Drama opens Monday; portrays carefree days

"I identify with the Vanderhoff family in that they don't worry about money, but are concerned with doing what makes them happy," says Morris Ellis, who along with Larry Menefee, is guiding the cast of "You Can't Take It With You" toward its Monday night opening.

The cost will be free to students with I.D. and $2 for adults and $1 for students. Showings will be in the Little Theatre February 16-17, at 8 p.m. every night except Wednesday, when the show will begin at 8:30. Tickets are on sale in the Business Office, with all seats reserved.

The play, written by George Kaufman and Moss Hart, was a hit on Broadway for many Barnhouse as Paul Vanderhoff's seated family. According to Drama is finally coming out of Brenton as Grandpa, Allen scheduled about money, but months. Set with the home of two Harding women, 42 different groups performing in Oklahoma from Dr. Woodruff, associated teachers desire to attend and upon recommendations up at the Kirbies are Ron Frey, and Travis taught by Dr. Woodruff, associate in addition to a few high schools, the band will give performances at Roland State College, York College and Oklahoma Christian College. The tour group is made up of 27 women, 42 men, two bus drivers, Dr. Eddie Baggett and Travis Cos, music instructors.

Besides the full band, the five different groups performing in seven programs during the tour are the two Pep Bands, the Wind Quintet, and the Brass Choir. However, all of these groups will not perform at any one concert, Dr. Baggett said.

The tour music includes Russian composition, an American contemporary piece, a Norwegian march, and a Mozart concerto.

Two soloists, Warren Casey, playing the clarinet, and Brad Dell, a trombone player, will be featured alternatingly in the performances.

The day concerts will last 45 minutes, while the band's evening appearances will be an hour and a half.

Anticipating the upcoming tour, Dr. Baggett commented, "I'm real excited about the prospects of the trip. The kids have worked real hard and I think we have something to show for it.

The band's Annual Spring Concert will be Friday, Feb. 21 at 8 p.m. in the Main Auditorium. Admission is free. Dr. Baggett said that he hoped to encourage the support of this concert. He said he believed that it will be the "best overall concert that the Harding band has ever given!"

"The instrumentation promises to be more complete this year with more variety in sounds and more low winds," he concluded.

Another upcoming band event is the Annual Outdoor Pep Concert which will be held on the front lawn on April 3 at 5 p.m. This concert will feature student conductors who are now enlisted in a conducting class.

On April 27, the band will perform with the A Capella, Choral, and Academy choirs.

Activity heads S.A. concern as spring semester broadens

The Student Association finalized plans Tuesday night at their regular weekly meeting to sponsor a benefit movie weekend beginning tonight with Where the Lilies Bloom, at 7:30 p.m.

Tomorrow night the double feature Support Your Local Sheriff, and Support Your Local Gunfighter, will be shown for 75 cents for singles and $1.25 for mixed doubles.

Nancy Cochran made the suggestion that the council push the benefit movies so that the S.A. could continue to pay off their part of the movie projector expense.

Dates were changed for open house to Feb. 9 for girls dorms and Feb. 16 for Men's dorms. The change was due to conflicts with the drama departments production of You Can't Take It With You.

President Bill Fowler reported that the pants suit recommendation has been referred to an executive council made up of Dr. Clifton Ganz and other administrators.

Older business discussed was Valentine's Day activities. According to vice president Mike Lincoln, no activities have been planned except the computer dating program. The committee is to meet sometime before next Tuesday to finish forthcoming planning.

Social Affairs Co-chairman, Sue Carey reported at the meeting that the social affairs committee has scheduled a coffeehouse for Feb. 14, but the activity is still in the planning stages.

Dewitt Yingling, treasurer, made a report on the Championship Wrestling Benefit Match. He said that those participating are David Campbell, Mike Muncy, Mickey Pounders and Stacey Perez. The benefit match will be to raise money for the S.A. movie projector fund and is tentatively set for March 1.

New business included a motion made by Lincoln to centralize lost and found articles to the work room in the S.A. office. This was brought to the attention of the S.A. by Bernice Vine, explaining the amount of lost and found articles not being claimed by the students.

