Dear Humphrey:

How did you know that I needed your letter and its encouragement on the very day and at the very hour I received it? Thank you so much for such a thoughtful letter. The day it came had not been a good day for me. The Lord surely was in control of the use of that letter. It did more for me than words can express.

I regret that you will be unable to attend the Yokefellow Institute retreat. I had really counted on your presence but I can understand the schedule problem. This is always a matter that fouls us up. Let me thank you for considering it anyway.

I am sending your letter of commendation on the 20th Century Christian to Norvel Young. I want him to know something of the kind of response we are getting to this type of articles. I want you to look for the issue coming up in August entitled "Where's the Holy?" It should be a very stimulating issue regarding the sacred/secular problem we have gotten ourselves into.

Thanks for all your encouragement, at all times.

Your brother,

John Allen Chalk

Mr. John Allen Chalk

Dear John:

I have just received the May issue of Twentieth Century Christian. It was a very good publication at first, but the May issue was tremendous. Your article was very good and the other writers were good too. My prayer for the church in the years ahead is that we will continue in the work of restoring. Not so much structures but the spirit and attitudes that characterized the followers of Jesus in the first century. As long as men such as yourself will consistently place before men the reality of God's Spirit dwelling in us and working effectually to produce its fruits in our lives, such publications will be relevant. So continue in this good work and remember me in your prayers.

Yours brotherly,

Humphrey
