John:

Isn't it regrettable that in our age there can be no tolerance a Christian to inspect new channels of thought. I wonder how great men have been driven from our fellowship because of hard-headedness of some of us. I was just told last night my dear friend, George Snure, is preaching for another group outside Toronto. He had much to offer that we could not

I was just reading in "Power for Today" (for Sat., Nov. 8, '69) at your major decision. John, many were praying for you and I am. I want you to know that Mary Jayne and I are grateful to God for you and for the privilege of knowing you.

Some two years ago I suffered a "total physical breakdown", as was termed by my doctors. I have been out of full-time preaching for almost two years, but continue to preach several times a week. I am well now and hope to be going back into the work soon. Pray for us.

The work you have done and are doing is appreciated by enough people and our Lord that I do hope that you will not be too disheartened by those of us who are too little to keep in step with

With brotherly love,

Jim Rogers