Lott Therio, junior representative, suggested the council investigate the possibilities of getting pencil sharpeners in the boys dorms.

S.A. sponsors movie series

A special series of S.A. benefit movies is planned for this weekend according to Gilbert Melson, S.A. movie chairman.

Three movies will be shown this weekend in order to help the S.A. meet their part of the movie projector debt.

Tonight at 7:30, the movie will be Where the Lilies Bloom. The same movie will be shown again at a 2 o'clock Saturday matinee.

Support Your Local Sheriff and Your Local Gunfighter will be shown at 7:30 on Saturday. All four showings will be in the Main Auditorium. Admission will be 75 cents on Friday night, $1 for the Saturday matinee and 75 cents Saturday night, but one $1.25 for couples.

Other movies scheduled for this month are The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn on Feb. 22 and Jeremiah Johnson on Feb. 28.

According to Melson, the committee is also trying to schedule events at Zilavga and That's Entertainment for later in the semester.

Band schedules tour Feb. 14-18

The Annual Band Tour, which will cover a distance of 4,546 miles is scheduled to begin Friday, Feb. 14 and end Feb. 18. Eddie Baggett announced last Thursday the tour group will make its first performance in Batesville, the home of two Harding band students. They will travel to Missouri, Kansas, Colorado, Nebraska, three states where the band has never been before.

In addition to a few high schools, the band will give performances at Roland State College, York College and Oklahoma Christian College. The tour group is made up of 27 women, 42 men, two bus drivers, Dr. Eddie Baggett and Travis Cos, music instructors.

Besides the full band, the five different groups performing in seven programs during the tour are the two Pep Bands, the Wind Quintet, and the Brass Choir. However, all of these groups will not perform at any one concert, Dr. Baggett said.

Readers condemn dress code rule proposals, article

Revised code lowers standards

In response to the recent vote by the S.A. concerning pants suits, I would like to say that seven-tenths of our students would call an overwhelming majority.

Harding's dress code reflects to anyone who visits the campus the standards by which the college will live. One of the purposes of Harding is to train students to live a life conductive to Christian morality which will enable them to shape their own lives and learn his ideals. I feel that the proposed change to pant suits is not in conjunction with the principles of this institution, and that this would be acceptable only to liberalizing our school and its basic tenets of Christianity.

I also realize that the present dress code is obviously not being enforced and that there needs to be a change made in the greatly apparentance of many male students.

I would like to say to those students who have the rules here that they are encouraged to attend all the institutions where there are no rules enforcing the rules. Students who will be turned away next fall who would gladly follow the rules of this institution and replace the student leaders for me.

It really makes little difference what we as students feel about the situation, but all that is required of us is to follow and obey them.

This means that the pant suits would be more important and ready for the new wear on campus. Maybe some of the leaders of the Weekly will examine the hemlines of their clothes and learn to sit at proper heights. This is not a question of modesty. The men have forgotten the biblical principle of modesty and as a result they can cause men to lust and thus commit sin.

I hope that Dr. Gamus said the board of trustees will not be intimidated by 178 students and will consider the far reaching impact of this decision and the ideals of this school.

In Christ,

Charles Thompson

Ed. note: The BISON did not report that 57% of the public in the past suit recommendation was an overwhelming majority. We would suggest that the story be re-read. Thank you.

Reader suggest dress code survey

Dear Editor:

In light of the recent EEA question and the Harding dress code question it seems well to consider a typical Harding dress rule survey. What we had EEA and the complete equality of thought by law.

Question: What form of a uniform dress code would you suggest to the administration to govern the women and Harding (class time)?

Please check the box for the law invalidates your opinion.

For men: pants only, pant suits only, dresses, pant suits and dresses.

For women: pant suits only, dress only, dresses, pant suits and dresses.

How much for human wisdom (wisdom)?

