Dear John:

There is no way the three of us can express the feeling of brotherhood and gratitude that we have for you and your interest in what we are doing, but we would be amiss if we did not thank you for coming to Dallas to make the keynote speech and then contribute in so many other meaningful ways to the success of the seminar. There is a kind of communication that is most effective unspoken and that is the kind of communication we feel we have with you. Perhaps it is "being of one mind."

We are also thankful Sue could be there for the seminar and hope you will tell her what a blessing it was to have her there.

Sincerely,

Jim Bevis
