Aramark, Java City Now Offering Choices Directly From Producers

By ALYSSA MORAN Student editor

Harding students and employees who rely on Java City for their morning fix will have a new option to choose from starting this week. Java City has signed a deal with Aramark and will be serving Aramark's line of gourmet coffee and tea. "Java City, under the new contract, will add a new coffee blend each week," said Java City employee Michael Landon. "It's a system that encourages variety for the customers. At the moment, we are serving Java City's own blend, a dark roast." Aramark has committed to using sustainable coffee beans. "Java City's partnership with Aramark is part of a larger commitment to sustainable coffee growing practices," said Landon. The new blends will be added to the menu every Monday and will be available until supplies last. Customers can choose from a variety of options, including flavored and decaffeinated blends. The new contract also includes the addition of gourmet tea blends, which will be offered alongside the coffee. Customers can choose from a variety of options, including fruit-infused and herbal teas. The new contract is part of a larger commitment to sustainability and will help reduce the company's carbon footprint. Customers can expect to see the new blends and teas on the menu shortly.

Spring Sing Needn't Glitter To Be Gold

By MARISA SHARPE features editor

For the past 13 years, Harding University's Spring Sing program has been a beloved tradition. The show features a variety of student groups and is known for its lively performances. This year's theme, however, is "Unfinished." The theme is a nod to the unfinished business of the past year and the challenges that lie ahead. "It's a way to celebrate the work we've done and the progress we've made," said Spring Sing director Dr. Steve Frye. "It's also a reminder that we're not finished yet." This year's Spring Sing program will be held on April 24 at OU's Ford Center in Little Rock. The show will feature a variety of student groups, including the Harding University Chamber Chorus, the Harding University Women's Chorus, and the Harding University Men's Chorus. The show will also feature a variety of soloists and instrumentalists. The show will be directed by Dr. Steve Frye and will be accompanied by the Harding University Symphony Orchestra. The show will be held at OU's Ford Center in Little Rock. The show will be held on April 24 at 7:30 p.m. The show is free and open to the public. The show is sponsored by the Harding University Office of Arts and Culture and is part of the university's spring festival.

N.Y. Gov. Spitzer Resigns Over Scandal

Governor Eliot Spitzer of New York stepped down from office last Wednesday in the face of a sex scandal that has riveted his personal life and made him the subject of contempt and ridicule around the world. Spitzer, who is married with three children, stood accused of paying thousands of dollars for the services of the highest prostitution ring Empire’s Outfit. The prostitution ring was under investigation for the IRS and Salzburg’s name came up in videotaped conversations and emails. The governor was impeached and the report was made public on March 6.

The case for corruption was immediate. Spitzer, whom the IRS report refers to as “Client 9,” had built his reputation as a crusader for ethical conduct in business. He was characterized by some as oversolicitous and arrogant in his campaigns against shady dealings on Wall Street, political corruption, and, yes, prostitution. News that the so-called “Street of Wall Street” was sloppy down brought cheers from the Wall Street traders themselves.

D.C. Gun Ban Under Fire

The Supreme Court is currently considering reviving a total handgun ban in the District of Columbia. Despite having one of the strictest gun laws in the country, Washington, D.C., has been repeatedly labeled as America’s “murder capital.” Opponents of the ban claim that unlawful citizens have no reason to defend themselves from gunning criminals. Supporters port the D.C. law because it raises public safety issues for more people that are not even on the streets.

The key argument for both sides is the 2nd Amendment right to the Constitution, which can either be interpreted as applying to individuals or to a state militia. Though the Supreme Court has declared that the 2nd Amendment protects the individual’s interpretation, a final legal decision will likely not be reached until June.

Riots, Crackdown In Tibet

Protests against Chinese rule in Tibet’s capital city of Lhasa turned violent last week, with witnesses reporting monks burning Chinese shops and attacking non-Tibetans in the streets. Since then protests have taken place.

The key argument for both sides is the 2nd Amendment right to the Constitution, which can either be interpreted as applying to individuals or to a state militia. Though the Supreme Court has declared that the 2nd Amendment protects the individual’s interpretation, a final legal decision will likely not be reached until June.

Harding Students Provide Needed Assistance To Tombstone Victims

Weeks ago several of the women, men, children and elderly of Tombstone, a reservation town near Tucson, Arizona, were forced to evacuate their homes as water levels in the surrounding mountains rapidly rose. Many of the town's residents were left without their belongings and belongings, leaving them with little but the clothing on their bodies.

In response to this disaster, several Harding University students have stepped up to help those in need. These students, along with faculty and staff members, have organized a relief effort to provide assistance to those affected by the flood.

The students have been volunteering their time and resources, delivering food, clothes, and other necessary items to the victims. They have also been working to communicate with the town's leaders and coordinate necessary supplies and services. Their efforts have been instrumental in providing much-needed support to those affected by the disaster.

The students have also been reaching out to other organizations and individuals to mobilize additional resources and support. Through their dedication and hard work, they have demonstrated the importance of community involvement and the power of collective action in times of crisis.

The students' response to this situation is a testament to the values of service and compassion that are central to the Harding University community. They have set an example of how individuals can make a difference in the lives of others, even in the face of challenging circumstances.

After jumping to a successful start this season, the Bisons benefited from the return of four key players and the team is now 13-13. The Bisons started the season with seven victories in eight games, including a 4-0 win over Texas AM-Corpus Christi and two series wins over Southeastern Oklahoma State. McGaha said, "It's been really good, especially with some key guys back in the lineup. We have a lot of potential and a lot of experience, and we can do a lot with this team." McGaha noted that the team has been coming together and is playing better as a unit. "We're finding our rhythm, and we're playing better with each other," McGaha said.

