Dear brother Moore:

Thank you for sending the sample copies of the February issue of 20th Century Christian. As per your request, he has several suggestions he would like to make, and first is his picture used on the inside cover which is nearly three years old (would you please destroy any that are in your files, and substitute the long-haired one!). I am enclosing four for your future use.

The illustrations on the inside are good, except for the one on the story, "Our Runaway Daughter." The illustrated "daughter" looks like she might be six years old, instead of a teenager which the story implies. The cover picture is up-to-date and interesting.

We did expect to see within the Newsletter a salute to Herald of Truth for using this issue, The Confident Family, as a special offer during the Winter series on radio concerning home and family life. Perhaps this word didn't get to you in time. Also, just for my personal information, sister Young told me they were going to use an article I had written about John Allen in this issue, and it wasn't included. I'm just wondering.

Thanks again for letting us see the February copy. We are already receiving many requests from our Herald of Truth radio listeners for this issue, and it will be a pleasure to send it out to them.

Sincerely,

(Mrs.) Helen McLeod
Secretary to John Allen Chalk
