Dear David:

I have just received the October 1, 1961, issue of the Spectator. I was happy to learn that you are the new Editor of this publication.

The articles in this issue, written by the local young people, were especially interesting. It is encouraging to know that young men and women are this concerned about their service to God and participation in His Kingdom. Let me commend the class for this particular effort and encourage all of you to continue your wonderful interest in that which is right.

Fraternally yours,

John Allen Chalk
