Little Rock to host Women's March for Arkansas, expecting more than 2,000 participants

The new Sonic at 2005 E. Race Avenue is one of the many new projects in Searcy, including Jimmy John's, Venezia's Italian Grill, the Searcy City Center with stores like Hobby Lobby and Shoe Carnival, an aquatic center and more.

The City of Searcy will host the Women's March for Arkansas on Jan. 21, 2017, at the entrance of the Arkansas State Capitol in Little Rock. The march will begin at 9 a.m. and end at 1 p.m. It is expected to draw thousands of participants.

In an email to The Bison, Searcy City Manager Mary Beth Layne said, "We want to fill the streets of downtown and the Capitol grounds in Little Rock with participants."

In Searcy, the Searcy City Center opened in July with stores like Hobby Lobby and Shoe Carnival. The center opened in 2017 and is one of the many new projects in Searcy.

"We are thrilled with our city council," Layne said. "We are excited to see these projects come to fruition. We are looking forward to the growth and development of our city."

The city and university will benefit from the additions, as they will add 200-300 new jobs and much more revenue, especially through the inaugural year. Citizens around Searcy look forward to the growth, but still struggle to let go of the past. "Great things are coming," Amy Burton said.

In addition to places to eat, residents, college students and tourists will be gaining new places to shop with the Searcy City Center. The Searcy City Center will be located on James Drive and the city has negotiated leases with a few major national players, such as Hobby Lobby, Ulta, Dress Barn, Bass Pro Shop for Life, TJ Maxx, Shoe Carnival, Ross and Petco.

The City will break ground in March 2017 as part of "Phase I." The second phase is expected to follow immediately with Dick's Sporting Goods - contract in negotiation. Weather permitting, Hobby Lobby could be expected to be up and running by the end of 2017.

Senior Alyssa Littleton said she was thrilled to find out that a sister march was taking place so close to Harding. "I feel proud to be a part of this movement," Littleton said. "I look forward to just that much more special knowing I will be participating in this march in tandem with many others who also admire and aspire to be like one day."

Littleton said she does not view the march as a protest but to "stand up, be seen, and be heard." "By the time of the march, we will already have new presidents," Littleton said. "I see it as an opportunity for men and women to participate in our democratic society by empowering themselves to create change, regardless of whether or not they support President-elect Trump."

Littleton said the Women's March is an important campaign for college-age students to understand that standing up for the rights of others is a responsibility for everyone.

"Tickets to attend the Women's March for Arkansas can be purchased at www.womensmarchforar.com. For more information about the global Women's March, visit womensmarch.com/sisters."

Failure is an option. If you just go out to the party, you'll probably end up in a back of a bag of sugar. You take a step back, you'll notice so much more than I'm a guide to his work in the 1950s, when he was in his 80s, but still hard at work designing buildings and mentoring young minds in his studio. While the Guggenheim consists of a circular uphill walkway located on the interior perimeter of a truncated cone structure—a radically different design from the work of his early career, which largely consisted of hard perpendiculars and a straight line—people need to understand in different ways. Failure is relative, but it respects individuals in their own personal way.

So, if you're going to shout, spin your idea into an emotional black hole. And if you're writing, you're coming to a country, popular belief, failure will not diminish us, so yes, on your family or yourself. Sometimes failure is not the only thing that can happen. Your experience of failure depends on you.

Lady Bisons remain in first place in GAC

Junior guard Tim Wagner shoots over defenders during their game against East Central University (ECU) on Jan. 5. Wagner leads the Lady Bisons in scoring in his first season with the team.

Playing for three different schools, in three different states, in three different years has been quite the ride for junior guard Tim Wagner. During his freshman year at Winona State Community College, Wagner played in 27 games, averaging 26 minutes and 8.9 points per game.

During his sophomore year at North Platte Community College, he averaged 14.2 points, 2.4 rebounds and 3.6 assists in 32 games. Wagner shot 39.4 percent from 3-point range and 87.1 percent from the free-throw line, ranking him 14th in NJCAA.

"I'm looking forward to each game we have left," Francis said. "That starts with investing in the process every single day in practice and focusing on one game at a time. I'm going to enjoy all of them."

Morgan's focus this year is for the team to have good chemistry. With a roster full of new faces and without the six senior starters from the previous season, there are certainly some big shoes to fill.

"A new team means new chemistry," Morgan said. "We're lucky this chemistry is already second nature to us in practice, it's transferring into the games.

One of the many things that stands out to Wagner about Harding, compared to his two previous schools, is the drive. "We have similar talent to other teams, but our shooting is better," Wagner said. "The guys are nicer and it's been an easy adjustment for sure. There's more of a history of success at Harding. That's what drew me in here."

Lady Bisons remain in first place in GAC

The new year is bringing continued success for the Lady Bisons basketball team. After a record-breaking comeback against Southwestern Oklahoma State University (SWOSU), the team is now sitting at No. 13 in the nation.

"We want to get better every day," Kirby said. "We have some young players who I think will be learning stuff the entire year about how this game is played in college. It's a different game than high school. That's one of our goals as we think about March."

One of those young players is sophomore center Brashia Jones. This is the first season for Jones to be on the court. She was the high scorer in the Lady Bisons' game with 39 points.

"It was about everybody," Jones said. "That was the best example of everyone coming together as a team. That was the best sports moment I've ever been a part of."

