Dean Carl Allison Will Leave Harding
To Assume New Administrative Duties

Harding's personable young Dean of Men, Carl Allison, this week submitted his resignation to Dr. Clifton L. Ganus. Allison's resignation becomes effective at the close of the second semester.

The many-talented administrator will assume the duties as director of a two-year preschooling school in West Monroe, La. The school is sponsored by the White's Ferry Road Church of Christ in West Monroe.

Allison will head the administrative portion of the preschooling program which is patterned after the Sunset School of Preschooling in Lubbock, Tex. The new school will begin enrolling students in September, 1970 with an expected enrollment of 70. Plans are for increasing the enrollment to 140 and a twenty-year program calls for training 3000 young men.

From the time he leaves Harding until the school opens, Allison will be counseling prospective students and coordinating his part of the program.

The Oklahoma native has held a variety of positions at Harding. In his first tenure from 1959-63 Allison was the school's first head football coach. Since his return three years ago he has held the posts of Dean and Assistant Athletic Director.

Besides his many administrative duties Allison found time to coach Harding's baseball team. He also served as a faculty advisor in the AIC with a 15-9 season mark. He will again coach the squad this year.

Commenting on his decision to leave Harding he remarked, "When I first came to Harding I accepted a challenge to build a football team from scratch. In leaving, I'm going to accept another challenge, I think Harding is the grandest place on earth and we hate to leave, but I think I'm needed there."

Summarizing his work Allison added, "I've enjoyed working with a dedicated law yer. We've seen a lot of changes in the school, but we've been happy to be a part of Harding's growth."

To Begin March 3

USO-Sponsored Tour Awaits Belles & Beaux

By Debbie Ganus

Fifteen members of the Belles and Beaux will leave March 3 for a four-week tour of the North­ east Command-Greenland, Iceland, Labrador and Newfoundland-spon sored by the USO.

Since their organization in 1969, the Belles and Beaux have toured with the USO in the U.S., the Far East, Europe and the Caribbean. They have also given many performances for schools, civic groups, and church groups in the states.

Dennis and Sherry Organ, both former student members of the group, will accompany the singers. Organ, the tour manager, will sing bass and perform with the Beaux Quartet. His wife is the group's accom­ panist. This is the first USO tour that director Dr. Kenneth Davis has not made.

To prepare background for their program, "America in Song," jobs from tuning guitars to putting up clothes racks have been assigned.

Harold Rhodes, senior music education major from Lubbock, is in charge of the P.A. system. He sings bass with the Seven-Up and is guitar accompanist.

Assisting Harris is Joe Clements, junior general science major. Joe, whose hometown is Montgomery, Ala., sings bar­ tines, plays the double bass, and is in the Beaux Quartet.

Jim Dowdy is responsible for the lights. A junior psychology major from Meridianville, Ala., he sings baritone, is a guitar accompanist, and is a member of the Seven-Up.

Sophomore Larry Costlow, an English major from Fort Worth, is stage manager and helps Jim with the lights. He is a tenor, a member of the Beaux Quartet, and an accompanist on guitar.

Secretary for the group is soprano and member of the Belle Quartet, Danette Key, a junior music education major from St. Louis.

Mary Lou Austin from Neosho, Mo., sings alto and performs with the Seven-Up. She is a sophomore music education major.

Soprano Carol Adams is a senior music education major from Ajo, Ariz. She sings with the Belle Quartet.

Cathy Morey, interlocutor of the group's minstrel show, sings alto and performs with the Belle Quartet. She is a sophomore from Hot Springs majoring in English.

Singing alto is Lin Petty, who is also in the Seven-Up. She's from Huntsville, Ala., and is majoring in home economics.

Sophomore David Muncy, a Seafarer who is working toward a degree in architecture, sings tenor and is a member of the Seven-Up.

Dorles Dowdy is a soprano and a member of the Seven-Up. She's a sophomore English ma­ jor from Meridianville, Ala.

