Dear Martha:

Sue and I were thrilled at your letter. Your testimony shined through it brilliantly and convincingly. Thank God for freedom and life He gives in Jesus Christ.

The experience with your friends in Memphis was beautiful. I thank God for the way He empowered you to relate to them on this trip. I would suggest the booklet "Life on a Higher Plane," as one suitable piece of material for them. Beyond that, the matter of selection has to be very difficult as well as the matter of availability. I don't know of any particular piece that I could recommend at this point. Anything that would help her study her Bible and would provide a good guide in Bible study would be commendable.

We will be praying about your decision for this fall. I saw Carla Darby this morning at ACC and she still has her plans to go. I talked with Steve Franklin two nights ago and he says the attitude of all of the people involved in Atlanta is marvelous. I think you will find a great blessing in your relationship with fellow Christians in Atlanta. I believe that this would be a very wise move for you.

Sue and I were also happy to get the news about Marilyn Dhapman. I know you will encourage her in every way you can. Please give her our love and regards. It was a great blessing to be with you during the Missions Seminar. I am so thankful to God that you came. We send you our prayers and love.

Your brother,

John Allen Chalk