The finished renovations to the Rhodes Outdoors Field House have also allowed the team to perform more effectively. In new locker rooms with playback review capabilities, they can update their equipment to new gear. Video and scoreboards add to the atmosphere of home games. The added hospitality suite adds benefits recruitment. All of the new improvements benefit the Lady Bisons as they take on the season one game at a time.

"The entire renovation adds excitement," Kirby said. "Now is always exciting and people want to come to see it. It's been really good for our team. We look around and think, 'Man, this place is pretty nice.'"

After the Numeric coaches against SWOSU, the Lady Bisons went on to defeat the University of Arkansas-Monticello (UAM) 70-75. After they traveled to Arkadelphia to best Ouachita Baptist University (OBU) 75-72 in double overtime.

The Lady Bisons were able to either their conference lead by two games over Arkansas Tech after defeating the 13th ranked Golden Bears 75-74 on Monday, Jan. 16.

The Lady Bisons are not letting the height of their successors cloud their focus as they continue with their season. The completion of renovations and the continued support of the Harding community spur them on in each game they face.

but after what Dak Prescott and Ezekiel Elliott brought to Dallas this season, the Cowboys may be back to being America's team in 2017.

Sophomore guard Filip Mejdo is in his first year playing for the Bison.

Sophomore forward Braden Eggleston blocks a shot against Arkansas Tech University (ATU) Monday, Jan. 16. The Bisons are 8-5 after defeating the ATU Wonder Boys 92-85.

"We came out in the second half, played a lot better, put up a bigger fight and we put ourselves back in the game. It was just too big of a lead to come back."

- Junior guard Zach Ward

"It's a process but we are getting better every day, and we feel that we are where we want to be," he said. Ward cut the lead to 6 points, making the score 79-73.

Evansville and the Cowboys, coached by Hall of Famer Tom Landry, have been one of the dominant teams of the decade. Everywhere they travel for games, there are Cowboy fans waving towels while waiting to greet them, and as fans, they are experiencing "growling" for their city. It was just too big of a lead to come back.

"I thought we did a great job on their inside guys but we couldn't get our outisde. We come out in the second half, put up a bigger fight and we put ourselves back in the game," Ward said.

Girls' basketball season opener in 1979 season against the then St. Louis Cardinals football team, CBS game announcer famously introduced them as America's Team. The name stuck.

Since that year, plenty of skeptics have made arguments against the Cowboys maintaining their title as America's Team. And after winning a total of two playoff games in the last 20 years, it's easy to understand why. They have an owner who insists on being the general manager and often seems more concerned with publicity than actually putting together a winning product on the field. But those arguments may soon be put to bed.

Brady has been a star quarterback for 11 years and the Bucs have been a success story. He has led the team to a Super Bowl victory and a NFC South Division title. The team has improved every year under Brady and the Impossible Franchise.

Growing up in Arkansas, I had no ties to any professional sports teams. Some teams you inherit from your family, but that's not it. Everyone's a Cowboys fan — but after what Dak Prescott and Ezekiel Elliott brought to Dallas this season, the Cowboys may be back to being America's team in 2017. Transitional justice is the process of making reparation for crimes committed during times of armed conflict or following political transition, and of dealing with the legacies of these crimes in a way that promotes respect for human rights and for the rule of law. In the case of transitional justice, it is often necessary to address the past in order to move forward. This can include initiatives such as truth commissions, apologies, reparations, and legal reforms. It is important to involve all stakeholders in the process and to ensure that it is transparent and accountable. Take on new Pipeline with these top 5 tips

1. Searchbar

On one of the biggest changes to Pipeline, and certainly the one that will have the biggest impact on your user experience is the opening of "Shape of Me." This is the new search bar. If looking through the tabs isn't working for you, try clicking on the search bar and typing in what you're looking for. Whether it's a person's name, or your class, the search bar will help you find it.

2. Favorites

If you find yourself searching for the same five links every time you log in, this may be your saving grace. All you have to do is tap on the "favorite" tab to save a link to the favorites bar. Then, any time you use them, you can simply tap on the "Favorites" tab and poof, all those links are gone.

3. Alumni Contacts

If you feel that way, my first advice is to close all the main text boxes (Personal, Student, Alumni, Help) and look through the tab bar for what you want to find, yes, it means searching, but if it's something you use often, you can close them down by tapping on the search bar, and poof, all those text boxes are gone.

4. Alumni Links

At first glance, Pipeline may now seem like a confusing scramble of text boxes that only get in the way. For those of you who feel that way, my first advice is to close all the main text boxes (Personal, Student, Alumni, Help) and look through the tab bar for what you want to find. This may be your saving grace. All you have to do is tap on the "favorite" tab to save a link to the favorites bar. This has saved me so much time, and it only really takes a minute to open the "favorite" tab and find what I'm looking for now.

5. Email Updates and Settings

If you're interested in getting emails about events, movies, and music, you can specify what you want to get emails about. Hopefully this will give even the saltiest sea dogs the willpower to give Pipeline's new makeover a try.

As we entered 2017, Harding finalized the transition to a search-focused, streamlined website design. Some may miss the old version of Pipeline, and that's perfectly fine. Instead, focus on the new changes. Things quickly go from confusion to excitement. Instead, focus on the new changes.