Love in the Lord Jesus,

Bob Israeli

Student defends Christian colleges

Dear Editor:

The January 9 issue of Gospel Advocate featured a con- demnation of a 10-year old article in the Baptist Journal. Leo Boles. He made some cutting comments about the curriculum and leadership of "our colleges." He pointed out that our curricula do not reflect basic Christianity and that a Christian college would not be able to compete with other colleges. He also noted that too many administrative leaders, from teachers to board members, are not up-to-date. This is not true. We cannot maintain Christian ideals at this college because they do not know the truth.

We are all well aware that if we were to identify ourselves as a Christian college we lose our right to exist. But as long as people can sneaks into chapel in jeans. But as long as people can be allowed to be present, they will be turned away next fall and it's obvious that some of the women should check all too hopeless. To be sure, we are Christians by birth, not by choice, and that our college as well as our lives seems to us, is not whether women aren't in the apartments long enough for them to do permanent damage.

I don't want worrying about us until we begin to understand why anyone would design a dwelling in which the bathroom is as big as the kitchen.

But we adjust. We've learned in the manner to keep our windows closed so that bugs won t bother us. We have old-fashioned places (specialy constructed with pre-rules) that can be used. It's a little warm when you don't have any air conditioner, but, as is the case, we adjust.

We've also learned in the manner to make our underclassmen leave the living room, but it's 102 degrees outside and we just have to put up with it for a few minutes.

College kids have forgotten the taste of braided meat, since they can't touch anything in their eye square without burning it to a crisp.

We've taught our friends that they can come to visit us only once a week by phone. To the extent that you want to entertain your college kids, you have to be willing to adjust, too.

We've also become accustomed to the strangely-shaped states on our green linoleum. In fact, the fact that we've found such a perfect little part of our home, that we feel paddle for trying to cover them with our throw rugs from Fred's and co.

The fact that we have no place to store such things as out of season clothes and Christmas trees ornaments doesn't bother us. We've found that such objects make charming wall hangings which are great conversation pieces.

We've even come to regard the nightly sounds of our neighbors hanging up their clothes and taking their showers in the bare feet as part of the homey comfort.

If you don't believe we've adjusted well to our little homes, come and visit us. We're always home — we can't get out the door for all the bicycles parked in the hallway.

Alice Ann Keller believes that women "should dress com­fortably, neatly, and modestly. I think that Harding women should be mature enough to have a choice." However, she said, "I'm much more interested in how people act than how they dress.

"I think it will get out of hand quickly."

"I think pants are fine, but as long as they keep to nice pants outfits," said Janet Morgan, a junior.

Senior Cail Bishop said that she thinks "the standards of the school will go down because girls will start wearing grubby jeans to class instead."

Judy Keys, a senior, stated "It's a wrong move to make, because I have seen what it has done to another Christian school."

"There is something great about girls being feminine and guys being masculine. This fact can be reflected in the clothes they wear. Allowing girls to wear pants puts up a step closer to sexual behavior. Pants for girls have their time and place," said Nancy Chaffin, a senior.

Senior Pam Ivey said, "I think it will get out of hand quickly, and girls will start wearing sloppy clothes to classes."

SEARCY, 72123
Hart remodels Pattie Cobb dining room

A recently remodeled storage room located on the east side of Pattie Cobb Cafeteria will serve as a new private dining room. The room, which will seat 30 people, was designed and decorated by Mrs. Corrine Pemm, manager of Pattie Cobb Cafeteria.

In the early history of Harding, the room served as the school's student center. According to Mrs. Hart, there has long been a need for another private dining area on campus. Work began on the room in the spring of 1974, and it was completed early in the fall semester.

The room combines the old and the new, including tall wicker baskets in the entrance left over from Galloway College and dining room furniture of antique white oak manufactured in Searcy. The color scheme is a mixture of gold, green and orange.

Syracuse China, stemmed crystal, real silver, and gold tablecloths give the table setting and the room an air of elegance. Mrs. Hart, who has been with Harding for 25 years, decorates for faculty and special events. She also has assisted in decorating homes in Searcy.

