James L. Lovell

Dear Jac:

Yours was the letter I wanted - almost exactly what Bill Banowsky wrote and I have not heard from the other boys but regardless, it is the policy I intend to follow. Ira always was a great admirer of Foy Wallace and the days when Foy was "king", Ira has never forgotten and since Foy has now fallen a bit, Ira has great hopes of becoming "pope" himself. He really is a little man who deserves no recognition on our part yet a soul by whose side I would stand if I felt it would serve him any good.

The response to the Special issue has been good and still going very fast. We will get money as a result for months to come and the world mission program made known to thousands. We will duplicate the effort again next year and each year as long as I live.

I wrote Marvin asking if he would send our subscription list back in case they had no further need of it. I wanted to check our files against it if they had finished and it would save me the cost of running off a new one but have not heard from him.

I still owe Helen a letter but right now I have more than 2,000 others to answer which we are doing about 200 a day yet others come. It is all very wonderful.

I believe that I told you my trip is off as Archie got all broken up in a car accident. I feel the Lord spoke and I heard.

I appreciate the fine article. Vivian and I love you and Sue. God bless you all.

Sincerely

James L. Lovell