(Continued On Page 4)

Oral History Society
To Induct Dr. Benson

By Jerry Flowers

Dr. George S. Benson, president of the Business Program and for 29 years president of Harding, will be inducted as the second member of Harding's Oral History program at a Tuesday evening dinner.

Active in many areas, Dr. Benson has been especially dedicated to the field of Christian education and the preservation of the private enterprise system of economics and government.

Born in a log cabin in the Oklahoma territory in 1898, Dr. Benson attended grade school in a one-room building and graduated with the second highest grades in the county.

After two years of high school, Dr. Benson took a county teaching exam and taught school for two years. Later he spent a third year in high school before entering in Harper College (Harper, Kan.) and Oklahoma A & M (now Okla. State U.), where he obtained a B.S., degree.

Dr. Benson's later degrees include an A.B. from Harding, M.A. from the University of Chicago and LL.D.'s from Harding, Knox and Wayneburg.

Dr. Benson became Harding's president in Sept. 1938, a position he held until 1963. During his tenure of office, enrollment grew from approximately 350 in 1938 to 1230 in 1963, and total assets from $250,000 to $25 mil­ lion.

Dr. Benson is a nationally prominent figure, having written and conducted "Land of the Free," a radio program carried on approximately 300 stations between 1943 and 1953, and "Looking Ahead," a newspaper column carried by about 2,000 newspapers.

His interest in the preservation of the free enterprise system and the American way of life fostered the formation of the National Education Program (NEP). The NEP devoted its major effort to take care of the expanding market for citizenship education." was a division of Harding until 1954, but is now a separate corporation with a board of directors and Dr. Benson as its president.

Dr. Benson served as a missionary in China from 1935 to 1936 when the Communist take­ over forced him to leave. He founded Canton Bible School in Canton, China, in 1939 and two years later began Canton Eng­ lish College.

His favorite admonition, a quote from Teddy Roosevelt, is "When you play, play hard; when you work, don't play at all."

Dr. Benson is a widely sought­ after lecturer, maintains mem­ bership in many organizations, and has received numerous awards including Arkansan of the Year (1963-54), the Freedom Foundation Award and the Distin­ guished Alumnus of Harding award in 1962.

Second Member

By Jerry Flowers

Dr. George S. Benson, president of the Business Program and for 29 years president of Harding, will be inducted as the second member of Harding's Oral History program at a Tuesday evening dinner.

Active in many areas, Dr. Benson has been especially dedicated to the field of Christian education and the preservation of the private enterprise system of economics and government.

Born in a log cabin in the Oklahoma territory in 1898, Dr. Benson attended grade school in a one-room building and graduated with the second highest grades in the county.

After two years of high school, Dr. Benson took a county teaching exam and taught school for two years. Later he spent a third year in high school before entering in Harper College (Harper, Kan.) and Oklahoma A & M (now Okla. State U.), where he obtained a B.S., degree.

Dr. Benson's later degrees include an A.B. from Harding, M.A. from the University of Chicago and LL.D.'s from Harding, Knox and Wayneburg.

Dr. Benson became Harding's president in Sept. 1938, a position he held until 1963. During his tenure of office, enrollment grew from approximately 350 in 1938 to 1230 in 1963, and total assets from $250,000 to $25 mil­ lion.

Dr. Benson is a nationally prominent figure, having written and conducted "Land of the Free," a radio program carried on approximately 300 stations between 1943 and 1953, and "Looking Ahead," a newspaper column carried by about 2,000 newspapers.

His interest in the preservation of the free enterprise system and the American way of life fostered the formation of the National Education Program (NEP). The NEP devoted its major effort to take care of the expanding market for citizenship education." was a division of Harding until 1954, but is now a separate corporation with a board of directors and Dr. Benson as its president.

Dr. Benson served as a missionary in China from 1935 to 1936 when the Communist take­ over forced him to leave. He founded Canton Bible School in Canton, China, in 1939 and two years later began Canton Eng­ lish College.

His favorite admonition, a quote from Teddy Roosevelt, is "When you play, play hard; when you work, don't play at all."