Nursing program anticipates move

Plans for the nursing program to move into the third floor of the remodeled science building are being completed, according to A. Michelle Warren, chairman of the nursing department. Although the remodeling is not yet finished, Mrs. Warren stated that "it is essential that facilities be ready before the beginning of the fall semester."

Pemm Club sets skiing holiday

Pemm Club members will ski at Marble Falls, with lessons compliments of head ski instructor, Tom Carlyle, on Tuesday, Feb. 11 from 7:15 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. According to James Bixler, junior physical education major, 30-35 are expected to go to the ski resort which is located near Harrison and Dog Patch Lane.

According to Bixler, who is a member of Pemm Club, a deposit of $5 is needed. Application must be made either in the gymnasium, room 105 or through the office of Dr. Karyl Bailey, sponsor of the Pemm Club.
Placement office slates interviews

A summer camp, an oil company and two school systems are included in the list of employers who will be on campus this month to interview seniors.

On Feb. 12, Peggy Matthews, a Harding alumnus, will interview prospective counselors for Camp Minimachines in Hardy, Ark. Representatives of Shell Oil Co. will also be here Feb. 11.

Memphis City Schools will interview on Feb. 13, and the Goodyear Corporation will be on campus Feb. 19.

Metropolitan Schools of Nashville, Tenn. will interview teaching students Feb. 19 and 20.

Students should sign up for interviews in the Placement Office, Room 111 in the American Studies Building.

National contest invite entries

The National Poetry Press announced this week that Hardin students are invited to enter its annual spring contest. Winners' entries will be published in the Spring Students' Poetry Anthology.

facts in focus

According to Press officials, any student attending either a junior or senior college is eligible to submit verse. There is no limitation as to form or theme; however, shorter works are preferred because of space limitations.

Deadline for the submission of manuscripts is April 18. Each poem must be typed or printed on a separate sheet and must bear the name and home address of the student, as well as the college address. Entrants should also submit the name of their English instructor. Entries should be sent to P.O. Box 1214, Fitchburg, Mass. 01420.

North to address meeting Thursday

Author Gary North will speak at an open meeting of the American Studies program next Thursday, Feb. 13, at 7 p.m. in the American Studies Auditorium.

North is on the staff of the Chalcedon Foundation, which is a Christian educational organization devoted to the research, writing and communication of Christian scholarship. He is a previous staff member of the Foundation for Economic Education in Irvington-on-Hudson, N.Y.

TOTH considering campus sculpture

Peter Toth, a 24-year-old sculptor, has as his goal to leave a free stump Indian head in every state. If the tree in the Art building courtyard meets his approval the Indian for the state of Arkansas will be located on campus.

Mrs. Elizabeth Mason, chairman of the art department, offered the tree to Toth after seeing an article in the Commercial Appeal about his sculpture.
Miami drafts Crawford in 8th round

By Rock Long
Barney Crawford, Harding's All-American defensive tackle, was drafted last Wednesday in the eighth round by the Miami Dolphins during the National Football League's player draft. "I didn't have any idea that they would take me," stated Crawford, "but I'm glad." Crawford received phone calls from two other clubs Tuesday night. The big tackle said that the Washington Redskins called around 9:15 and asked several questions. Then the New England Patriots called at 9:30 and told him to stay by the phone Wednesday because they were planning to draft him.

"Wednesday morning at 10, the phone rang and it was the scout of players personnel for the Miami Dolphins. He told me that they had drafted me in the eighth round," Crawford said. When asked if he was excited, Crawford replied, "Yes, I was, but I was more surprised. I was expecting the Patriots to call but I'm glad Miami got me. I didn't really want to go to New England."

After playing four years of defensive tackle for Harding, Crawford wants to play defensive end in the pros. "Actually in the pros," said the 6'5", 340 lb. tackle, "defensive end is just about the same as playing defensive tackle. I think I'm big enough to play end."

Crawford's statistics for his senior year seem to back up his statement. He recorded 87 tackles, dumped the quarterback 10 times, and recovered four fumbles. Bison Coach John Frock had this to say about Crawford: "Barney rates as possibly the finest defensive tackle ever to play in the AIC. He's strong, has tremendous ability and it's great to see him receive the national recognition."

