Re: Major Gifts Prospect

Dear Brother Smith:

I have read with interest your letter of May 2, and the enclosed confidential information forms. I cannot think of anyone who fits into the three monetary categories stated on the form. At one time, McMinnville was alledged to be the wealthiest town per capita in the United States. Even in view of this envious position, I am unable to think of anyone who qualifies as a major gift prospect.

I regret that I cannot be of assistance to you in this matter. This sounds more like a Texas project.

Sincerely,

Harold N. Roney

HNR/jh

P.S. I hope this makes the point quite clear.
