Dear Roger:

Last fall when you appeared for three days at the West Texas State Fair, Abilene, Texas, I happened to catch the same plane out of Abilene to Dallas that you rode. During that trip and during our three-hour wait-over in Dallas, I enjoyed our conversation and association. At the time I told you of a coming book and promised to send you a complimentary copy. Though the book has been out for several months, I just today rediscovered the address you had given me.

Since that time I have noticed with interest your continuing public acceptance and was pleased to see the "spread" that Look magazine gave you. Please accept this book with my best wishes.

Sincerely yours,

John Allen Chalk