Crawford's plans now are to fly to Miami Feb. 15 to talk about his contact and take some physical examinations.

Swim team defeats University of Missouri

The Harding Bison swim team pushed their season's standard to 3-1 for the year with an impressive 77-35 victory over the University of Missouri at St. Louis in non-conference action Saturday. The Water Buffaloes piled up an insurmountable 46-12 advantage through the first five events and were never headed. Harding displayed a great amount of team balance with eight different swimmers copping individual firsts, as well taking both relay events. David Denman was the first Bison victor of the afternoon after his 12:38 effort in the 1,000 yard race. Team captain Mark McFie won the 50 with a 24.1 performance, Paul Knaar swam away with the 200 in 2:09.1, Dale Linke captured the 200 fly in 2:08.1. Don DuSno took the 200 backstroke with a 2:37.9, and Lee Thornton claimed the 200 breaststroke with a time of 2:39:2 to provide Harding with individual championships. Divers Jay and Mark Trotter won the required and optional diving events, respectively. In addition, the Buffaloes won both the 400 free style and 400 medley relay events. Members of the medley were Dave Ensminger, John Eastland, Paul Knaar, and Bill Carter, turning in a time of 4:26.6. Winning the 400 free style performance were Wendell Cave, Lee Thornton, Bill Crawford, and Carter. Other swimmers scoring for the Buffaloes were Minter Mielo, second in in the 200, Thorston, third in the 300, Cave, second in the 50 and third in the 100, James Hixler, second in required diving, Denman, second in the 300, Belcher, second in the 100, Ensminger second in the 200 backstroke, Crawford, third in the 500, Jim Laxkin, second in the 200 breaststroke, and Jay Trotter, second in optional diving. Next action for the Buffaloes will be against defending AIC champions Hendrix College. The Harriers have won the league title the past nine years and are favored to win their tenth. Meet time is set for 1:30, Saturday at the Harding pool.

Swim team in finals

Mohican defeated Galaxy 53-41 and Lambda Sigma edged past Alpha Omega 35-28 as both teams qualified for the top ten this year to the large and small club basketball tournaments, respectively. Galaxy had jumped into an early lead on a basket by Mitchell with 10:31 showing in the first half, but lead evaporated when Freddie Gallo of Lambda Sigma and Mark Trotter of Lambda Sigma back into the lead with a basket with 6:47 showing in the first half. The former Bison star added three points on a basket and free throw before halftime to send Mohicans into intermission with a 21-18 advantage.

Mohicans opened the second half with six unanswered points to take a 27-18 lead and were never seriously threatened the rest of the way. A shot by Dale Work with 14:59 left brought Galaxy to within four at 30-26, but this was close as the challengers came. Mohicans expanded their lead to 46-34 on a lay-up by Gallo with 5:42 left and coasted the rest of the way.

Steve Morris sank both ends of a one and one with 23 seconds left in the game to send Lambdas into the finals for the third straight year.

The first half was a low scoring affair with Lambdas coming out on top 14-11 at halftime. Both teams battled on even terms the second half until baskets Spillman and Johnson pushed Alpha Omega into the lead by four with 9:13 left in the game. Lambdas began shipping baskets at the end until a tally by Don Bolcher at 3:08 put them back top 39-30. Both teams traded baskets until Morris' game deciding points.

In conclusion action, Theta Tau got past Sigma Tau 51-43 while Alpha Tau whipped Sub-? 48-44. Alpha Tau led throughout their contest taking a 23-23 halftime advantage. Two buckets by Terry Demaree and a by Robert Harper gave ATE their largest lead, 43-33 with 8:20 left in the game. A pair of free throws by 18 put Sub-7 to within three with 7 seconds left but it was too late. Jay King led the way with 11. Robert Harper had 8, Demaree and Bob Weaver chipped in with 6, Randy King 5, and Jeff Strawn 5, and Louis Ford 2. The Har­

Hey, look Cheesey... oh, I really don't mean to be a rat, but your laundry is beginning to smell. You know, Harding Laundry is just behind the 7-11 wasn't it?