Dr. Benson is a widely sought­ after lecturer, maintains mem­ bership in many organizations, and has received numerous awards including Arkansan of the Year (1963-54), the Freedom Foundation Award and the Distin­ guished Alumnus of Harding award in 1962.

By Jerry Flowers

Dr. George S. Benson, president of the Business Program and for 29 years president of Harding, will be inducted as the second member of Harding's Oral History program at a Tuesday evening dinner.

Active in many areas, Dr. Benson has been especially dedicated to the field of Christian education and the preservation of the private enterprise system of economics and government.

Born in a log cabin in the Oklahoma territory in 1898, Dr. Benson attended grade school in a one-room building and graduated with the second highest grades in the county.

After two years of high school, Dr. Benson took a county teaching exam and taught school for two years. Later he spent a third year in high school before entering in Harper College (Harper, Kan.) and Oklahoma A & M (now Okla. State U.), where he obtained a B.S., degree.

Dr. Benson's later degrees include an A.B. from Harding, M.A. from the University of Chicago and LL.D.'s from Harding, Knox and Wayneburg.

Dr. Benson became Harding's president in Sept. 1938, a position he held until 1963. During his tenure of office, enrollment grew from approximately 350 in 1938 to 1230 in 1963, and total assets from $250,000 to $25 mil­ lion.

Dr. Benson is a nationally prominent figure, having written and conducted "Land of the Free," a radio program carried on approximately 300 stations between 1943 and 1953, and "Looking Ahead," a newspaper column carried by about 2,000 newspapers.

His interest in the preservation of the free enterprise system and the American way of life fostered the formation of the National Education Program (NEP). The NEP devoted its major effort to take care of the expanding market for citizenship education." was a division of Harding until 1954, but is now a separate corporation with a board of directors and Dr. Benson as its president.

Dr. Benson served as a missionary in China from 1935 to 1936 when the Communist take­ over forced him to leave. He founded Canton Bible School in Canton, China, in 1939 and two years later began Canton Eng­ lish College.

His favorite admonition, a quote from Teddy Roosevelt, is "When you play, play hard; when you work, don't play at all."

Dr. Benson is a widely sought­ after lecturer, maintains mem­bership in many organizations, and has received numerous awards including Arkansan of the Year (1963-54), the Freedom Foundation Award and the Distin­guished Alumnus of Harding award in 1962.
The communication gap between individuals today has grown wider and wider due to the prostitution of student integrity on college campuses. No longer can two persons disagree on a political issue and remain close friends, for the student can speak and be understood as individuals.

The time has come when students must be either for or against civil rights. They cannot possibly harbor ideas which relate to the pros and cons on both sides of the issue. Such disagreements about the issues fails to fit the preconceived mold, the student must be entirely against it.

Again, students are tagged as liberals and conservative, on both sides of the issue, based on one idea which may happen to be in agreement with the popularly known "liberal" or "conservative" movements. But, for the student to be truly, students today must fail to be with the "in" crowd or with "the establishment." But why can't a student agree with the conservatives on some points and with the liberals on others and come out an individual?

What's wrong with finding merit in the other fellow's logic if it deserves merit? College professors have been guilty of destroying student integrity by promoting ideas through students which they did not have the courage to openly advance themselves.

They have cultivated students for their own ego and popularity to the point of placing student against student in the communication gap. And they have developed power cliques in students to offset their own weaknesses.

Campus politicians have encouraged student unrest to such an extent, that the youth are in complete shambles at the expense of liberal order.

They have used their position as teachers to cultivate ground for their own political views without consideration for the possible merit in a student's opposing view.

Real students of the world today feel that they have to agree fully with one side or the other of an issue. A student exercising freedom with responsibility will examine an issue as objectively as possible and upon doing so, may not take an extreme stand at all. He may quite possibly conclude the matter with a stand all his own, somewhere between the two extremes.

Religion exists; a movement must be made, seeking a return to student integrity.

Possible beginning points for this return may include:

First, students should be excused from faculty. Second, students should work, with wisdom and courage, to find constructive solutions.

Third, students should offer leadership instead of disorder in attempting to return to a proper proportion of student integrity.

