Dear Larry:

Thank you for a very thorough job of welcoming, and entertaining, the Phillips and Chalk families during our recent visit to Los Angeles. The challenge of the Law School was made much clearer and definitive by the special work you did on the presentations we received. Thank you for taking the time to drive us down to the Law School on Monday afternoon and for giving your wife to Jamie and Sue for the entire day.

Ron and I are giving the Law School challenge our most careful consideration. At this point things do look favorable, but Sue and I will not come to a definite decision about the matter before May 13. Any further developments that arise between now and then should be called to my attention immediately. Your help along this line would be deeply appreciated.

Thank you again for the gracious way you and Carol helped us in our need. We would not have had the same degree of clarity and direction in our visit had you not provided some effective leadership.

Fraternally yours,

John Allen Chalk
