
John Allen Chalk: Personal Correspondence

John Allen Chalk

4-15-1971

To: Charlie Goodman

John Allen Chalk

Follow this and additional works at: <https://scholarworks.harding.edu/hst-chalk-personal>

Recommended Citation

Chalk, J. A. (1971). To: Charlie Goodman. Retrieved from <https://scholarworks.harding.edu/hst-chalk-personal/3175>

This Letter is brought to you for free and open access by the John Allen Chalk at Scholar Works at Harding. It has been accepted for inclusion in John Allen Chalk: Personal Correspondence by an authorized administrator of Scholar Works at Harding. For more information, please contact scholarworks@harding.edu.

April 15, 1971

Mr. Charlie Goodman
547 East 109th Street
Cleveland, Ohio 44108

Dear Charlie:

I considered it a distinct honor to have the privilege of meeting you during my recent trip to Cleveland. I appreciated the fact that you did attend our meetings on Thursday and following my presentation Thursday afternoon we had an opportunity to visit for a few minutes.

I appreciated the candor with which you shared your own convictions. Above all I admired your honesty in the pursuit of truth by the reading of the literature of various religions. I hope that by now you have been able to read seriously the New Testament, and especially the Gospel according to John. I believe that in your same honest, candid way as you approach the New Testament, you will find it speaking very clearly to your need, as it does to mine.

The enclosed lessons regarding Jesus Christ may help you learn more of who He is, what He claims and who He claims to be. I hope that you will read carefully these lessons, that you will read the scriptures which they cite from the New and Old Testaments and that you will give serious, personal consideration to allowing Jesus to rule your life.

My decision to give my life to Jesus several years ago has resulted in nothing but blessing upon blessing, although there are many discouragements and disappointments in my life as in every man's life. Jesus continues to provide direction, purpose and peace. I pray that the same will occur in your life and I know it will when and if you choose Jesus Christ as your Savior and Lord.

If you have further questions or want to correspond about anything in the material I am enclosing, feel free to do so.

Sincerely,

John Allen Chalk

JAC:lc

Enclosure