Oh? Well, if you'll do your laundry, I'll do mine... Thanks for telling me about the laundry. I've been letting my girlfriend do mine lately, but I guess it's just too much to ask of her. Especially since I also use her meal ticket and her Bible notes.

Bison trainer finds opportunity to serve

He's never run a sub-50 440, sub-10 100 or even a sub-5:00 mile but perhaps is one of the most vital members of the track squad, and although he's never made the top seven or even participated in a cross country meet, he is surely an important cog in the Bison's young cross country championship machine.

Sophomore biology major Randy Lambeth fulfills that description and has proven himself to be of invaluable service to the Running Bisons in many respects. While serving in the trainer capacity Randy takes care of the strains and injuries that befall many of the key athletes during the course of a season, and in doing so, keeps the Bison performances at an optimal level.

In addition to his trainer duties, Lambeth serves as a manager, cleaning and storing uniforms, shoes, bags, towels, etc., and even at times, serves as a psychologist, helping an athlete's mental as well as physical strains. In this many faced position, Lambeth has proven himself to be in head coach Ted Lloyd's words, "a real hard working dedicated young man."

Lambeth came to visit the Harding campus the summer after his high school graduation from Ulysses, Kan., and was favorably impressed with what he saw. Before coming for the visit, Lambeth had entertained thoughts of attending Kansas University, where he was offered a scholarship as trainer for the Jayhawk football team. However, the friendliness of the students he met on the Harding campus and the Christian atmosphere he encountered led him to the realization that "there was more to college than just academics."

He also wondered what it is that motivates a person to work long hours for little pay and less recognition while those around him receive the acclaim that comes from athletic achievement. Growing up in Ulysses, Lambeth participated in junior high football, basketball and track but upon entering high school, began to feel that he lacked the ability to contribute in a positive way towards the athletic program there. With the team short of adequate training help, the likeable student decided that he would "be more of an asset as a trainer than in any other capacity."

This attitude began the chain of events that eventually culminated with his association with the Harding cross country and track teams.

An exceptional leader, Lambeth served as the student body president for Ulysses High as well as vice-president for the school National Honor Society during his senior year. His leadership and ability to serve has been an asset for Harding College itself as well as its athletic teams. A member of Theta Tau, Lambeth participates in many of the club activities and serves in the dual position of player and "team physician."

He can be seen at many intramural and club events attending to injured players on teams other than his own. When there arises a need for service, the self-abasing young man can usually be found in the vicinity.

In an interview with Coach Lloyd, he affirmed that "Randy contributes a great deal to the success of our teams in ways that just can't be measured. He's the typical student that Harding tries to pride itself on, and demonstrates at all times a strong moral character that is a credit to the school."

Lambeth has ambitions of becoming a high school biology teacher and track coach after his graduation from Harding. His exemplary manner and conduct will serve as truly exceptional representatives for Harding College and Christianity in general.

By Matt Conostoy

It's old news that Barney Crawford, Harding's most recent All-American, has been drafted by the Miami Dolphins of the National Football League. A fact that you may not know is that out of the nine Arkansas players selected in the draft was Joe Yancey of Henderson, and he is also on his way to the Miami Dolphins.

Robert White and Dave Hyde, two standout intramural swimmers, got a little over anxious for the school's intramural swimming championships. It appears that Hyde and White did the traditional "shaving the hair out of one's body in order to cut down water resistance" and went one step further and shaved their heads. The only problem is that it is presently early February and the swimming championships are slated for some time in late March.

Henderson State College is currently ranked 17th place nationally in the NAIA. The Reddies, who barely got by the Bisons in their recent clash, have a finished 10-5 overall record and are presently 9-0 in the conference play. Southern State is third nationally in team defense and Ouachita Baptist University is presently sixth place in field goal shooting.

The Miami Dolphins' eighth selection of Barney Crawford in the player draft marks the earliest round for a Harding player to be drafted. Tom Ed Gooden last year had the highest finish. The Harbour Dogs for some time in late March.

