Dear Brother Chalk:

Received your plea for help for Camp Shiloh and could not resist writing to you about this.

Do you realize what liberal influence has been working at this place? I doubt very much if you do but if you do then I would have no respect for you.

A young relative of mine that worked free at Shiloh one summer was influenced to go liberal and even induced to go to Crozier Seminary in Pa. This was done by at least two young men (supposedly ministers) who worked at the camp.

This is not gossip. We have carried on a correspondence with these young men and we have some of their beliefs in their own writing.

This young ladies mother has spent many a sleepless night thinking about her daughter, which she had spent a lifetime trying to instill the word of God in.

Please do not send me any more pleas for help on this camp. If you are interested in souls then perhaps you will try to help clean this situation up or else get the church out of it.

I give freely at church and I recently gave a producing beef cow to Southern Christian Home but I am going to be very careful about helping in things that might develope as the above situation.

Sincerly

Wayne Rainey
