Dear Moose:

Was I ever shocked to finally come across a mouth as big as yours. How did the photographer ever get you to stop long enough for such a pose. The idea of using your picture on your Christmas card was unique to say the least. I did resent, however, the stupid look knowing you to be the intelligent soul you are. I hope by this time you have sufficiently regained your sense of judgment so that you are lamenting your decision not to go to ACC. Seriously, however, the most important thing is that you are going back to school in order to increase your effectiveness as a worker for the Lord.

It is a real honor to know you and to claim you as one of my very best friends.

God bless you,

John Allen Chalk
