Dear John Allen,

The Lord is working mightily among us. The opportunities for revolutionizing Atlanta and the Southeast are greater than ever before, and Jesus is daily opening new doors.

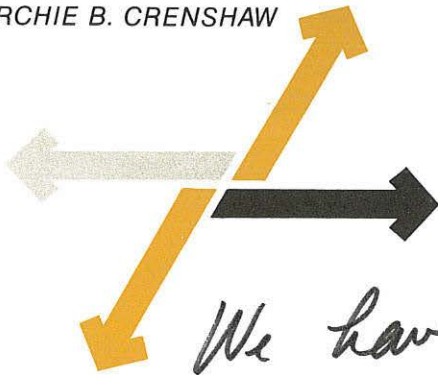

I met yesterday with the <sup>student</sup> leaders of campus Crusades and Inter-Varsity. We are having a prayer meeting next Tuesday in their dorm room along with the president of King's Men.

The response to the All-Campus Evangelistic Retreat is great.
Chuck Lucas, et al, will be on hand.

Kids in Tennessee and Georgia are responding to our plan to bring 1,000 dynamic young Christians to Atlanta to help us capture this great city. They are excited and in prayer over these opportunities. The High-Rise dormitory for them looms nearer as a real possibility.

ARCHIE B. CRENSHAW

We have set up an appointment for you to meet with Dean Cartledge of Columbia Theological Seminary on Friday morning, Nov. 1. You and Sue will be spending the night in our home during your Oct. 31 visit.

We can't tell you how much we are anticipating your coming. I am convinced that the Holy Spirit will take these precious years of your continuing preparation through your doctoral program and work them into the most significant contribution of your life thus far in terms of restoring genuine 1st century

Christianity. Things have never been so good nor timing more appropriate for our united efforts to make happen in Atlanta what once, by God's power, happened in Jerusalem celestine
