Dear Brother Lemons:

I will be more than happy to keep you advised of congregations looking for preachers in this area. At the moment, I am unaware of any opening in which you would be interested. I can well appreciate the problem about which you speak and know that your work cannot be the best under these pressures.

Be assured that your letter will be kept in confidence and that the first openings about which I hear and the first opportunity to recommend you to congregations looking for preachers will have my attention.

We send you our very best regards.

Fraternally yours,

John Allen Chalk