The Bisons lost two games to Northeastern Oklahoma A&M College in the first half of the season. McGaha said, "We lost those games, but we're bouncing back and we're going to bounce back stronger. We have a lot of potential, and we're going to show it." McGaha said that the team is looking forward to the rest of the season and is excited about the opportunity to play in the All-Gulf South Conference tournament.

Kirwa Takes Title At National Meet

By CHRISTODORO-DOLL

Daniel Kirwa won the 5,000 title.

The Harding track program will, however, share my predictions for the games that will occur today and why I think they will win. Harding second in the first round. My pick is Butler.

March Madness Brackets Are Likely Proving Faulty

The Payoff Pitch

March Madness means not only more college basketball,
but more March Madness brackets. The more brackets you complete, the more likely you are to win a prize.

There have been recent years where a chance for
to win prizes has given everyone participating a reason to continue playing and completing brackets.

This year is no exception.

March Madness means
more success for some teams
and more failure for others.

March Madness means
time in the first round.

March Madness means
the title.

March Madness means
the game.

March Madness means
the bracket.

March Madness means
the prize.

March Madness means
the fun.

When did colder-than-usual temperatures nudge leaves, a sure sign that spring was near? Our student phenology observer emails the results of her yard each year to the same site. In 2008, the phenology site found that the plants in the yard "would flower in the week of April 14th." The leaves, we believe, were the emblem of an early spring year, as the plants flowered earlier than usual. That is what the students in the yard observed as well, in fact. The leaves were observed in late March, which is earlier than usual. The result was a "green-up" that occurred earlier than usual, which led to some unexpected results.

ART: Sale Enhances Weekend

The story isn't just about the sale, but also the shop in which the sale is taking place. The shop, known as the Art Shop at the Fine Arts Building, is a bustling hub of creativity and community. People flock to this vibrant space to not only buy art, but also to see and be seen. The Art Shop is a place where people come together to celebrate their shared love for art.

The shop itself is a feast for the eyes, with walls covered in paintings, sculptures, and photographs. The aroma of coffee and fresh pastries fills the air, creating a welcoming atmosphere. The Art Shop is a place where everyone is free to express themselves in any way they choose.

The sale, however, is just one of the many events that the Art Shop hosts throughout the year. They also have regular open studios, art classes, and workshops. These events are open to everyone, regardless of their artistic background.

People come to the Art Shop for all sorts of reasons - to buy a gift, to sell their own art, or simply to enjoy the company of others who share their passion for art. The Art Shop is a place where everyone is welcome, and everyone is encouraged to participate and contribute in their own way.

In short, the Art Shop is not just a place to buy art, but also a place to create, connect, and celebrate. This is what makes the Art Shop such a special place, and why the sale is just one of many ways to enhance the experience.

Filipino Eatery Brings A Taste Of Asia To Searcy

Tale Of Self-Acceptance

by TRACY MILLIGAN
student reporter

I've been in the business for a while, and I've had to deal with many different types of food. But one restaurant that really stands out to me is Letty's Restaurant. With its unique blend of Asian flavors, it's become a favorite among locals and tourists alike. Letty, the owner, is always there to ensure that every customer leaves satisfied.

As I walked into the restaurant, I was greeted by the warm aroma of freshly cooked dishes. Letty herself was at the counter, welcoming everyone with a smile. She took the time to chat with me about her journey as a chef.

Letty was born in Arkansas in 1998. Despite having to leave her family behind, she managed to pursue her passion for cooking. She started small, cooking for friends and family, but as her reputation grew, so did her clientele. Today, Letty's Restaurant is a bustling hub of activity.

The restaurant is located at 701 W. Main St., Searcy, AR, and is known for its delectable Asian cuisine. Letty's dedication to quality is evident in every dish she prepares. From the playful presentation to the complex flavors, every bite is a journey into the heart of Asian culture.

One of the most popular dishes at Letty's is the ginataan, a Filipino dish that is specifically native to their cuisine. Made with coconut milk, bay leaves, dried shrimp, and a variety of other ingredients, the flavor is both unique and complex. It's a dish that requires patience and time to prepare, but the result is well worth it.

In order to appreciate the full experience of dining at Letty's, I highly recommend trying the curry dishes. They are a must-try for anyone who loves spicy food. Letty's curry dishes are infused with a sweet and tangy flavor, making them a perfect balance of flavors. Each dish comes with a side of rice or naan, and I recommend you try both to fully appreciate the diversity of flavors.

Letty's Restaurant is a true gem in the heart of Searcy. It's not just a restaurant; it's a slice of Asian culture in the middle of a small town. If you're looking for a taste of Asia, then Letty's is the place to go.
Nature Springs Into Focus

Trellising with the onset of warmer temperatures and the changing skies, the flower triangle at Western is in full bloom. The trellising provides a landscape of pink, red, and purple flowers, creating a colorful backdrop for the student center. The trellising is not just a visual appeal but also serves as a home for various butterflies and bees, promoting biodiversity and attracting pollinators.

Embracing Aloha Spirit

Aloha Spirit brings a sense of hospitality and warmth, celebrating the culture of Polynesia. This spirit is reflected in the traditional Hawaiian greetings, “Aloha,” which means both “hello” and “goodbye.” It embodies the essence of “kama’aina,” a term that refers to someone who has lived in Hawaii for a long time and is deeply connected to the land and its people.

PLACES

Bison Springs

Exploring The Depths Of “The Natural State”

On a Saturday morning in Historic Mountain View, Ark., I had heard about this place but honestly knew nothing about it. What kind of place do I mean? I mean, would I come here? Do I need to be a kid? What would I see if I came here? I had no idea. Truth be told, it wasn’t too unique. It seems like everyone knows about a burger named school administrator and now was an Ozark guide... Often after planning or two
