Dear Eleanor:

O
Sue and I thoroughly enjoyed our visit with you last Sunday. We felt, after being with you, that we had missed knowing a very beautiful person, and appreciated now having the opportunity of knowing you. Sue and I talked at length about your situation after you and Raymon left. We sympathized with you so genuinely and deeply. We saw in you qualities that we rarely see in college-age adults and believe that Raymon has found such a beautiful person. We only hope that the relationship can mature normally and with great meaning. We will be careful about creating any guilt feelings on Raymon's part but secretly hope that the two of you can form the kind of relationship on which you could build a lifetime of love and service.

P
We are already looking forward to your next visit. Let us know of any way that we can be of personal assistance.

Y
Sincerely yours,

John Allen Chalk

Dear John Allen,

Thank you so much for the lovely week and the charming presence of your lovely family Sunday during my all-too-brief trip to Abilene. Raynor and I appreciate your counsel above all. I acknowledge and am so thankful for the wisdom and insight one as young as you possesses and am so pleased that our paths finally crossed.

I know that I have made the right decision in returning to Greenville, but at the same time I am also sorry that I will not presently be moving to Abilene as I did like the city, college, and most of all people. I do hope Raynor will talk with you again and I look forward to scheduling a conference with you when I visit again in November. I am still reflecting upon and trying to digest

the thoughts you shared with us Sunday.
I hope that you and others will not let Raymond feel guilty when he chooses to date now as I see this as one of his big problems.

Again thank you for the hospitality!
Remember me to Sue and the children.
I hope you will include us and our decisions in your prayers. May God Bless!

Sincerely,
Edward Holton
