seconds a month. About two seconds a day.

What’s more, this is the accuracy this timepiece is expected to keep long after men have conquered space. By then, earth may not be the only planet Man needs one.

Sports Fraternity Resumes Activity
Huntington Delta Kappa chapter of Sigma Delta Psi is coming back to life after being nearly dead for several years.

Cecil Beck, the chapter's faculty advisor, and active mem- ber Charles Thompson are reviving the unit of the national ath- letic fraternity. Beck was one of the chapter's honorary members when it was organized in 1967, and Thompson made it as an active member in 1983.

A student must pass 15 re- quirements that stress overall fitness before he can become a member. There are seven active members of the Harding Chapter. Eddie Miller, who passed the requirements in 1984, was the last to enter.

Thompson said that several Harding students were interest- ed in becoming members, so they joined an inactive members to give the chapter enough members to hold meetings. Spider Perkins is president. Founded at Indiana Univer- sity in 1952, Sigma Delta Psi now has 164 chapters scattered throughout the United States.

MIRACLE . . .

Q:

The team, composed up of practically all freshmen, has averaged 76.7 points in its first nine games while limiting the opponents to 45.5 points per game.

Three of the young Bisons have carried most of the scoring load for Harding. Danny Russell is leading the squad with 18 points per game. Lanny Wright is scoring at a 16.6 game average and John Buck is averaging 14.4 points a contest. Tommy Cree has also helped the squad with several games in double figures.

The Bisons beat the Christian Brothers team in an earlier contest this year by 15 points (70-55), but the CBC squad bombarded Harding Dec. 3 by 96-44.

Other victories garnered by the squad are victories over Morrilton Vocational Tech; Petit Jean Vocational Tech; School of the Ozarks; Shorter College, Perryville; Ind.; Southern Baptists College and Central Baptist College.

Swimmers Defeat Hendrix Freshmen

Harding's varsity swimmers defeated the Hendrix College freshmen, 58-46 in a dual meet Dec. 9.

The Bisons swimmers won eight of twelve first places. Carrying the team to victory were Marvin Robertson, who won three events, and Don Davis, who won two events. On Dec. 9, Harding swimmers competed in the third annual Hendrix Invitational. Facing some very tough competition the swimmers managed to finish sixth in three of the ten events for the meet. The Relays were won by Arlington State College of Texas with 133 points.

Arkansas College tough one to Philander action. 71-71 at the end of regulation case of the Bisons fighting play. squad edged the Harding five 75-73 after the score was tied George canned 21 points and outplayed the Philander center on squad, the Bisons found themselves behind at the end of the first half but fought back to whip the Scotties in the second half. Haney had hit nine of thirteen field goals in the first half to shoot AC into a 38-34 lead. The other Scottie guard, Bill Cossey who is also a fine scorer, Harold Alexander. Alexander kept Cossey's total in eight for the entire contest.

Frazier with 22 Frazier grabbed off eleven caroms in the game with the Scotties as well as pummeling in 25 points on ten field goals and two for two from the charity stripe.

The Bisons pulled into a tie with Haney in a fine defensive effort. The big factor in the contest to hold Haney in a fine defensive effort.

Equates Attraction

"Of course we feel that the rule equalizes the opposition of colleges to attract boys. Of the three schools that voted against it we should get more than the other two." A lot of boys have gone to ACC when choosing between Christian schools because we didn't offer full scholarships," said the Dean. Dean Pryor also said that he thought Coach Proch would be extremely pleased with the rule because he could now recruit some boys that he couldn't otherwise obtain.

*BISON CAGERS PLAY HARD to come out on top against Arkansas College's Scots in last Saturday's game."

Bisons Play Two Games

The Basketball Bisons lost a tough one to Philander Smith and then slowed Arkansas College in last week's basketball action.

Against Philander it was a case of the Bisons fighting back all the way. The taller squad edged the Harding five 73-73 after the score tied 71-71 at the end of regulation play. The big factor in the contest for the Harding squad was the free play of Mike George. George canned 21 points and outplayed the Philander center on the boards.

Victory over AC

Against the Arkansas College squad, the Bisons found themselves behind at the end of the first half but fought back to whip the Scots 76-61.

Coach Groover put Rick Turner out on Scottie guard Jim Haney and Turner held him to five points in the second half. Haney had hit nine of thirteen field goals in the first half to shoot AC into a 38-34 lead. The other Scottie guard, Bill Cossey who is also a fine scorer, Harold Alexander. Alexander kept Cossey's total in eight for the entire contest.

Frazier with 22 Frazier grabbed off eleven caroms in the game with the Scotties as well as pummeling in 25 points on ten field goals and two for two from the charity stripe.

The Bisons pulled into a tie with Haney in a fine defensive effort. The big factor in the contest to hold Haney in a fine defensive effort.
