Dear Mr. Chalk;

First of all, let me thank you for sending us a copy of your book. Actually, the whole thing started out as a joke. I had been trying to save money to send for a copy but everytime I did, the kids needed something. We have four, 3 girls and 1 boy, all in the various stages of being expensive. My husband is a printer and prints coloring books and pocket novels. I send books to Wes Reagan, Jesse Clayton and quite a few others.

Anyhow I waited to Bernice Muller that wasn't it a pity I didn't know you so that maybe we could make a deal on books.

So, that is how come you received that strange request for the book and I am truly grateful. If you will let me know what kind of books you prefer, I shall endeavour to keep you in books all the rest of your life.

However, I hope you don't think that I was only trying to get out of paying for your book.

Just one more request. If you should move, don't forget to inform me of your new address.

Thanks again

Mrs. Grace M. Green
