Dear Andrew:

Thank you so much for a good time together last week at Oklahoma Christian College. I was thrilled to get the opportunity to be with you and brethren Florence and Wright. I do believe that much good was done from my limited observation and judgment made during my time there.

Congratulations on your baby boy. Sue and I have talked often about your new one and wondered what it was. I regret that I did not talk to you about him while we were in Oklahoma together, but time was so short and we were both rushed. Give our love and regards to your wife. We are thrilled that the baby is here and all is well.

Thank you so much for what you are doing to make all of us more deeply conscious of what it means to serve Jesus.

Fraternally yours,

John Allen Chalk

Dear John,

I got a big boy man!

I received your letters, the one written with reference to Bill Young and the recent copy of the letter received by you from OCC requesting your help in assisting them in securing a black person to teach in the area of sociology.

Since receiving your letter I have heard from Bill and I am not necessarily impressed that my challenge meant very much to him. However, I intend to keep on trying at my every chance so as to perhaps by "all means, save some."

I trust your time with Wells sent you further into orbit. I feel confident that you were appreciated by that church and equally welcomed the chance to live with them for a while.

May God bless you in all your efforts for him.

Give that first lady of yours my love and concern. Don't exclude those little ones who are depending on you and us so much for a better life. Therefore, give them my love and assure them of my hope for them and their day.

Sincerely in THE FAITH,

Andy Hairston