Students should argue against positions, not persons; they should try to become intelligence-involved rather than ego-involved; and they should work with common points of view to form a foundation for building human relations.

Robots can be used to echo a professor's ideas to the world today if that is the kind of education the world needs. A professor who has the ability of individuals to think and reason, student integrity must find its way back to the college campus—and fast.
Many students would probably say that the most exciting and most anticipated event of each club is its annual banquet.

Many long hours of planning and preparation go into these formal evening affairs, and the results speak volumes. As the big hour slowly approaches, many a lass and lad may endure a few miseries and, hopefully, a lot of happiness. Here are a few which are typical of our Harding banquets.

Misery is not knowing who to ask . . . Happiness is last year's Petal Queen.

Misery is being a freshman and having a banquet in September . . . Happiness is having a brother who is a senior and has a lot of friends.

Misery is finding a prospect . . . Happiness is hearing that he has a finances in another town.

Happiness is a friend who will get you a date by calling him and pretending she's you . . . Misery is when he finds out.

Happiness is telling everyone you have a date . . . Misery is his coming back and telling you that you don't.

Happiness is finding a date . . . Misery is finding that his only mode of transportation is a bicycle. Happiness would be a 1969 Firebird.

Misery is the similarity between you and "Plain Jane" . . . Happiness is the hope of a Miss America transformation.

Happiness is getting your false eyelashes on straight the first time . . . Misery is a fever blister on your lip.

Happiness is a run in your last pair of hose . . . Misery is finding that he has a hankering for another earlier.

Happiness is candlelight . . . Misery is paraffin in your ears.

Misery is being a freshman and having a banquet in September . . . Happiness is a wonderful evening . . . Ecstasy is his asking for the bill.

Happiness is his asking for the bill . . . Misery is having to return with the same attitude he carried with him to Oklahoma City, these attitudes and values had at least been spotlighted and re-evaluated.

Not only did the students listen as black leaders such as Andy Harrington and Franklin Florence attacked their attitudes and actions on the racial problem, but they also discussed the problem of racial prejudice with each other and with students from other colleges almost continuously for three days.

The Harding delegation, which set out for OCC with a bit of apprehension concerning the forum arrived to find a full slate of activities centered around such outstanding speakers as John Allen Chalk, Andy Harrington, and Franklin Florence. Several of the group even reevaluated one of the speakers, Howard Wright, as a 1965 graduate of Harding.

The theme centered around the theme of "The Christian's Responsibility in Solving the Temporary Problems in Race Relations."
Belles & Beaux (From Page 1)

Junior music education major Margie Powers is from Columbus, Miss. She sings alto and is a member of the Belle Quartet.

A tenor and a member of the Beaux Quartet, Bruce Stidham is the only veteran of a Belles and Beaux USO tour. Bruce, from Alexandria, Va., majors in political science.

Alternates for the group, who also must give a good deal of time and effort, including taking the nine innoculations required for the cast members, are sophomores Carolyn Wilson and Charles Davis, music and accounting majors.

Others who contribute behind the scenes are William Hollaway, assistant professor of music; Hank McDaniell, a 1968 Harding graduate; and Dale Turner, senior, who have assisted with musical arrangements, choreography, and lighting, respectively.

After their four weeks of traveling with the USO, the group plans to spend a few days in New York City. On the way home they will perform at Northeastern Christian College in Philadelphia.
Yesteryear Antics of Galloway College Coeds
Furnish Humorous Setting for Today's Campus

By Beverly Wilkinson

"Galloway College? "Where's that? Never heard of it myself yet..." Oh, the shame of it all! Vivacious (?) Gusie Jones, treasurer of the Senior class of 1897; Pearlee Lentz, 1897 vice-president; the Sharpes, Senior president 1908; Effie Growen, vice-president 1907; Gertrude Pendegrass 1910; or that all-time campus favorite Ethel Buffalo of 1911 were alive today they'd roll over in their graves and become highly indignant over the stupidity shown by this gross ignorance.

