Dear Brother Goodpasture:

Enclosed you will find a short article that you might want to use in the Advocate. Brother Mosley and Violet did a wonderful job in making our young people feel welcome on our recent visit.

We are enjoying Sara's visit with us and hope that you and all the family are feeling fine.

This delightful new activity is enhanced by the love and girls brotherly devotion in the lives of your wholesome religious works on display in the plant.

Fraternally yours,

John Allen Chalk

Your high school group will profit from seeing the tremendous tools available today for teaching God's word. Your high school group will establish a new and wholesome acquaintance when they visit the new Gospel Advocate facilities. May not grow such a trim.
When planning a recent trip for our high school group at Broad Street it was decided that they should see the new facilities of the Gospel Advocate Company. The entire staff at the G.A. responded to this idea and made every necessary preparation. Seventeen young people were taken on a complete tour of the new plant. They were permitted to see the unusual audio-visual room, examine the many projectors, and look at the excellent stock of filmstrips. They were told about the new graded Bible School material being produced.

Information about publication of the weekly Gospel Advocate was offered.

After special refreshments had been served, the group was invited to see Brother B. C. Goodpasture's new office and become acquainted with the great editors of the Gospel Advocate's past.

This delightful and informative visit ended with the boys and girls browsing through the hundreds of volumes of good, wholesome, religious works on display in the front.

Your high school group will be inspired by the dedication of the Gospel Advocate Company and its staff to the truth of God.