As was recently stated in the Bison, a study is presently under way to determine the possibility of bringing championship wrestling to the campus. It is rumored that the feature event will be a matchup between the American College, the M.I.T. and Tong and Dong Feng of the Peoples Republic of China. A stumbling block to the proposed feature event is that the Association of Harding refusing to wrestle until his contract negotiations are completed. Watch this column for further developments.

Bears nip Bison in thriller

Central Arkansas’ guard Mike Holman sniped a 21-foot jumper with 7.4 seconds left in the game to lift the Bears to a 66-65 pressure packed victory over the Bison in the annual Winter Festival contest Monday.

The fans made their presence felt as Harding held a slim 64-62 lead with less than two minutes remaining when Gary Baker drove for a spectacular lay-up to give the Bisons some breathing room. UCA’s John Hutchcraft sliced the lead to 16-17 at the 1:28 mark when he put in a breakaway basket for two. After the intermission, Holman battled back to climb the deficit with 26.6 seconds to go. UCA’s Gary Baker converted a free throw to tie the game at 64 and get the ball out of the Bisons’ hands. The Bisons managed to hold off a final shot, winning by a 3-point lead with 0.6 seconds to go.

The strategy backfired unfortunately when with 12 seconds remaining, Holman stole a pass with two minutes left in the game to lift the NAJA playoff. Holman sank a lay-up with nine seconds to go, giving the Bisons a 66-65 lead and gradually maintaining their lead with less than two minutes left. Holman had scored 15 of the Bison’s last 16 points.

On the day of the thriller, Harding battled back to claim its first lead of the game with less than two minutes left. Gary Baker led the Bisons in scoring with 21 with Jim Baker 12, and Tony Sneed 10. The loss of UCA dropped the Bison standard to 9-11 overall and 3-9 in confer­ence play. This was Harding’s second loss to UCA and the Bisons now have to win the remainder of their games to finish with at least an 800 league work.

Notice to Harding Faculty and Students

Goodyear Service Store is offering to all Harding Students and Faculty a special discount program. This program offers a 10 percent discount on any purchase from Goodyear service store, including sale priced merchandise, as well as establishing immediate credit for anyone choosing or wishing terms at Goodyear.

Presently, we offer three ways to change at Goodyear (our own credit plan, BankAmericard and Master charge). Goodyear offers a maximum of 32 months financing on their present terms with a 90 day offer which carries no financing charges, (same as cash).

I’m sure you are asking yourself if this is merely a sales gimmick. It is not. We are limiting this exclusively to Harding Faculty and Students. We here at Goodyear feel because of the excellent character of the Harding community and credentials of the Harding Faculty that you are the type people we want and strive to have trading in our store. In an effort to accomplish this, we are only asking you to drop by and pick up a numbered card which can be used only by you or your family. This card will carry your signature and will be good through 1975. We are asking that you come by our store so that these cards do not fall into the hands of anyone other than the Harding Students and Faculty.

Thank you,

Mike Archer

All-AIC and NAIA 17 Bison forward Butch Gardner continues to pace the conference in scoring, according to latest statistics released by the AIC office in Little Rock. The lanky sophomore was the conference runner-up in scoring last year and is making a strong bid for the number one title this season.

Throughout the first 17 games, Gardner has netted 381 points, a healthy 20.7 point per game average. The sophomore standout has also moved into the eleventh position on the all-time Bison scoring charts with 86 markers and has an excellent chance to reach the seventh position before season’s end.

In addition to his scoring, Gardner ranks second in the AIC in rebounding with 179 for a 10.5 per game average. Two other rebounders in the top ten are James Winston and Gary Baker with 8.6 and 8.2 averages respectively.

Monday night the Bisons take on Southern State in a crucial game for the Muleriders. SSC must win to keep pace with Ouachita and Henderson while the Bisons play the role of spoiler. The Muleriders maintain the third best defense in the AIC, allowing only 80.3 points per game, but also have the lowest scoring offense in the conference.