Ever been for a lonely walk around this place in the dark? (Yes, it's a recognizable fact that it's never dark around here but dim.) (Here to dis-

---

PRY Brothers
for the finest floral arrangements

---

WE HAVEN'T ROOM to explain it here, but our new and expanded offices have been designed with you in mind. Our complete and expert Insurance and Real Estate Services offer modern innovations for your convenience! Stop in at our new offices . . . where we do have room to explain and prove it!

LIGHTLE
DOBBS & LIGHTLE
INSURORS & REALTORS
411 West Arch Avenue
SEARCY, ARK
Optimistic Coach Predicts Victory...

By David Crouch

The beginning of the AIC bowling competition is yet another week away and Harding’s optimistic bowling coach, Ed Burt, is already crowing loud about his team. “We’re going all the way, first the AIC tournament and then on to the national!”

Burt, in his second year as Harding’s bowling coach, has every right to be so enthusiastic. He has all but one of last year’s championship squad returning this year. Last year’s team won its way to the conference last year and rolled a 173.4 average at the national NAJA rolloffs in Kansas City.

Prominent Figures

Two prominent figures on this year’s team are Gary Parsons and Charles Burt. Parsons and Charles Burt won the All-Event trophies and a 675 singles tally and a 531 in team competition for a total of 1306 for the six games. In the Ark. College tournament at Batonville the Bison keglers finished first and second in team standings. In fact, Harding’s second team moved out the first team for first place honors. Parsons and Potetz won the doubles events with 2313 for six games. Potetz won the singles category with a total of 600 pins.

Hosting their own College Bowl tournament the Bison keglers bowed somewhat below their average and finished third.

Strong Burt

Right now the only problem confronting the team is who will be the top eight and will represent Harding in the AIC tournament at April. Co-coaching the bowlers the elder Burt remarked, “Our team is so well balanced I’m going to have trouble picking the team to bowl in the AIC match. Right now it’s a toss-up. This is the best team I’ve ever coached.”

All returning are last season’s fourth and fifth place bowlers, Charles Webb and Gary Martin. Webb, who holds the distinction of being the smallest Harding keglers, averaged 177 in conference last year and rolled a 173.4 average at the nationals. Martin came on strong at the close of the season last year, finishing tenth in the national singles competition with a 183 average.

Three Challengers

Three other lettermen will also be making a determined bid to challenge the team’s leading bowlers. Jim Brown has perfected his game and should add to the strong nucleus of experience. Mark Potetz has also shown quite an improvement over last year and will give a big boost to the Bison’s hopes for a fifth consecutive AIC championship.

Southpaw Roy Smalling, who at twenty-seven years old is the “old” man on the team, will be another big asset to this year’s squad. With his sweeping left-handed delivery, Smalling can be counted on for his share of the total pins. Last year he finished 14th in AIC singles competition.

Tough Standard

This year’s keglers have a tough standard to maintain. Harding’s bowling team has finished higher in national standings than any of the other Bison athletic teams and they are not about to slow down now. In the NAJA national championships the keglers finished sixth in ’67, fourth in ’69 and second in ’61. If past performances are any indication of the future, then the next step is that first place national ranking.

Already this year the Bisons have been having excellent practices. The team is averaging nearly a 2000 pinfall, which is better than a 150 pins more than the average that won them the AIC crown in ’66.

Burt Wins

The team has already got some tournament action under its belt. The Bison’s first appearance in the annual tourney. This will be MCC’s first appearance in the annual tourney.

Ohio Valley returns to defend its championship and is rated as the favorite again this year. Last year in the championship contest OVC won handily over the Lubbock team 87-64. Southwestern defeated FWCC incapture third place honors.

Tourney winners take all the honors in the annual tourney team last year by placing three bowlers in the All-Event competition. LCC and FWCC each contributed one player to the five man squad.

The first game will start both nights at 7 p.m. The second game is scheduled to begin at 9 p.m. The cost for a student ticket to see both games will be $1. Half-time entertainment will be given at each game.

Harding Hosts Fourth Annual JuCo Tourney

By Marilyn McEntee

Harding’s fourth annual Christian Junior College Basketball Tournament will be staged in Rhodes Memorial Fieldhouse on Thursday and Friday.

