Dear Brother Scott:

I have just read your article, "Marching For Morality," in the September 6 issue of the Firm Foundation. Thank you so much for writing such a penetrating analysis in such a few words concerning the responsibility of all Christians in the area of social conscienceness. I agree completely with the reasons you offered and feel strongly that Christians must find ways to become more involved in what is the plight of so many of our fellow human beings.

I do hope that some way in the days ahead I can assist in bringing a greater conscienceness of our responsibility to all needy men to bear on the minds of our brethren. I continue to look for ways that I can speak a word of support for you and for the work you are doing in preacher training.

Your brother in Christ,

John Allen Chalk
