Dear Mark:

I have just talked at length with Walter Burch during which conversation he talked about the nine-man team that he and George Gurganus are proposing for the Viet Nam survey trip. You will be interested to know that I am not one of the survey team nor are any other "big-name" preachers. This is a survey team of experts from the fields of law, child care, experienced missionaries, and those intimately acquainted with the oriental mind.

I will meet with Brother Hall, the Royal Oak elders, and the two Fidelity representatives on Friday evening. Your thinking is in complete agreement with mine, and I appreciate your recent letter and our subsequent telephone conversation.

Fraternally yours,

John Allen Chalk