This year’s tourney includes teams from Michigan Christian College, Lubbock Christian College, Fort Worth Christian College and Ohio Valley College.

All are returnees from last year with the exception of Michigan Christian.

Michigan Christian takes the place of Southwestern Christian who participated in the tournament last year. This will be MCC’s first appearance in the annual tourney.

Ohio Valley returns to defend its championship and is rated as the favorite again this year.

PUT ABE AND GEORGE AWAY FOR A RAINY DAY!

Many’s the emergency these two illustrious men had to meet, and they understood the importance of planning for tomorrow’s trials. Certainly they’d approve of your storing up dollars where they’re safe, and where high earnings help them grow.

So, put Abe and George away here—and be ready for financial “rainy” days!
ON OUR SIDE

By David Crouch

Sports Editor

The AIC's regular season basketball race is over and just as was expected, the Henderson Reddies "mopped up" at the expense of the other nine conference members.

A short rest now awaits the Reddies while six members from the AIC and two independents from District 17 NAIA battle for top honors in the AIC tournament. The winner of the tournament will meet Henderson in the best two-of-three District 17 playoffs to determine which team will represent the district in the national NAIA tournament.

Last weekend the District 17 committee met and announced the two independent teams for the tournament. Arkansas AM&N's Golden Lions and John Brown University's Golden Eagles won the nod. The Lions' record indicates the Pine Bluff team is not as strong as in past years. This corner doesn't know too much about the JBU team, but it has been learned that their offense is centered around a big 6-7 forward Buane Brandsguard.

From the AICArk. Tech., Ouachita, Southern State, State College of Ark. and Harding will play in the tournament. The final spot in the tournament was decided last night in the AIC's final league play. Henderson, Ark. A&M and Ark. College were all vying for the vacant tournament spot.

The three-day tournament begins tomorrow with the first rounds being played on the home courts of the AIC's second, third, fourth and fifth place finishers. Monday night the victors of Saturday's contests move to McFadden fieldhouse in Pine Bluff for a semifinal contest. The winners come back Tuesday night to do battle and decide who will challenge the Reddies.

Pairings for the opening round will match the AIC's second place finisher against the league's seventh place team. The other pairing in the upper bracket will find JBU meeting the AIC's fifth place club. In the lower bracket pairings AM&N will challenge the AIC's number four finisher and the league's third place team will take on the sixth place finisher.

Our own Bisons won a berth in the tournament, but at times it doesn't know too much about the Bisons' hopes for a high finish. Three of those five games were dropped in the friendly confines of Rhodes Memorial fieldhouse which indicates the home court may not be so "friendly" after all.

The regular season is behind them now and the Bison cagers are looking to the AIC tournament with high hopes of getting another chance to meet the Reddies. During the regular season Henderson handed the Bisons two humiliating losses and the Harding team is hoping to have a little sweet revenge at the Reddies' expense.

The Monkeys are unbeaten so far. The remainder of the league have lost a game and are the loser's bracket. The Beatles must play the Strawberry Alarm Clocks, and whoever wins will play the undefeated Monkeys in the finals.

In club play, MEA lost to Ju Go Ju by a score of 25-10. This was the first loss for MEA. Ju Go Ju demonstrated fine playmaking and shooting. Leading scorers were Deb Doggett, 16 points; and Marylu Johna with 8.

Delta Chi set a record for having the highest score of the year by romping over Nu Lambda Chi with a 43-3 score. Chances with good shooters like Linda Cuthon, Janice McCoug- gage and "Charlie" Hamilton led Delta Chi scoring.

Gata annexed past the Independents in the last minute of the game to pose a tie game at the end of the fourth quarter with a score of 15-16. The "old ladies" were a good one for Gata, a school in the major league this year. Outstanding playing was displayed by Mrs. Barbra Altman, who dumped in 10 points.

Toddly and Zeta Phi went into a tie game at the end of the fourth quarter with a score of 15-16. The only points made in the overtime were free throws by Zeta Phi to end the game at 15-15.

Delta Phi's Neii Harrison (98) stretches to pull down a rebound in Saturday's intramural club action.

PHOTO BY JERRY BAILEY

PHOTO BY JERRY BAILEY

COUNSELORS WANTED

At CAMP BLUE HAVEN
LAS VEGAS, NEW MEXICO

"World's Largest Christian Youth Camp"
1,100 Acres in Beautiful, Cool Rockies

Nine Weeks of Work — June 15 to August 16

Boy Counselors paid $35.00 per week

Girl Counselors paid $20.00 per week

Applicants Must Have Completed Two Years College by June 1, 1969. No applications accepted after March 15.

Experience helpful, but not necessary. WRITE:

C. A. Farley, 1524 E. 2nd Street, Lubbock, Texas 79403

AUTOMOBILE AND PROPERTY INSURANCE AT A SAVING

FACULTY AND STUDENTS COME BY AND VISIT US QUOTATIONS GIVEN

HAYES

ROYAL

TYPEWRITER

HARDING BISON, Searcy, Ark.

ON OUR SIDE

AUTOMOBILE AND PROPERTY INSURANCE AT A SAVING

FACULTY AND STUDENTS COME BY AND VISIT US QUOTATIONS GIVEN

HAYES

ROYAL

TYPEWRITER

HARDING BISON, Searcy, Ark.

ON OUR SIDE

AUTOMOBILE AND PROPERTY INSURANCE AT A SAVING

FACULTY AND STUDENTS COME BY AND VISIT US QUOTATIONS GIVEN

HAYES

ROYAL

TYPEWRITER

HARDING BISON, Searcy, Ark.

ON OUR SIDE

AUTOMOBILE AND PROPERTY INSURANCE AT A SAVING

FACULTY AND STUDENTS COME BY AND VISIT US QUOTATIONS GIVEN

HAYES

ROYAL

TYPEWRITER

HARDING BISON, Searcy, Ark.
By David Crouch

Harding's cagers ended a long victory drought by defeating the Ark. College Scots 72-65 and the College of the Ozarks Mountaineers 97-81.

The wins halted a five game losing skid and brought the Bisons' AIC record to 9-8-1, tying them with State College of Arkansas for fifth place in the league standings.

Monday night's victory over the Mountaineers was another come-from-behind contest for the Bisons. The Ozarks team jumped out in front 21-13 behind the shooting of Bob Chance. At the intermission the Mountaineers held a 44-40 margin.

Harding came back strong in the second half behind the shooting of seniors Bobby McKeel, George Frazier and Marvin Levels added three quick baskets around jumper that gave the Bisons the lead with eight minutes gone in the second half.

McKeel added three quick baskets to pad the lead and McKeel bombed in some long shots from the outside and the hapless Mountaineers could never catch up.

The Bisons' scoring spree was aided by the Mountaineers, who went scoreless for more than three minutes late in the second half.

McKeel won the scoring honors by collecting 32 points, Frazier connected for 25, Levels had 17 and Jeff Stitt added 13.

In the contest against the Scots Thursday night the Bisons led all the way. The closest the Scots could come to the Bisons was three points.

With Frazier using his inside power to score 22 points and McKeel hitting from the outside for 21 the Scots could never master the balanced scoring of the Harding team.

In the second half the Bisons shot a torrid 62 per cent from the field.

McKeel won the scoring honors by collecting 32 points, Frazier connected for 25, Levels had 17 and Jeff Stitt added 13. Chance led the Ozarks team with 18.

In the contest against the Scots Thursday night the Bisons led all the way. The closest the Scots could come to the Bisons was three points.

With Frazier using his inside power to score 22 points and McKeel hitting from the outside for 21 the Scots could never master the balanced scoring of the Harding team. In the second half the Bisons shot a torrid 62 per cent from the field.

McKeel won the scoring honors by collecting 32 points, Frazier connected for 25, Levels had 17 and Jeff Stitt added 13. Chance led the Ozarks team with 18.

Central George Frazier drops in two easy points for the Bisons against College of the Ozarks.